عن أبي صرمة رضى الله عنه ان النبي صلى الله عليه وسلم
قال: من ضار ضار الله به- رواه ابن ماجه والترمذى وقال
هذا حديث غريب-

On the authority of Sayyidina Abu Sirmah رضى الله عنه. The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Whoever causes harm, Allah Ta'ala will harm him.' (i.e. by Punishing him.)

This has been recorded by Ibn Majah and Tirmidhi, who said that it is a 'gharib' Hadith. (Mazahir -e- haqq (old edition), 4/156)

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

خدا کے نام سے آغاز کر رہا ہوں میں
جو مہربان ہے بہت اور رحم والا ہے

I begin in the name of God,
Who is Kind and Merciful.

یہ مانا کہ پر خطا ہوں مگر ہوں تو تیرا بندہ
اگر تو مجھے نباہ لے تو تیری بندہ پروری ہے

I accept that I am full of faults, but yet,
I am your servant after all.
If you put up with me then it is naught but Your kindness toward Your servant.

انقلاب زمانہ واعظِ رب ہیں سن لو!
ہر تغیر سے صدا آتی ہے فنا فہم! فنا فہم!

Revolutions of time are an admonition from the Lord, so listen!
each change seems to cry: Understand! Understand!

جب دنیا جاتی ہے تو حسرت چھوڑ جاتی ہے
اور جب آتی ہے تو ہزاروں غم ساتھ لاتی ہے۔

When the world turns its back it leaves behind regret immense.
And when it comes it brings a thousands of sorrows along.

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم days of starvation.

In Musnad Hafiz Abu Ya'ala is a Hadith according to which the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم spent several days without eating anything. Driven by the pangs of hunger he went to each of his wives, but they also had nothing to eat. Then he went to his daughter Sayyidah Fatimah رضى الله عنها and said: 'My dear daughter, do you have anything that I could eat?' 'May my parents be sacrificed on you, O Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, there is nothing. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had hardly left, when Sayyidah Fatima's رضى الله عنها maid sent two pieces of bread and some meat to her. Sayyidah Fatima رضى الله عنها took it kept it in some tiffin and said: 'By Allah, I myself, my husband and my children, are all hungry, and we shall stay hungry, for by Allah! This I shall give to Allah's messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. Then she told Sayyidina Hasan or Sayyidina Husain رضى الله عنهما to go to Allah's messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and request Him to come. He صلى الله عليه وسلم returned, and Sayyidah Fatima رضى الله عنها said: 'May my parents be sacrificed on you, Allah has arranged some food, which I have kept for you.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Dear daughter, bring it here!' when she opened the tiffin she saw that it was full with bread and meat. First she was taken aback by surprise, but then she understood that Allah must have sent down His blessings on this food, so she thanked Allah and invoked His mercy upon the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and then she brought the dish to her august father صلى الله عليه وسلم.

On seeing the dish, He too, thanked Allah and asked: Daughter, where has this come from?' she answered 'From Allah Who provides for whomever He wills without measure.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Allah be thanked! O my dear daughter, Allah made you like the leader of women from Bani Israil (i.e. Sayyidah Maryam رضى الله عنها). Whenever Allah granted her something, and she was asked about it, she would reply: '(It came from Allah, who provides for whomever He wills without measure.'

There after Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم called Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه; then He صلى الله عليه وسلم Sayyidina Ali, Sayyidah Fatima, Sayyidina Hasan Sayyidina Husain, the Mothers of the Faithful, and all people of his house رضوان الله عليهم اجمعين ate to their satisfaction, and yet the same quantity of food was left. This food was then distributed among the neighbors. Indeed, this was an abundant blessing from Allah. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir, Urdu, 1/406)

From this incident is learnt that our beloved Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم patiently bore hunger and hardship.

Women who are religiously inclined should make it a habit to say:

هُوَ مِنْ عِنْدِ اللَّهِ إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَرْزُقُ مَنْ يَشَاءُ بِغَيْرِ حِسَابٍ

'It comes from Allah. Indeed, Allah provides without measure for whomever He wills.' (Surah Al- Imaan, 37)

Imam Bukhari رحمه الله عليه Swallows his anger

Abdullah bin Muhammad Sayadani رحمه الله عليه mentioned: Once I presented myself to Imam Bukhari رحمه الله عليه. His maidservant was just coming out, when she stumbled against a small table on which an ink-pot was kept. The ink-pot fell and the ink was spilt. The Imam said to her in a some- what angry tone: 'How are you walking?' she said: 'How am I supposed to walk when the whole way is blocked?'

On hearing this reply, the Imam said calmly 'Go, I have set you free.' Sayadani further related: I said: 'What she said should have annoyed you, besides yet you set her free?' He replied: I put up with whatever she had said or done.' (Translation of Sahih Bukhari by wahiduz- Zaman, p 13)

In one Hadith comes: 'O son of Adam when you get angry, then swallow your anger. I shall then swallow My anger when I am angry with you.'

Some other traditions state 'O Son of Adam, if you remember Me when you are angry (i.e. when you swallow your anger for My sake), then I shall remember you when I am angry (i.e. I shall save you from ruin).(Tafsir Ibn Kathir, Urdu, 1/457)

How Umar Bin Abdul Aziz invited the Rajas of India to accept Islam

Umar bin Abdul Aziz wrote seven letters to the Rajas of India, inviting them to accept Islam. He also promised them that if they accepted his invitation. Then they would be allowed to continue their reign, and their rights and duties would be the same as those of other Muslims. The Rajahs there had already heard about his noble character, so they accepted Islam and named themselves after the Arabs. (Tarikh Da'wato Azimat 1/49)

During Umar bin Abdul Aziz's reign, there was no one to accept Zakah.

Yahya bin Said رحمه الله عليه relates: Umar bin Abdul Aziz had put me in charge of collecting Zakah in Africa. After collecting Zakah. I tried to find someone who deserves this money, but in vain. I could not find a single destitute who would be entitled to receive Zakah. Thanks to Umar bin Abdul Aziz, every one was well to do. Finally I purchased some slaves, set them free and put the Muslims in charge of looking after their needs.

Another Quraishi relates that during Umar bin Abdul Aziz's short reign, people would bring huge amounts of money to pay their Zakah, to be distributed among the poor. There was however no other choice but to return the money, since during Umar bin Abdul Aziz's reign each and every Muslim was well to do. There was no one left who would deserve Zakah. Apart from those apparent blessings - which were only a secondary result of a truly Islamic government - there, had been another great revolution: the people's preferences and inclinations had changed. His contemporaries remarked: 'During Waleed's reign, we used to talk about buildings and architecture, because that was Waleed's natural inclination. Which had also influenced the thinking of his subjects. Sulaiman was fond of Women and delicious food. During the reign of Umar bin Abdul Aziz, people used to talk about optional acts of worship and Divine remembrance. When two, three people got together, they would ask each other about their worship at night, or how much part of the Holy Qur'an they knew by heart, or when they would finish one reading of the whole Qur'an, or how many fasts they kept per month. (Tarikh Dawat - o- Azmat 1/50)

An easy method to be saved from worries

Shah Phulpuri رحمه الله عليه stated: No matter how much one is overcome by the state of 'Qabdh', or how much one is enshrouded in spiritual darkness, there is a remedy for it, even if this state continues for years. A person in this conditions should perform Wudhu and then offer two Rakah Salat-ut-tawbah. There after he should cry unto his Lord in utmost humility and seek His forgiveness. Then he should recite 360 times:

يَا حَيُّ يَا قَيُّوْمُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ سُبْحَانَكَ إِنِّي كُنْتُ مِنَ الظَّالِمِيْنَ

This recital contain two of Allah's beautiful names (يا حي يا قيوم), and there are some traditions which indicated that these names are (Ism-e-Azam).

These two names are followed by an Ayah through the blessings of which Sayyidina Yunus عليه السلام was redeemed from three darknesses - the first darkness was a dark night, the second darkness was the darkness under water, and the third darkness was the darkness inside the stomach of the whale. Allah Most High Himself described Sayyidina Yunus's state thus:

وَهُوَ مَكْظُوْمٌ

'While he was silently suffering after distress.' (Surah Qalam, Ayat 48)

كظم Means extreme anxiety and distress which one suffers in silence. Allah Most High however saved Sayyidina Yunus عليه السلام through the blessings of this Ayah. Allah further states.

وَكَذٰلِكَ نُنْجِي الْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ

'Thus we save the believers.' (Surah Ambia, Ayah 88)

From this is learnt that this prescription shall remain effective until the Day of Judgment. Whoever recites this blessed Ayah shall Insha Allah be saved from distress. (Sharah Masnavi Maulana Rumi, Maulana Makim Huhammad Akhter, 1/136)

Exemplary grooming by an exemplary mother

Imam Ghazali was an outstanding religious scholar and a 'Wali', i.e. a friend of Allah. If one looks at his life, then one comes to realize what great impact his mother's upbringing had on him.

Muhammad Ghazali رحمه الله عليه and Ahmad ghazali رحمه الله عليه were brothers. They lost their father in early childhood. They were orphans during their childhood. They were brought up by their mother, It has been related that their mother groomed them in such an exemplary manner that they grew up as virtuous, knowledgeable young men.

Both of them had a different temper, Imam Ghazali رحمه الله عليه was a scholar and preacher par excellence, and besides that he also functioned as Imam! His brother, too was extremely virtuous and a scholar, but he used to offer his prayers in solitude.

Once Imam Ghazali رحمه الله عليه said to his mother " 'I am such a great scholar and preacher, and that I am Imam of a mosque; but my brother does not offer prayers behind me. Dear mother please request my brother to offer prayers behind me.' His mother complied, and consequently Imam Ghazali's brother joined the congregation. After one Rakat however he broke his prayer and left the congregation. This incident perturbed Imam Ghazali very much. After the prayer he went home worried and dejected.

His mother asked him: 'Son, you seem 'upset.' He said: Dear Mother, it would have been better if my brother had not come today. He came, offered one Rakah with congregation, then in the second Rakah he left and offered his prayer alone.' On hearing this Imam Ghazali's mother called her younger son and asked him why he had done so. He said: 'Dear Mother, the first

Rakah he offered with full Submission and humility, but during the second Rakat, his concentration was not directed to Allah. That's why I left the congregation and offered the prayer all alone,' She then asked Imam Ghazali. 'Is that true?' he said: 'Yes. Before the prayer I read a book on Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence), and there were some Masa'ail (issues) pertaining to Nifaas (bleeding after delivery) which I was thinking about. Then when I commenced the prayer, I diverted my attention to Allah, but during the second Rakah those issues Nifaas (bleeding after delivery) came again to my mind, so my concentration was disturbed for a while. This is why I made this mistake.' The honorable Imam's mother sighed: 'Alas, neither of you is of any use for me!' Both brothers were extremely disturbed when they heard their mother's reply.' Imam Ghazali رحمه الله عليه immediately sought forgiveness: 'Dear mother I made a mistake. I should not have done that!' The other brother however asked: 'Dear mother, I experienced Kashf (manifestation); it was because of Kashf (manifestation) that I broke my prayer. Why did you say that I am of no use to you?' His mother replied: 'One of you was lost in issues pertaining to Nifaas (bleeding after delivery), and the other was busy examining his brother's world within. None of you was thinking of Allah. This is why none of you is of any use to me. (Dawa -e- Dil, p 211)

Three ailments where there is no need to visit the patient.

Sayyidina Zaid bin Arqam رضى الله عنه said: 'the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم visited me when I suffered from pain in my eye.' (Musnad Ahmad, Sunan Abi Dawud) From this Hadith is learnt that it is a Sunnah to visit some one whose eyes ache or who has got some other problem with his eyes. In Jamius-Saghir is a tradition according to which there are three ailments because of which one does not need to visit the patient sore eyes, tooth ache and boils.

These two apparently contradictory traditions can be reconciled as follows, that such people should refrain from visiting a person suffering from any of these three ailments, whose visit would cause him unnecessary trouble. It might be that he'll have to open his eyes, which would cause him trouble in case he is suffering from some eye-disease. Talking to the visitors might be difficult for someone who has got a tooth ache.

And someone who is suffering from boils might find it difficult to sit properly in front of his guests. If the visitors are people whose coming and going does not-cause the patient any inconvenience, then there is nothing wrong with their visiting the patient. (Mazahir-e-Haqq, new edition 2/352)

Rabia Basri's رحمة الله عليها childhood, her abstinence and her piety.

Rabia Basri رحمة الله عليها was a high ranking saint. Once someone asked her: 'What made you long for Allah?'

She replied: 'I was seven years old when a famine broke out in Basra. My parents had died and my sisters had all gone to different places. I was called Rabia (i.e. the fourth) since I had three elder sisters, and I was the fourth. A person captured me and sold me for six Dirhams. The man who had bought me made me work very hard. One day I fell and broke my arm. I put my face on the ground and cried: 'O Lord, I am a poor orphan girl, kept as a prisoner. Have mercy on me! I only want to please you. As long as You are pleased I don't care about anything else.' I then heard a voice: 'O weak one, don't you grieve. Soon you shall attain a rank so high that even those who attained proximity will envy you.' When I returned to my master's house I started to fast during day, and to pray at night in a corner of the house. Once it happened that when half of the night had already passed, I was praying and crying unto Allah. I said: 'O Lord, you know that it is my heart's desire to live according to Your command. Worshipping You is the light of my eyes. You know my intention that if I was not enslaved by one of your bondman, I would not cease to worship You even for the wink of an eye, but You have imprisoned me through one of your servants. I was praying in this manner when my master saw a lamp above my head. The lamp floated in the air, unsuspected by any rope or chain. The lamp shone so brightly that the whole house was illuminated by its light. The next day my master called me. He treated me with great honour and respect and then he set me free. I asked him for permission to leave. Then I went into the wilderness, far away from the town, to worship my Lord. Each night I offer thousand Rakah of prayer. (Misali Khawatin, M. Ishaq Multani)

72 signs of the Day of Judgment

It has been reported from Sayyidina Huzaifah رضى الله عنه that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: Seventy -two things shall come to pass before the Day of Judgment:

- 1) The people shall begin to neglect their prayers - Nowadays the majority of Muslims are not very regular in offering their prayers, hence this statement does not seem to come surprisingly. This prophecy however was made at a time when prayer was the mark of distinction between a believer and an infidel. No matter how sinful a Muslim might have been during those days, he would not leave his prayers. It was during those days that the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had made this statement.
- 2) When people shall betray their trusts, i.e. when they misappropriate whatever has been entrusted to them.
- 3) When they begin to take interest.
- 4) When telling lies is considered lawful, i.e. when telling lies is thought of as an art.
- 5) When minor quarrels lead to bloodshed, i.e. when people kill each other over petty matters.
- 6) When they sell religion for worldly benefits.
- 7) When relations are severed, i.e. when people begin to maltreat their relatives.
- 8) When they erect high buildings.

- 9) When justice becomes rare.
- 10) When falsehood becomes truth.
- 11) When people begin to wear silken clothes.
- 12) When oppression becomes common.
- 13) When divorces are on the rise.
- 14) When sudden deaths becomes common.
- 15) When a dishonest person will be considered as honest.
- 16) When an honest person is considered as dishonest, i.e. when an honest person is falsely accused of having committed an act of dishonesty.
- 17) When a liar is considered as truthful.
- 18) When a truthful person is considered as a liar.
- 19) When false accusations prevail.
- 20) When rain brings no relief from heat.
- 21) When people instead of longing of children begin to detest them, i.e. just like people used to pray for children they will pray not to have any. Nowadays family planning is in, as well as the slogan: 'Two kids are enough.'
- 22) Mean folks will live in luxury and pleasure.
- 23) Noble people will face great hardship, and if they remain noble, they will be cut off from the rest of the world.
- 24) Rulers and ministers will take to falsehood.
- 25) Trustees will breach the trust.
- 26) Tyrants will be leaders.
- 27) Ulama (Scholars) and Quraa (i.e. Islamic religious scholars and recitors of the Holy Qur'an) will become corrupt, they will lead a sinful life inspite of their knowledge and their reciting the Holy Qur'an.
- 28) When people will wear dresses made from the hide of animals.
- 29) While their hearts are more repugnant than a cadaver, i.e. people will be dressed in fine garments made up of the hide of animals, but in their hearts they are more disgusting than rotten dead flesh.

- 30) And far more bitter than Aloes.
- 31) When gold becomes common.
- 32) The demand of silver will increase.
- 33) When sins are on the rise.
- 34) When peace and security vanish.
- 35) When copies of the Holy Qur'an are elaborately embellished.
- 36) When mosques are superbly decorated.
- 37) When high minarets are constructed.
- 38) And yet hearts are deserted.
- 39) When liquor will be consumed.
- 40) When punishments prescribed by the Holy Shariah (Islamic Jurisprudence) shall be suspended.
- 41) When a slave-girl gives birth to her mistress, i.e. when a daughter treats her mother like a slave-girl.
- 42) When a naked, bare-footed uncivilized people shall rule; i.e. when people of low birth, low standing in society and of despicable character shall become rulers.
- 43) When women do business side by side with men (as it has become common nowadays).
- 44) When men emulate women.
- 45) When women emulate men; i.e. when men adopt female fashion and women adopt male fashion. This too, holds true in our age. At times, when one encounters a particularly fashionable character, it is difficult to determine whether it is a man or a woman.
- 46) When people swear other than Allah.

Note: one may swear only by Allah, His Attributes and the Holy Quran. Swearing by the Holy Qur'an is permissible since it is the word of Allah and speech is one of Allah's attributes. If however someone swears by the Qur'an, intending the book as such, then it is not permissible. (M Amin Palanpuri)

One must not swear by anything besides Allah and His Attributes, but at that time people will swear saying: 'By your father!', 'By Ghauth-e-Pak!' 'By Mawla Ali!' etc.

- 47) When even Muslims will give false evidence without being asked to do so. 'Even Muslims' Implies that people already do so, but at that time even Muslims will not hesitate to give false evidence.
- 48) When people greet only those whom they know. That means when walking some where, people will not bother to greet those who pass by, unless they know them. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم however said:

وَتُقْرِئُ السَّلَامَ عَلَى مَنْ عَرَفْتَ وَمَنْ لَمْ تَعْرِفْ

'And greet those whom you know as well as those whom you do not know.'

One should try to greet those whom one meets on the way, but if there are so many people, they were would stop from doing whatever doing, then there is no harm in not greeting them. There will however come a time when people will not greet even a single person. Thus the custom of greeting one another with 'Salam' will come to an end.

- 49) When religious knowledge will be taught for non-religious ends. May Allah protect us! The purpose of doing so will be earning of degrees, employment, fame, respectable standing in society, etc.
- 50) When deeds of the Hereafter are done for worldly ends.
- 51) When spoils of war are considered as personal property. Spoils of war means here all kinds of national assets. Such assets will be considered as personal property and handed accordingly.

- 52) When entrusted goods will be thought of as booty. That means if someone was given something as a trust, he will consider it as booty.
- 53) When Zakah (obligatory charity) will be thought of as penalty.
- 54) When the worst man of a people becomes their ruler.
- 55) When a man will disobey his father.
- 56) When a man will treat his mother badly.
- 57) When he will harm his friends.
- 58) When he will obey his wife.
- 59) When evil people will raise their voices in the mosques.
- 60) When songstresses will be showered with honour and respect.
- 61) When musical instruments will be kept with great care.
- 62) When liquor will be consumed openly.
- 63) When oppression will be considered a matter of pride.
- 64) When justice will be sold, i.e. justice will be sold in courts of law. One who gives money will get justice.
- 65) When lots of policemen will be seen.
- 66) When Qur'an will be sung like songs, i.e. the Holy Qur'an will become a means of entertainment. People will listen to it for enjoyment rather than to ponder about its contents or to earn reward.
- 67) When the wool of predatory animals will be used.
- 68) When the latter generations abuse and criticize the former generations, saying; 'This was wrong, there they erred, that was a mistake' etc. Nowadays many people find fault with the noble companions رضوان الله عليهم اجمعين, others abuse the Imams who conveyed the Islamic message to us, and blame them that they lacked reason to understand the Holy Qur'an and the Sacred Ahadith, that they had no idea about religion.... As per their claim, they are the ones who understood religion properly.

- 69) Then Allah will send a red storm against you.
 70) Or Earthquakes.
 71) Or people's faces will be wiped out.
 72) Or stone will rain from heaven, or Allah will send any other kind of punishment. May Allah protect us!

Now look at each of those signs, have not all of them become apparent in our society? The punishment which has been unleashed against us is in fact the out come of our misdeeds. (Durr-e-Manthur 6/52, referred to in Islahi Khutbaat 7/214 - 227)

Sayyidina Tamim Dari's رضی اللہ عنہ acceptance of Islam

Sayyidina Tamim Dari رضی اللہ عنہ narrates: I was in Syria when the Holy Prophet Muhammad صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم was commissioned, during a travel I become late in a way so I decided to become a guest of chief Jinn "as it was assumed by the Arabs during ignorance era that each forest and valley is governed by a Jinn (ghost), when I lived down on bed a caller called me he was invisible to me he said "seek Allah's shelter and protection; (I become astonished as I was asking for any Jinn's shelter); he further said. "We the Jinn, can't protect anyone against Allah: By God it was unbelievable for me. Then he said the Allah's Holy prophet Muhammad صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم has been arrived and we (Jinn) have offered the prayer behind him, we become muslim and all are submitted to his teaching and we are his followers now. And all the mischiefs of the Jinns become ended, even they can't ascend to sky in case they are fired with stars, so, go to submit before the Holy prophet Muhammad صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, the prophet of the lord of the worlds and be a Muslim. Next morning Sayyidina Tamim Dari رضی اللہ عنہ went to a place called 'Dair Ayyub' and told a priest there the whole story. The priest said: 'the Jinn told you the truth. The Prophet shall appear in the Holy city of Makkah. Thereafter he shall migrate to the Holy city of Madinah. He is the most excellent of all prophets علیہم السلام, hurry before anyone reaches there before you,' Sayyidina Tamim Dari رضی اللہ عنہ said: 'I gathered courage and went on my way. Finally I presented myself to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and became Muslim.' (Hayatus-Sahabah 3/649)

How the Tawrah and Zabur describe the Muslim Ummah

- 1) In the Zabur is written that on the Day of Judgment Sayyidina Muhammad's صلى الله عليه وسلم Ummah Shall be given the light of the Prophets عليهم السلام. (Hayatus-Sahabah 1/45)
- 2) In the Tawrah comes that their calls to prayer shall fill the skies (i.e. they shall call to prayer from high minarets and other elevated places.
- 3) They shall offer the prescribed prayers on time, even if they are in the middle of the desert, they shall tie their lower garments around their waists, and they shall wash their limbs during ablution. (Hayatus-Sahabah 1/46)

Note: Alhamdulillah even today our companions are particular about offering their prayers, no matter where they are. Where at the station, on the train, at the bus top - our companions offer their prayers wherever they find a spot to do so.

A prophetic prescription of how to save oneself from a tyrant's oppression

When the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم exhorted Sayyidina Husain رضى الله عنه to accept Islam, the latter said: 'What about my tribe and my family? I am afraid lest they harm me if I accept Islam. Teach me some prayer.' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Recite these words:

اللَّهُمَّ اسْتَهْدِيكَ لِأَرْشَدَ أَمْرِي وَزِدْنِي عِلْمًا يَنْفَعُنِي

'O Allah guide me toward what is best for me and increase me in knowledge which benefits me.'

Sayyidina Husain رضى الله عنه recited these words and accepted

Islam before leaving the gathering. (Hayatus - Sahabah 1/93)

The Sinful Ummah and the Forgiving Lord

On both sides of Paradise there are three line written with golden letters. The first line reads.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ مُحَمَّدٌ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ

The second line reads:

'What-ever we have sent ahead (charity or other good deeds), we have got the reward thereof; whatever we have consumed (during our worldly life), we have reapt the benefit thereof; whatever we have left behind is lost.'

The third line reads:

'The sinful Ummah and the Forgiving Lord'. (Muntakhab Ahadith, p 47)

وَاللَّهُ يَدْعُوا إِلَى دَارِ السَّلَامِ

'And Allah calls unto the abode of peace.' (Surah Yunus, Ayat 25)

وَاللَّهُ يَدْعُوا إِلَى الْجَنَّةِ وَالْمَغْفِرَةِ بِإِذْنِهِ

'And Allah calls unto Paradise and forgiveness by His leave.' (Surah Baqarah, Ayat 221)

يَتَأْتِيهَا النَّاسُ أَعْبُدُوا رَبَّكُمُ الَّذِي خَلَقَكُمْ وَالَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِكُمْ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَتَّقُونَ

'O mankind, worship your Lord who has created You and those before you so that you may become pious.' (Surah Baqarah, Ayat 21)

يَتَأْتِيهَا النَّاسُ اتَّقُوا رَبَّكُمُ الَّذِي خَلَقَكُمْ مِنْ نَفْسٍ وَاحِدَةٍ

'O mankind, fear your Lord who has created you from a single soul.' (Surah Nisaa, Ayat 1)

يَتَأْتِيهَا النَّاسُ اتَّقُوا رَبَّكُمُ إِنَّ زَلْزَلَةَ السَّاعَةِ شَيْءٌ عَظِيمٌ

'O Mankind fear your Lord! Indeed, the tremor of the Hour is a mighty affair.' (Surah Hajj, Ayat 1)

يَتَأْتِيهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا اتَّقُوا اللَّهَ حَقَّ تُقَاتِهِ وَلَا تَمُوتُنَّ إِلَّا وَأَنْتُمْ مُسْلِمُونَ

'O ye who believe, fear Allah as He ought to be feared and do not die save as Muslim'. (Surah Al-e-Imran verse 102)

يَتَأْتِيهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا أَطِيعُوا اللَّهَ وَأَطِيعُوا الرَّسُولَ وَأُولِي الْأَمْرِ مِنْكُمْ

'O ye who believe! Obey Allah and obey the Messenger and those in authority from among you.' (Surah Nisaa, verse 59)

يَتَأْتِيهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا قُوا أَنْفُسَكُمْ وَأَهْلِيكُمْ نَارًا

'O Ye who believe guard yourselves and your families against a fire.' (Surah Tahrir, verse 6)

يٰۤاَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ ءَامَنُوْا تُوْبُوْا اِلَى اللّٰهِ تَوْبَةً نَّصُوْحًا

'O you who believe, turn to Allah with sincere repentance.' (Surah Tahrir, verse 8)

يٰۤاَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ ءَامَنُوْا اَرْكَعُوْا وَاَسْجُدُوْا وَاَعْبُدُوْا

رَبِّكُمْ وَاَفْعَلُوْا الْخَيْرَ لَعَلَّكُمْ تُفْلِحُوْنَ ﴿٧٧﴾ وَجَاهِدُوْا فِى اللّٰهِ حَقَّ جِهَادِهٖ ۚ

'O ye who believe, bow and prostrate and worship your Lord and do good that you may succeed, and strive for Allah As one ought to Strive.' (Surah Hajj verse 77-78)

Note: There are many other verses like the ones cited above. This most humble servant however has mentioned only ten.

The time for patience

There is a time for patience. As time goes by, everyone learns to cope with an affliction. This however does not bring the promised reward for patience. Patience which one adopts all on his own in order to get over some misfortune is rewarded.

In one Hadith is mention of an old woman whose son had died. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم happened to pass by the woman who was crying, lamenting and recounting the happy moments with her son. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said to her: 'Be patient!' She cried: 'Has your son died so that you'd know I am suffering?' He kept quite and left the old woman had not recognized the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم. On being told who he was, she came running behind Him and said: 'Now I shall be patient!' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

الصَّبْرُ عِنْدَ الصَّدْمَةِ الْأُولَى

'If one remains patient right at the time of affliction, then such patience yields reward.'

A strange incident concerning a wall

One man from among Bani Israil (children of Israil) had died. He had two sons who quarreled about the division of a wall. Their quarrel was on its peak, when they heard a voice come from the wall. The voice said: 'Don't quarrel with each other. Listen to my story. Once upon a time I was a great king. Then I died and my body turned into dust. Then a potter came, collected that dust, worked it into clay and form a vessel. Then someone broke me. For a long time I was left in pieces, then again I was turned into sand and dust. Then some people took this sand and dust and made bricks from it. Now you see me in the shape of bricks. Why are you quarreling about something so low and despicable of this world?'

One poet said quiet aptly"

How proud and arrogant he was;

Wherever he went 'give way' was called.

Let me tell you one thing,

Today not even the place of his grave is known.

Alas! How deceptive this world is. People are enamoured with it in spite of its fleeting, short lived nature. With its colourful sights it distracts man from the hereafter and leads him astray. May Allah grant us all true yearning for the everlasting pleasures of paradise. Amin. (Gulistan - e- Qana'at, p 492)

People are of four kinds with regard to offspring

As far as offspring are concerned, people are of four kinds. Allah Most High says in the Holy Qur'an:

لِلَّهِ مُلْكُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ ۖ يَخْلُقُ مَا يَشَاءُ ۗ يَهَبُ

لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ إِنثًا وَيَهَبُ لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ الذُّكُورَ ۖ أَوْ
يُزَوِّجُهُمْ ذُكْرَانًا وَإِنثًا ۖ وَيَجْعَلُ مَنْ يَشَاءُ عَقِيمًا ۗ إِنَّهُ

عَلِيمٌ قَدِيرٌ ﴿٤٩﴾

'To Allah belongs the Kingdom of the heavens and the earth. He creates whatever He wills. He grants daughters to whomever He wills and He grants sons to whomever He wills, or He grants them both, sons and daughters, and He makes barren whomever He wills. Indeed He, He is all-Knowing, All-Mighty.' (Surah Shura, Ayat 49-50)

Allah has stated that there are four kinds of people:

- 1) Those whom He gave only sons.
- 2) Those whom He gave only daughters.
- 3) Those whom He gave sons and daughters.
- 4) Those whom He gave neither sons nor daughters.

This kind of distinction and differentiation is one of Allah's signs. No one is able to change what Allah has decreed in this regard. This differentiation is with regard to offspring.

People are of four kinds with regard to their parents:

- 1) Sayyidina Adam عليه السلام had been created from dust. He had neither a father nor a mother.
- 2) Sayyidina Hawah had been created from Sayyidina Adam عليه السلام. She had no mother.
- 3) Sayyidina Isa عليه السلام was born from a woman. He had no father.
- 4) The rest of mankind has been created from the union between man and woman.

فَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ الْعَلِيمِ الْقَدِيرِ

People are of four kinds with regard to their faith

People are of four kinds as far as their faith is concerned. The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said that the children of Adam were created of different types.

- 1) There are people who are born as Muslims (i.e. their parents were also Muslims). They live and they die as Muslims.
- 2) There are people who are born as infidels (i.e. their parents were infidels). They live and they die as infidels.
- 3) There are people who are born as Muslims. They live as Muslims and die as infidels.
- 4) There are people who are born as infidels. They live as infidels and die as Muslims (i.e. some time before their death, they accept Islam.) (Mishkat Sharif, p 437)

May Allah let us live and die as Muslims Amin!

People are of four kinds with regard to their anger

People are of four kinds as far as their anger is concerned. The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

- 1) Some people get angry soon and calm down soon. They are neither to be praised nor are they to be blamed.
- 2) Some people take long to get angry and long to calm down. They too, are neither to be praised nor are they to be blamed.
- 3) The best from among you are those who take long to get angry and who quickly calm down. (O Allah, let us be among them.)
- 4) The worst from among you are those who get angry soon and who take long to calm down. (Mishkat Sharif, p 437)

People are of four kinds with regard to loans.

People are of four kinds as far as their loans are concerned. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

- 1) Some people are quick as far as paying back a loan is concerned, but they are harsh with their own debtors. Such people are neither to be praised nor are they to be blamed.
- 2) Some people delay the repayment of their loans, and they treat their debtors with lenience, too. Such people are neither to be praised nor are they to be blamed.
- 3) „The best among you are those who are quick unpaying back loan, and who are also lenient with their debtors.
- 4) The worst from among you are those who delay the repayment of their loans and who are harsh with their debtors. (Mishkat sharif, p 437)

How the custom of greeting one another with ‘Salam’ began

It has been related from Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: After Allah had created Adam عليه السلام, he blew the spirit of life into him. This made Adam عليه السلام sneeze. He said: ‘الحمد لله’ and his Lord replied ‘يرحمك الله’. His lord then said: ‘Go to the group of angels sitting over there and greet them with ‘السلام عليكم’. Adam عليه السلام did as commanded. When he said ‘السلام عليكم’, the angels replied by saying: ‘السلام عليك ورحمة الله’. When he come back, Allah Most High said: ‘indeed, this shall be the greeting among you and a your offspring.’ (Tirmidhi, Mishkat p 400)

Sayyidah Aisha’s رضى الله عنها counsel

Sayyidina Nafi’ narrates: I used to carry my merchandise to Syria. Once I intended to take it to Iraq. Before doing so I went to Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها for her advice. She said: ‘don’t do that, for I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم say: When Allah has appointed for any of you a means of provision, then do not leave it, until it changes on its own.

That means do not leave whatever source of livelihood you have. If however circumstances change. If you incur losses, or if there is any other pressing reason, then it is different matter.

(Tablighi aur Islami Mazamin, p 246)

One incident that brought Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه closer to Islam

Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه related one incident that took place before he accepted Islam: 'Once I went to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, who was in Masjid -ul- Haram. When I stood behind Him, He began to recite Surah Haaqqah. The beautiful composition, sequence of topics, the style and eloquence of this Surah left me utterly amazed. I thought: 'The Quraish are right, this person is a poet.' Right then He صلى الله عليه وسلم recited:

إِنَّهُ لَقَوْلُ رَسُولٍ كَرِيمٍ ﴿٤٠﴾ وَمَا هُوَ بِقَوْلِ شَاعِرٍ
 قَلِيلًا مَّا تُوْمِنُونَ ﴿٤١﴾

'Indeed, this is the word of a Nobel messenger. And (it is) not the word of a poet, little it is that you believe.' (Surah Haaqqah, Ayaat 40-41)

I then thought: 'Well, if He's not a poet then He's a soothsayer for sure!' Just then the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم recited:

وَلَا بِقَوْلِ كَاهِنٍ قَلِيلًا مَّا تَذَكَّرُونَ ﴿٤٢﴾

'And neither (it is) the word of a soothsayer, little it is that you remember.' (Surah haqqah, Ayat 42)

He صلى الله عليه وسلم continued reciting until he reached the end of the Surah. This was the first incident that the truth of Islam had penetrated each sphere of my being.' This was one of those special incidents that made Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه accept Islam. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir, 5/425)

Allah Ta'ala's secret conversation with His believing bondsmen

Sayyidina Safwan رضى الله عنه said: I was sitting with Sayyidina Abdullah bin Umar رضى الله عنهما Holding his hand, when a person came and said: 'What did you hear from Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم about the secret conversation that shall take place between Allah and His believing bondmen on the Day of Judgment?' He said: "I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم say: 'On the Day of Judgment Allah shall call His believing bondmen into His presence. He shall then put His arm on him, and screen him from the people. Then Allah shall make him admit his sins, asking him: 'Did you do this? Did you do that?' This shall continue until the believer thinks he is utterly ruined. Allah shall then say to him: 'See, I covered up your sins during your worldly life, and today I forgive you.' Then he shall be given his record of good deeds. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir, 1/382)

When people begin to hoard gold and silver then recite this prayer.

Sayyidina Shidad bin Aws رضى الله عنه said: I shall narrate a Hadith, make sure you retain it The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: when people begin to hoard gold and silver, then recite this prayer abundantly:

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الثُّبَاتَ فِي الْأُمُورِ وَالْعَزِيمَةَ عَلَى الرَّشْدِ وَأَسْأَلُكَ شُكْرًا
نِعْمَتِكَ وَأَسْأَلُكَ حُسْنَ عِبَادَتِكَ وَأَسْأَلُكَ قَلْبًا سَلِيمًا وَأَسْأَلُكَ لِسَانًا
صَادِقًا وَأَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ خَيْرِ مَا تَعَلَّمَ وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا تَعَلَّمَ وَأَسْتَغْفِرُكَ
لِمَا تَعَلَّمَ إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ عَلَّامُ الْغُيُوبِ-

'O Allah, I ask your steadfastness in affairs, and firmness upon guidance. And I ask you gratitude for (all) your blessings, and I ask You (ability to) worship You in the best of manners, and I ask You a sound, serene heart, and I ask of you a truthful tongue, and I ask of you all the good things that You know, and seek refuge in You from all the evil things You know, and I ask You for forgiveness for all that You know. Verily You are Knower of all unseen affairs.'

Protection against all harms except death

In Musnad Bazzar is a Hadith according to which the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'If you recite Surah Fatiha and Surah Ikhlas after lying down on your bed, then you shall be protected against all harms except death.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1/32)

It is permissible to take remuneration for reciting a spell

In Sahih Bukhari, in the chapter about the virtues of the Holy Qur'an, is mentioned a Hadith narrated by Sayyidina Abu Said Khudri رضى الله عنه, he says: Once while on a journey, we halted somewhere. Within no time a slave girl came running and said: 'The chief of our tribe has been bitten by a snake. None of our men is around. Is there anyone among you who can recite a spell?'

One of us got up and went with the girl. Before that we had no idea that he knows how to recite a spell. He went to the chief, recited something and blew over him. By Allah's grace the chief recovered completely. As a token of gratitude he gave us thirty goats and entertained us with plenty of milk. When our man returned, we asked him: 'How do you know to recite a spell?' he said: 'I merely recited Surah Fatiha and blew over him.' We advised him not to use whatever we had received as a gift until the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم could be consulted. On returning to Madinah, we told the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم about the matter. He asked: 'How did he know that this surah can also be recited as a spell? Divide whatever he has been given and also give me my share.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1/30)

How the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم rewarded a grateful beggar

In Musnad Ahmad comes that once a beggar passed by the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم. He صلى الله عليه وسلم gave him a date. The beggar got angry and refused to accept the date. Soon afterwards another beggar passed by and the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم offered him the same date. The beggar took it gladly and said: 'This is a present from Allah and His messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم then ordered that the beggar be given twenty Dirham and according to another tradition He ordered His maid-servant to take the beggar to Sayyidah Um Salamah's رضى الله عنها house so that he be given 40 Dirhams which were deposited with her. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 3/57)

Deeds done for show shall be cast away

Sayyidina Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: On the Day of Judgment a person's record of good deeds shall be presented to Allah. Allah shall then say: 'Cast away this deed, accept this one and this one, and cast away that one.' An angel shall then speak up: 'O Lord, as far as we know, these are not but good deeds!' Allah shall reply: 'The deeds that I ordered to be cast away were not done for My pleasure alone. They were done for show. Today I shall accept only those deeds that were done for My pleasure.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 3/282)

Acquiring tremendous light

Hafiz Abu Bakr Bazzar رحمه الله عليه mentioned in his book a tradition according to which the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Anyone who recited the following Ayah at night, shall be given a light equal to the distance between Makkah and Adan:

فَمَنْ كَانَ يَرْجُوا لِقَاءَ رَبِّهِ فَلْيَعْمَلْ عَمَلًا صَالِحًا وَلَا

يُشْرِكْ بِعِبَادَةِ رَبِّهِ أَحَدًا ﴿١١٠﴾

(Surah Kahaf, Ayat 110)

Four things that are full of goodness blessings and cure.

Ibn Jarir cited Sayyidina Ali as follows: 'If any of you desires to be cured, then he should write any Ayah of the Holy Qur'an on any piece of paper and wash it with rain water. Then he should take some of his wife's Mahr (dower) (with her consent of course) and purchase honey from it.

(The honey should then be mixed with the rainwater) then he should drink it. This contains cure for several reason:

Allah Most High has said about the Holy Qur'an:

وَنُنزِّلُ مِنَ الْقُرْآنِ مَا هُوَ شِفَاءٌ وَرَحْمَةٌ لِّلْمُؤْمِنِينَ

'And We reveal of the Qur'an that which is a cure and a mercy for the believers.' (Surah Bani Israil, Ayah 82)

Another Ayah states:

وَنَزَّلْنَا مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً مُّبْرَكًا

'And We send down from the sky blessed water.' (Surah Qaf, Ayah 9)

فَإِن طِبَّنَ لَكُمْ عَنْ شَيْءٍ مِّنْهُ نَفْسًا فَكُلُوهُ هَنِيئًا مَّرِيئًا

"But if they of their own accord remit unto you a part there of, then you are welcome to consume it." (Surah Nisaa, Ayah 4)

And Allah Most high said with regard to honey:

فِيهِ شِفَاءٌ لِّلنَّاسِ

'In it is a cure for mankind.' (Surah Nahl, Ayah 69)

In Ibn Majah comes a tradition according to which the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Anyone who takes each month for three days some honey right in the morning, shall never suffer from any serious trouble.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 3/129)

Note: From this is learnt that there are four things which are full of blessing and goodness:

1. The Holy Qur'an.
2. Rain water.

3. Honey and

4. One's wife's Mahr (dower).

Some scholars have mentioned that anyone who runs his own business should invest some of his wife's Mahr (dower) into his businesses, which will In-sha-Allah prosper. Mahr (dower) is a source of goodness of the husband as well as the wife.

A message from Paradise to the believers.

It is a very important message. Anyone who acts accordingly shall inherit Jannatul Firdous.(Paradise) It has been related that after Allah had created Jannatul Adan (Paradise). and adorned it with trees and other things, he looked at it and said: 'Say something!' Paradise then recited the following Ayah which were revealed in the Holy Qura'n.

قَدْ أَفْلَحَ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ ﴿١﴾ الَّذِينَ هُمْ فِي صَلَاتِهِمْ
 خَاشِعُونَ ﴿٢﴾ وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ عَنِ اللَّغْوِ مُعْرِضُونَ ﴿٣﴾
 وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ لِلزَّكَاةِ فَاعِلُونَ ﴿٤﴾ وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ لِفُرُوجِهِمْ
 حَافِظُونَ ﴿٥﴾ إِلَّا عَلَىٰ أَزْوَاجِهِمْ أَوْ مَا مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُهُمْ
 فَإِنَّهُمْ غَيْرُ مَلُومِينَ ﴿٦﴾ فَمَنْ ابْتَغَىٰ وَرَاءَ ذَلِكَ
 فَأُولَٰئِكَ هُمُ الْعَادُونَ ﴿٧﴾ وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ لِأَمْنَتِهِمْ
 وَعَهْدِهِمْ رَاعُونَ ﴿٨﴾ وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ عَلَىٰ صَلَوَاتِهِمْ
 يُحَافِظُونَ ﴿٩﴾ أُولَٰئِكَ هُمُ الْوَارِثُونَ ﴿١٠﴾ الَّذِينَ
 يَرِثُونَ الْفِرْدَوْسَ هُمْ فِيهَا خَالِدُونَ ﴿١١﴾

'Successful indeed are the believers. Who are humble in their prayers. And who are payers of the Zakah. And who guard their modesty. Save from their wives or the (slaves) that their right hands possess, for then they are not blame worthy. But whose craveth beyond that, such are transgressors. And who are shepherds of their pledge and their covenant. And who pay heed to their prayers. These are the heirs, who will inherit Paradise. Therein they will abide.' (Surah Muminoon, verses 1-11)

Six attributes and characteristics of those who are truly successful

These verses have been mentioned six attributes and characteristics of those who are truly successful:

- 1) Offering the prayer with humility. Khushoo' means to humble one's spirit and khudoo' means to adopt an outward pose of humility.
- 2) Keeping aloof from useless, absurd talk and other vanities.
- 3) To pay the Zakah (obligatory charity), i.e. discharge the duties related to one's wealth, or to keep one's wealth, one's body and soul pure and clean.
- 4) To fulfill one's covenants and promises, and to keep one's trust, to deal with others in an open, fair and clean manner.
- 5) And finally, to guard the prayers to offer the prayers at its appointed time, duly regarding its pre-requisites and etiquettes.

This clearly shows how much importance has been given to the prayer- it was mentioned at the beginning and the end of this discourse. (Fawaid Usmani)

This is the message which Paradise sent to the believers. Fortunate is he who acts accordingly and tries to acquire these attributes and characteristics. In-sha-Allah such a person shall inherit Jannatul Firdous. (Paradise)

The Noble Prophet's ﷺ blessed character traits

Imam Nisai recorded in his Kitab-ul-Tafsir from Yazid bin Babanoos that he once asked Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها: 'What was the noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم character like?' she said: 'The Holy Qur'an was his character.' Thereafter she recited the above ten Ayah. She then said: The Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم character was like that.' (Ma'ariful Qur'an 6/293)

A message from an invisible caller

In Ibn Abi Hatim a pious man has been quoted as saying: 'I was captured in the Roman empire by infidels.' One day I heard an invisible caller call from a mountain-peak: 'O Lord! I am amazed at one who has expectations from others than you although he has recognized you. O Lord! I am amazed at one who presents his needs to others although he has recognized you.'

After a little while the caller's voice could be heard again:

'O Lord! I am amazed at one who does that which pleases others and displeases You although He has recognized You.' On hearing this the pious man asked the caller: 'Who are you? Are you a Jinn or a human being?' The caller said: 'I am human. Divert your attention from things that are of no use to you and do that which is beneficial for you.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4/474)

Always seek occasions of mercy from your Lord

After Sayyidina Muhammad bin Musallamah Ansari رضى الله عنه had died, a piece of paper was found in the sheath. On the paper was written! 'Always seek accessions of mercy from your Lord, it might well be that you are praying for tremendous good at a time when Allah's mercy prevails, as a result of which you shall abstain such bliss and happiness after which you shall never ever grieve or regret.'

The fate of those who are humble and those who are proud

Imam Baihaqi رحمه الله عليه wrote in Shabul Iman that Sayyidina Umar Farooq رضى الله عنه once stood on the Minbar (Pulpit) and said: 'O people take to humility and humbleness, for I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم says:

مَنْ تَوَاضَعَ لِلَّهِ رَفَعَهُ اللَّهُ فَهُوَ فِي نَفْسِهِ صَغِيرٌ وَفِي أَعْيُنِ النَّاسِ عَظِيمٌ --
 وَمَنْ تَكَبَّرَ وَضَعَهُ اللَّهُ فَهُوَ فِي أَعْيُنِ النَّاسِ صَغِيرٌ وَفِي نَفْسِهِ كَبِيرٌ حَتَّى لَّهُوَ
 أَهْوَى عَلَيْهِمْ مِنْ كَلْبٍ أَوْ خِنْزِيرٍ-

'Whoever humbles himself for Allah's sake, Allah shall elevate him. Such a person will consider himself as insignificant whereas people shall hold him in high esteem.

And whoever is proud, Allah shall humble him. Such a person is held in low esteem by the people whereas he thinks highly of himself, until people think of him even less than of dogs and swine's.' (Mishkat Sharif)

Three things that lead to Salvation and three things that lead to ruin.

Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه narrated that the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Three things lead to salvation and three things lead to ruin. The three things that lead to salvation are: To fear Allah openly and secretly, to say what is right when one is pleased or displeased, and to spend with moderation whether one is well to do or in dire strait. Three things that lead to ruin are: To follow one's desires, covetousness and avarice, and haughtiness; And this is the worst out of those three. (Mishkat, p 434)

The tree that resembles a believer

In Sahih Bukhari it has been related from Sayyidina Abdullah bin Umar رضى الله عنهما that he said: 'We were sitting with the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم. He said: 'Tell me which tree resembles a believer? This tree does not shed its leaves, neither in autumn nor in spring, and it bears fruit in every season. Sayyidina Abdullah bin Umar رضى الله عنهما said: 'I wanted to answer that it is the date-tree; but when I saw that Sayyidina Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه and Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه who were also sitting there. Kept quiet, I kept quiet, too.'

When we got up from there, I mentioned the matter to my father. He said: 'dear son, had you answered them then this would have been dearer to me than anything else.' (Ibn Kathir 3/66)

How to save oneself from envy, suspiciousness and superstitions

In Tabarani has been mentioned the following: 'Three traits shall remain in my Ummah: Superstitious, envy and suspiciousness.' One person asked: 'How can one avoid these traits? The person was told: 'When you envy someone, seek forgiveness. When you suspect someone, give up those thoughts and don't believe in them. When you become superstitious, no matter if prompted by a good or an evil omen, then let it not stop you from your work.' (Tafsir ibn Kathir, Surah Hujurah Ayat 12)

No one can escape death

Allah Most High stated in Surah Jum'ah:

قُلْ إِنَّ الْمَوْتَ الَّذِي تَفِرُّونَ مِنْهُ فَإِنَّهُ مُلَاقِيكُمْ
ثُمَّ تُرَدُّونَ إِلَىٰ عِلْمِ الْغَيْبِ وَالشَّهَادَةِ فَيُنَبِّئُكُمْ بِمَا

كُنْتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ ﴿٨﴾

'Lo! The death from which you try to escape will surely meet you, and afterward you will be returned unto the knower of the invisible and the visible, and He will tell you what you used to do.' (Surah Juma'h Ayat 8)

That means no matter how much you abhor death, there is no place where you could take refuge from it. No matter how hard you try, or in how many forts you hide, death will overtake you wherever you are. And after death you shall have to stand before Allah in the Divine court. (Fawa'id Uthmani)

The similitude of one who tries to escape death

In Muajjam Tabarani is a Marfoo' Hadith according to which the similitude of one who tries to escape death is that of a fox who has taken a loan from earth. Out of fear that the earth will demand back her loan, the fox keeps running and running. Then, when it gets tired it hides in its hole. It hardly hide when the earth demands back her loan. The fox then starts running again, until it finally dies while on the run. (Ibn Kathir)

The Muslim Ummah will not give up four things belonging to the days of ignorance (A prophecy made by Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم)

Abu Ya'la mentioned: My Ummah will not give up four things belonging to the days of ignorance:

- 1) Priding oneself in one's ancestors.
- 2) Insulting others regarding their ancestry.
- 3) Asking rain from the stars.
- 4) Mourning over the dead. (Nawhu)

It was further said that if female mourner dies with out repentance, then on the Day of Judgment she shall be made to wear a dress made of sulphur and a sheet causing her unbearable itch. In Sahih Muslim is a Hadith according to which the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم had cursed female mourners, and those who listen to such a woman. (Ibn Kathir, Prior to Surah Saff)

The cure for incurable ailments

Baghawi and Thalabi recorded from Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood رضى الله عنه that he happened to pass by a patient who was seriously ill. Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood رضى الله عنه then whispered the concluding Ayaah of Surah Muminoon into his ear, after which the patient recovered immediately:

أَفَحَسِبْتُمْ أَنَّمَا خَلَقْنَاكُمْ عَبَثًا وَأَنَّكُمْ إِلَيْنَا لَا
 تُرْجَعُونَ ﴿١١٥﴾ فَتَعَلَىٰ اللَّهُ الْمَلِكُ الْحَقُّ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا
 هُوَ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْكَرِيمِ ﴿١١٦﴾ وَمَنْ يَدْعُ مَعَ اللَّهِ
 إِلَهًا آخَرَ لَا بُرْهَانَ لَهُ بِهِ فَإِنَّمَا حِسَابُهُ عِنْدَ
 رَبِّهِ إِنَّهُ لَا يُفْلِحُ الْكَافِرُونَ ﴿١١٧﴾ وَقُلْ رَبِّ اغْفِرْ وَأَرْحَمْ وَأَنْتَ خَيْرُ الرَّاحِمِينَ ﴿١١٨﴾

Deemed you then that We had created you for naught, and that ye would not be returned unto Us? Now Allah be Exalted, the True King! There is no god but Him, The Lord of the throne of Grace. He Who calls unto any other god along with Allah has no proof thereof. His reckoning is only with his Lord. Lo! Disbelievers shall not be successful. And say: My Lord, forgive and have mercy, for you are best of All who show mercy.' (Surah Muminoon, verses 115-118)

When the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم asked Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood رضى الله عنه what he had whispered into his ear, he said that he had recited these three Ayah. The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم then said: 'By Him in whose hands is my soul, if anyone who has got firm faith would recite these Ayaat over a mountain, then the mountain could leave its place. (Ma'ariful Qura'n 6/338, with reference to Qurtubi and Mazhari)

Allah Most High has kept tremendous healing power in the following:

- 1) The Holy Qur'an contains healing powers.

- 2) Charity contains healing powers.
- 3) Zam Zam contains healings powers.
- 4) Honey contains healing powers.
- 5) Strengthening ties of kinship contains healing powers.
- 6) Surah Fatiha contains healing powers.
- 7) The black seed (Kalonji) contains healing powers.
- 8) Traveling has got healing powers Shaikh-ul-Hadith Muhammad Zakariya رحمه الله عليه wrote in Fadhail-e- Hajj the following with reference to Kanzul Ummal: "There is a Hadith which state: 'Perform hajj (pilgrimage), you shall become self-sufficient; travel and you shall get healthy. That means a change of climate often proves highly beneficial. This has been witnessed many times. (Fadhail-e-hajj, p 28)

The company of handsome boys often leads to mischief

In order to save oneself from homosexuality, one must avoid all that might lead to this accursed practice. One especially ought to shun the company of beardless youth. Some Tabai'in stated that beardless handsome attendants are far more dangerous for a devout worshipper than ferocious beasts of prey. Hasan bin Zakwan said: Don't spend too much time with the children of the rich, for their features resemble those of women, and their temptation exceeds that of virgins. The reason is that a woman might become lawful for a man, in one way or the other, but there is no way of making a boy lawful unto oneself.

Abdullah bin Mubarak رحمه الله عليه narrated that once Sufyan Thawri رحمه الله عليه entered a hamam (Bath Room). A handsome young man was also there. Sufyan Thawri رحمه الله عليه then had the young man sent away, saying: 'A woman is accompanied by one devil but a handsome boy is accompanied by more than ten devils.' (Shub'ul Iman 4/360)

This is also the reason why the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم commanded to let children who have reached the age of discretion on separate beds, so as to save them right in the beginning from acquiring any bad habits. One should keep an eye on children so that they don't spend too much time, especially times of privacy, with elder boys. If several children live in one room then they should be given separate beds and blankets.

From the above details is learnt that one may satisfy one's desire only with one's lawfully wedded wife or one's rightfully possessed slave-girl. The Holy Shariah (divine Islamic law) has sanctioned no other way. Regulations concerning Hijab and gender-segregation also serve this very purpose to free society from licentiousness and indulgence in wrong practices. If anyone thus guards his modesty, then Allah shall grant him paradise in turn, Insha Allah.

Sayyidina Abdur - Rahman bin Awf's رضي الله عنه shroud

Sayyidina Sahl bin Saad رضي الله عنه narrated that once a woman come to the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم and gave him a sheet saying: 'O messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, I have woven this sheet with my own hands, and, brought it to you so that you may wear it.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم gladly accepted the sheet. He then used it as lower garment and went out. Right at that time Sayyidina Abdur Rahman bin Awf رضي الله عنه came and said: 'What a nice sheet. Please give it to me.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Fine', went back in changed His clothes and sent the sheet to the one who had asked for it. Some companions who had witnessed the scene then criticized the companion who had asked for the sheet. They said: 'You knew quite well that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم never turns down a request. You should not have asked for the sheet.' That person said. 'I only asked for it so that I may use it as (part of my) shroud.' Sayyidina Sahl رضي الله عنه further said: 'it happened just like that. When Abdur Rahman bin Awf died, he was shrouded in the same sheet.' (Bukhari sharif 1/170, 381; 2/864, 892; Makarimul Akhlaq p 245)

Husband and wife should not see each other's concealed parts.

(Do not skip this article lest you begin to suffer from forgetfulness)

According to the Islamic teachings, even husband and wife should not lose their sense of shame and modesty when in privacy. They ought to avoid looking at each other's concealed part, as far as possible.

In one mural tradition Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masud رضى الله عنه reported that the Noble Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

إِذَا أَتَى أَحَدُكُمْ أَهْلَهُ فَلْيَسْتَتِرْ وَلَا يَتَجَرَّأَنَّ تَجْرَدَ الْعَيْرَيْنِ

'When any of you goes unto his wife, then he should take to concealment without getting naked like animals.

Modesty demands that even husband and wife avoid seeing one another's concealed parts. Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها narrated: 'I never saw the concealed parts of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, nor had he ever seen mine.' This matter should be duly regarded so as to give a proof of one's sense of shame and modesty. Children are greatly affected by their parents' behavior and character. If we adopt bashfulness and modesty then our children too, will develop these traits. Similarly, If we adopt immodest-ways, then this will have considerable impact on our children. Nowadays all sorts of obscenities of below humanity are shown on television, and society tries hard to adopt the promoted life-style.

We seem to have forgotten that our Lord and Creator Knows whatever we do no matter whether in public or in private if He sees us in such a deplorable condition, then He will surely detest it. We ought to feel ashamed from Allah. Only a well developed sense of shame and modesty can save us from bad habits. Another point is that according to some scholars carelessness in this regard leads to forgetfulness, so far that one cannot even remember important things. Allaamah Shani رحمه الله عليه mentioned that playing with one's private parts and looking at them is one of those things that cause forgetfulness. (Shami 1/225) should be avoided in any case.

Looking at one's private parts (without genuine necessity)

The evil consequences of slandering & tale-bearing

Imam Ghazali related a thought-provoking incident while expounding the evil consequences of slandering and bearing tales. Once a person went to the market to buy a slave. One of the slaves was according to his like. The seller said to him: 'There is no defect in this slave but he has got the bad habit of slandering.' The person yet decided to buy the slave. Hardly a few days had passed, when the slave succumbed to his habit. He went to his master's wife and said to her: 'Listen, Your husband does not like you anymore. He thinks of getting himself a slave-girl. So at night, keep a blade with you to cut some of his hair. I will then cast a spell on him so that he again begins to love you.' This wife agreed and got herself a blade. The slave then went to his master and said to him: 'Listen, your wife has a relationship with another man and wants to get rid of you. Better be on the watch!' At night when he went to his wife, he saw that she has got a blade. He thought: 'So the slave was right!' he then killed his wife with the same blade, before she could say something. When the woman's family got the know about this they killed the husband in retaliation. Thus two respectable families were driven to bloodshed. (Ihya Uloomud-din)

In other words slandering and tale-bearing is habit that has got potential to turn the whole society into mischief and evil. Sayyidina Huzaifa رضى الله عنه narrated: 'I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم say:

لَا يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ نَمَّامٌ

'No slanderer shall enter paradise.' (Mishkat sharif. P 411)

The best and the worst of people

It has been related from Sayyidina Abdur Rahman bin Awf رضى الله عنه and Sayyidah Asma bint Yazid رضى الله عنها that the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: The best among Allah's bondsmen are those who make you remember Allah when you behold them, and the worst among Allah's bondsmen are those who go about bearing tales and slandering others. Such people create a rift among friends, and such people always wait for an opportunity to blame innocent people. (Mishkat, p 415)

A strange incident regarding the punishment in the grave: - Don't cheat others

Abdur Rahman bin Mahmood Maghwali said: 'I was with Sayyidina Abdullah bin Abbas رضى الله عنهما when some people came and said: 'we had set out to perform Hajj (pilgrimage). When we had reached Zatus-Siffah, one of our companions died. We bathed him and shrouded him. After we had dug his grave, we saw that a huge black snake had occupied the grave, We then started digging somewhere else, and again there was that huge black snake. We left the body of our companion there and came to you so that you may help us.'

Sayyidina Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنهما said: 'The snake is the manifestation of the evil deeds he used to do. Go and bury him in that grave by Allah! Even if you would dig up the whole earth, you would always find that snake!' he was then buried. When those people returned from their journey, they went to their dead companion's widow to ask her about his deed. She said: He used to sell grain. Every day he would take some grain out of the sack to feed his family. Then he replaced the grain he had taken with husk and sold his ware for the price of grain.' He thus cheated others into buying husk at the rate of grain. (Baihaqi, Shu'bul Iman)

On the Day of Judgment Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام shall be the first one to be clothed

Imam Bukhari رحمة الله عليه recorded the following tradition from Sayyidina Abdullah bin Abbas رضى الله عنهما in his Sahih (Book):

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم stood among us to deliver a sermon. He said: 'You shall be raised (from death) naked, bare foot and uncircumcised: 'As we had made (creation) the first time, We shall return it.' The first of all creatures to be dressed on the Day of Judgment shall be Sayyidina Ibrahim Khalil عليه السلام.

In another tradition comes that on the day of Judgment Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام shall be the first to be clothed. He shall be given two pieces of Qutubi cloth to wear. Then towards the right side of the Mighty throne, Sayyidina Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم shall be dressed in a striped set of clothes.

Now one might ask why Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام shall receive this extra ordinary honour of being the first one to be dressed on the Day of Judgment. Scholars have made different statements in this regard:

- 1) Allamah Qurtubi رحمه الله عليه stated that before Nimrod ordered Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام to be thrown in the fire, he deprived him of his clothes. Allah Most High shall reward him thus.
- 2) Allamah Haleem رحمه الله عليه stated that since Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام was the most God-fearing person on earth, he shall be clothed first, so that his heart may be at ease.
- 3) There are some Athaar according to which Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام shall be given this honour in order to known his excellence over other people.

This however does not mean that Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام is superior to our Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, since the dress that shall be given to our beloved Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم shall be superior to the one that shall be given to Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام; so although our beloved Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم shall not be the first one to be dressed, yet the superb quality of His dress shall reveal His exalted status. (Fathul Bari 14/468)

The rank of the poor who migrated for the sake of Allah

On the Day of Judgment each person belonging to Sayyidina Muhammad's صلى الله عليه وسلم Ummah shall - Insha Allah- be given to drink from Hawdh -e- Kawthar. Some people however shall be given the honour of quenching their thirst before everyone else. They are the ones whom Allah's messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم described thus:

أَوَّلُ النَّاسِ وَرُودًا عَلَيْهِ فُقَرَاءُ الْمُهَاجِرِينَ الشُّعْثُ رُؤُوسًا - الدُّنْسُ ثِيَابًا
الَّذِينَ لَا يَنْكَحُونَ الْمُتَنَعِمَاتِ وَلَا يَفْتَحُ لَهُمُ السُّدُودُ -

'The first of people to come to it (i.e. Hawdh-e-Kawthar) are the poor emigrants, (Those with) disheveled hair and soiled clothes, who were not in a position to marry pampered well-to do women, and for whom doors were not opened'. (Tirmidhi Shairf 2/67)

That means no well-to-do respected woman would be prepared to marry such a person; and if any such person was to knock at anyone's door, it would not be opened for him. Such people were disdained in this worldly life, but in the Hereafter theirs shall be the honor being the first to drink from Hawdh-e-Kawthar.

The worst people in the Muslim Ummah

Trendy, fashionable people are not viewed with favour by Allah Most High. The Noble Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم has counted such people among the worst people of His Ummah. He صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

سِرَارُ أُمَّتِي الَّذِينَ وُلِدُوا فِي النَّعِيمِ وَعَدُّوا بِهِ هِمَّتَهُمُ الْوَابِغِ الطَّعَامِ
وَالْوَابِغِ الثِّيَابِ يَتَشَدَّدُ قَوْلٌ فِي الْكَلَامِ -

'The worst people from my Ummah are those who are born into comfort and luxury, whose main concern is to get different delicacies and fancy clothes, and who - dare to pride and arrogance - are not able to speak a straight word.'

Sayyidina Umar bin Al Khattab رضى الله عنه said: 'Don't keep running to the bath-houses (in order to adorn yourself), and avoid cleaning your hair again and again. Shun the use of fine carpets, for Allah's chosen servants are not given to lead a life in luxury.' (Kitab-uz-Zuhd, p 263)

Peace and Well-being are the greatest wealth

Living in this world without getting lost in it is the greatest source of mental peace. Even if such a person seems to live in dire straits, he will experience such contentment which is not even enjoyed by the richest of rich. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

الرَّهْدُ فِي الدُّنْيَا يُرِيحُ الْقَلْبَ وَالْجَسَدَ

'Not inclining towards this world is a source of contentment of the heart and the body.'

Peace and well-being are the greatest wealth. If one lacks peace of mind, then all the riches of the world are of no use. Peace of mind how ever can be acquired only if one does not incline towards this world more than necessary, if one remains grateful to Allah and well-pleased with whatever pleases Allah.

The attribute which is most helpful in leading a religious life is disinclination towards this world, for a person who is not inclined towards this world does good deeds merely to please Allah, and if anyone does good deeds only for Allah's sake, then Allah shall grant him abundant reward. (Kitab-uz-Zuhd, p 274)

The Last person to enter Paradise

It has been related from Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood رضى الله عنه that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: The condition of the last person to enter Paradise shall be such that he will barely be able to keep himself on his feet. He will be badly scorched by the Fire of hell. With great difficulty he will drag himself out of hell, then on looking back he will exclaim: 'Blessed indeed is He Who has saved me from hell, and indeed, Allah has granted me a favour the like of whole He did not grant anyone from the former and later generations!' Then he will behold a tree and he will say: 'O Lord! Let me reach that tree so that I may rest in its shade and drink from its water. Allah will say: 'O servant, If I fulfill your desire, will you asked for more?' he will reply: 'No my Lord!' And he will make a firm promise not to asked for more. Allah who fully knows man's restless nature and impatience, will then make him reach the tree. The person will then sit in its shade and drink from its water. Then another even more beautiful tree will appear, and that person will request Allah to let him go to that tree. Allah will ask him: "O servant, didn't you promise not to ask for more. Allah who is well aware of man's restless nature, will then let him go to that tree. The person will sit in its shade and drink from its water.

Then a third, even more beautiful tree shall appear near the gate to paradise, and the person will request to be allowed to go to that tree. When he is allowed to go there, he will hear the voices of the people of paradise, and he will say: 'O Lord, now let me enter paradise!' Allah Most High will say to that person: will you ever stop asking for more? Will you be pleased if I give you twice the world of (as your share) of Paradise?' The person shall utter in astonishment: 'O Bountiful, O Lord of the worlds, are you joking with me?'

After having related this much of the Hadith, Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood began to laugh. He asked those who were present: 'Will you not ask me why I am laughing?' The people then asked him why he was laughing. He said: 'when the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم mentioned this, he smiled. The companions asked him what made him smile. He said: 'I am laughing because of Allah's laughing, for when this person shall asked Allah: 'O Lord of the worlds, are you joking with me?' Allah will say to him: 'I am not joking with you. I am able to do whatever I want.' (Muslim 1/105)

Note: 'Allah's Laughing' refers to His being well-pleased.

Deprived of one true God and deprived of his idol

In Egypt there was a person who lived right next to the mosque. He used to give Adhan and offer the prayer with congregation. His face was radiant with the spirit of obedience and devotion. One day when climbing up the minaret of the mosque to give Adhan, he beheld the beautiful daughter of a Christian who lived in the vicinity of the mosque. On seeing her he fell madly in love with her. He forgot completely about Adhan and went straight to the girl's house. When the girl saw him, she asked: 'Why did you come? What do you want?' He said: 'I came because I am enamoured with your beauty.' The girl replied: 'I am not going to bring shame to my family.' He said: 'I want to marry you!' The girl said: 'You are Muslim and I am Christian. My father will never agree to this match.'

The man said: 'I will become Christian in order to marry you!' (نَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ) The day had not passed yet when that man had to climb on the roof of his house for some reason. He slipped, fell down and died. Alas! That person had deprived himself of one true God and yet he was not able to get hold of his object of adoration. (Tazkirah, p 43)

The greatest of all draughts and its reward

In one tradition comes that the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

مَنْ كَظَمَ غَيْظًا وَهُوَ قَادِرٌ عَلَى أَنْ يُنْفِذَهُ دَعَاهُ اللَّهُ عَلَى رُؤُوسِ السَّالِكِينَ
يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ حَتَّى يُخَيَّرَهُ مِنْ أَيِّ حُورٍ شَاءَ

Anyone who swallows his anger in spite of being able to give vent to it, Allah Most High shall call him on the Day of Judgment in front of whole mankind and let him choose any 'Hoor' he likes. (Baihaqi, Shubul Iman 6/313)

In another Hadith comes that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

مَا جَرَعَ عَبْدٌ جَرَعَةً أَعْظَمَ أَجْرًا عِنْدَ اللَّهِ مِنْ جَرَعَةٍ غَيِظَ كَظَمَهَا ابْتِغَاءَ
وَجْهِ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ -

'The greatest draught as far as reward is concerned in the sight of Allah is the draught of anger which a servant swallows seeking the countenance of Allah.' (Shub'ul Iman 6/314)

Indeed, swallowing one's anger and forgiving one's opponent is nothing short of a miracle. Umar bin Abdul Aziz رحمه الله عليه said: Three deeds are most liked by Allah:

- 1) Forgiving in spite of being in position to take revenge.
- 2) Controlling one's anger when it is at its peak.
- 3) Being gentle with Allah's bondmen.

Satan spends the night in the nose of man

One Hadith recommends: 'When you get up from your sleep then snuff water thrice and clean your nose.' The reason behind this is that Satan spends the night in the nostrils of man, where he urinates and defecates, as a result of which on waking up in the morning one's nose is stuffy, and the nasal discharge is polluted through Satan's urine and excrements. If one cleans one's nose well while taking ablution then the effects of Satan's pollution removed. Below is given the Hadith:

عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ إِذَا اسْتَيْقَظَ أَحَدُكُمْ مِنْ
مَنَامِهِ فَتَوَضَّأْ فَلْيَسْتَنْزِرْ ثَلَاثًا فَإِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يُبَيْتُ عَلَى خَيْشُومِهِ

'On the authority of Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه who related that the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'When you wake up from your sleep and take ablution, then snuff water thrice and clean your nose, for Satan spends the night in your nostril.' (Bukhari, 1/465, Hadith no 3189)

Learn these phrases and teach them to your children

Sayyidina Abu Umamah رضي الله عنه said: Once the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم saw me moving lips. He asked me: 'O Abu Umamah, What are you mumbling?' I said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم I am glorifying Allah.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Should I not teach you some phrases which are far superior to your glorifying Allah throughout the day and the night?' I said: 'Of course, O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, do teach me!' He said: 'Say

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا خَلَقَ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ مَلَأَ مَا خَلَقَ - سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ
 عَدَدَ مَا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَالسَّمَاءِ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ مَلَأَ مَا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَالسَّمَاءِ،
 سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا أَحْطَى كِتَابُهُ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ مَلَأَ مَا أَحْطَى كِتَابُهُ،
 سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ مَلَأَ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ، الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا
 خَلَقَ، الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ مَلَأَ مَا خَلَقَ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَالسَّمَاءِ، الْحَمْدُ
 لِلَّهِ مَلَأَ مَا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَالسَّمَاءِ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا أَحْطَى كِتَابُهُ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ
 مَلَأَ مَا أَحْطَى كِتَابُهُ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَدَدَ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ مَلَأَ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ -

In Tabarani has been mentioned that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: "Should I not teach you something extraordinary that fetches you immense reward, a reward that you could not earn otherwise, not even if you were to pray all night?"

He then instructed to recite the above words, and to repeat the recital for الله اكبر and الحمد لله.

In Tabarani further comes that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Learn these phrases and teach them to your children.'
 (Hayat-us- Sahabah 3/336)

Hajjaj bin Yusuf might be forgiven because of one sentence

Hajjaj bin Yusuf is known as one of the most cruel governors of Islamic history. He himself put more than one hundred thousand people to death, and issued death warrants of countless others. He had killed many companions and Taba'in, and imprisoned many others.

Hasan Basri used to say that if all the former Ummahs would bring all their hypocrites on the Day of Judgment, and we'd bring our hypocrite Hajjaj bin Yusuf ath-Thaqafi, then he'd outweigh all the others. When Hajjaj was lying on his death bed, he prayed:

'O Allah, Your bondmen and bondwomen says about me that you will not forgive me. But I still hope that you will forgive me. Please, forgive me!

He died uttering these words.

Umar bin Abdul Aziz رحمه الله عليه liked the words uttered by Hajjaj, and began to envy him for his death. When Hasan Basri رحمه الله عليه got to know about this prayer he asked in astonishment. 'Did Hajjaj really say this prayer?' When the people replied in the affirmative, he said: 'It might be that Allah is going to forgive him.' (Ihya Uloom 4/401)

Acceptance of Prayers

In one Hadith comes that if one supplicates after reciting the following words then one's prayer shall surely be accepted:

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ لَهُ الْمُلْكُ وَهُوَ
الْحَمْدُ وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ - لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ

(Muntakhab Ahadith, taken from Tabarani)

Don't be deceived when you see someone flying in the air.

A Strange statement has been attributed to Bayazid Bustami. He is reported to have said that one should not be deceived by a person who appears to perform great miracles, flying in the air, as long as one is not sure that the person fully abides by Allah's commandments. (Bidayah wa-Nihayah 11/35)

Don't become the fifth one

Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

'Become a Scholar'

Or a student

Or a (keen) listener

Or a lover, and do not become the fifth lest you be ruined.

كُنْ عَالِمًا

أَوْ مُتَعَلِّمًا

أَوْ مُسْتَمِعًا

أَوْ مُحِبًّا وَلَا تَكُنِ الْخَامِسَةَ
فَتَهْلِكَ

And the fifth is that you bear a grudge against knowledge and people of knowledge.

وَالخَامِسَةَ ، أَنْ تَبْغِضَ
الْعِلْمَ وَاهْلَهُ

(Muntakhab Ahadith, p 309)

Deliverance from calamities and attainment of objectives

Recite Durud Sharif eleven times, and then recite: حَسْبُنَا اللَّهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيلُ

- ☆ 341 times for protection against all harm.
- ☆ 308 time for blessed sustenance and relief from indebtedness.
- ☆ 111 times to accomplish any task.
- ☆ 140 times to be delivered from anxiety, worries and distress.

Conclude with reciting Durud Sharif eleven times. (Maulana Abrarul Haq رحمه الله عليه)

Rid yourself of seven evils, acquire one virtue, love and kindness will follow.

In one Hadith comes.

- 1) Shun suspicion, for suspicion is the greatest falsehood.
- 2) Don't pry on others' weaknesses.
- 3) Don't spy on others.
- 4) Do not try to overbid one another.
- 5) Don't envy others.
- 6) Don't harbour a grudge against others.
- 7) Don't backbite one another.

These are seven evil habits which bring about discord and ill will in the Ummah. It is hence of utmost importance to shun these vices. The virtue which fosters the spirit of mutual love is:

كُونُوا عِبَادَ اللَّهِ إِخْوَانًا

'And be- O servants of Allah - like brothers to each other.'
(Ma,ariful Hadith , 2/212)

It is inappropriate to watch cricket on TV Allah Most High said:

وَمِنَ النَّاسِ مَن يَشْتَرِي لَهْوَ الْحَدِيثِ

(Surah Luqman, Ayah 6)

This refers to singing songs, playing music, musical instruments and all such things which cause man to become neglectful of things of goodness. Stories, novels, dramas, love-stories, yellow press news papers and magazines too, fall in this category, as well as television, radio, VCR, etc. During the days of the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم some infidels purchased slave-girls that knew how to sing and play music for the sake of entertaining the public so as to keep them away from Islam. And the Holy Qur'an. The case of today's singers film stars performing artists and other so-called cultural ambassadors' is not much different.

Cricket, no matter whether the game as such, or a match broad casted on TV or radio, is covered by the term 'Lahwul Hadith', too, because it is one of those things that cause one to become oblivious of things of goodness. (Tafsir Masjid-e-Nabwi).

Islam Enjoins Simplicity.

In surah Saad has been stated:

وَمَا أَنَا مِنَ الْمُتَكَلِّفِينَ

'And I am not one of those who impose.' (Surah Saad, verse 86)

From this Ayat is learnt that also in one's day to day life one should keep away from vain formalities. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'We are forbidden vain formalities.' (Bukhari, Hadith IVR. 7293)

Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه related: 'The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade us to undergo undue trouble and vain formalities for our guests.' From this is learnt that being overly picky regarding one's food, clothing, dwelling and other matters, which is nowadays promoted as high standards of living, stands in contradiction to the teachings of Islam. Islam enjoins us to live in modesty and simplicity. (Tafsir Masjid-e-nabawi)

On should treat one's children equally

Allah Most high stated in Surah Maidah:

أَعْدِلُوا هُوَ أَقْرَبُ لِلتَّقْوَى

'And be equitable, that is closer to piety.' (Surah Maidah, verse 8)

Sayyidina No'man bin Bashir رضى الله عنه said: 'Once my father gave me a gift. My mother said to him: 'I will not be contented with (you giving him) this gift, unless you make the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم bear witness to it.' When my father went to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, he asked him: 'Did you give all your children such a gift?' he said: 'No.' The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم then said: 'Fear Allah! Treat your children with fairness.' He further said: 'I will not bear witness to injustice.' (Sahih Bukhari and Muslim, Tafsir Masjid-e-Nabwi)

Every day the Sun Prostrates in front of Allah

Sayyidina Abu Darr رضى الله عنه reported that the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Do you know where the sun goes after sunset?' I said: 'Allah and His messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم know best.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم then said: 'The sun goes beneath the Mighty Throne where it prostrates in front of Allah. Then it asks Allah's permission to rise again, and it is given permission. Soon however it will happen that the sun's prostration is not accepted. It will ask for permission to rise, but permission will not be given, and the sun will be told to go back to where it came from. The sun will then rise in the west. This is the meaning of the

وَالشَّمْسُ تَجْرِي لِمُسْتَقَرٍّ لَهَا

'And the sun moves to toward its destination.' (Surah Yasin, Ayat 38)

The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم is beneath the Mighty Throne. (Bukhari, Muslim, Mishkat, p 472)

There are eight kinds of wind

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Umar رضى الله عنهما stated that there are eight kinds of winds. Four are harbingers of Divine mercy, and four are forebodes of punishment. The harbingers of mercy are:

- 1) Nashirat
- 2) Mubashshirat
- 3) Mursalat
- 4) Dhariyat

The forebodes of punishment are:

- 5) Aqem
- 6) Sarsar
- 7) Asif
- 8) Qasif

The first two winds (Aqem and Sarsar) are dry and arid winds, the other two (Asif and Qasif) are humid.

When Allah intended to destroy the people of Aad, the custodian of the winds asked: 'O Lord, may I open the vessel of winds equal to the nostril of a bull?' Allah said: 'No! if you were to do that then every thing on earth would be turned upside down. Just make an opening equal to the hole in a ring. The wind which is released through that hole shall wipe out whatever it comes across.' This is Sayyidina Abdullah bin Umar's رضى الله عنهما statement. (Ibn Kathir)

Honour is not based on one's ancestry but on one's piety

A person's honour, respect, dignity, etc. is in fact not related to his ancestry, family-background or social standing. One's honour and respect in the sight of Allah depends on one's piety, virtuosity and character. Ultimately, the whole human race had descended from Sayyidina Adam and Sayyidina Hawwa رضى الله عنهما. Allah divided humankind into different tribes and clans so that they may know each other. No doubt, it is a grace from Allah if one was borne into a noble, respected family, similarly handsome features are a grace from Allah. This however does not give anyone the right to pride himself in those traits, or to consider them as a sign of superiority and excellence, and to look down upon others. Rather one should be grateful for having been blessed in this manner without any of effort on one's own part. Being grateful also means to shun arrogance and pride, and not to spoil these blessings through bad habits and character-traits. Honour is not based on ancestry, it is rather based on piety and spiritual purity, and how could a God-fearing person look down upon others?

A True believer

Sayyidina Harith bin Malik رضى الله عنه once went to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم who asked him: 'O Harith, how was your morning?' Sayyidina Harith رضى الله عنه said: 'Like that of a true believer.' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Think what you are saying, for every thing got a true essence, so what is the true essence of your faith? Tell me!' Sayyidina Harith رضى الله عنه said. 'I am void of love of this world. My night's, I spend in worship. I remain thirsty throughout the day as I keep fasting. And I feel as though I am beholding the Mighty Throne, As though I am witnessing the people of Paradise meeting each other, and the punishment meted out to the denizens of hell.' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Yes Harith, you realized the true essence of faith. Remain steadfast to your best ability.' This he صلى الله عليه وسلم said three times. (Ibn Kathir)

One should not come to a conclusion after hearing only one party

Imam Sha'bi رحمه الله عليه says: I was sitting with Qazi Shuraih when a woman came and lodged a complaint against her husband. When she appeared in the court, she cried bitterly. Her condition affected me greatly. I said to Qazi shuraih: 'Abu Umayyah the way this woman cries seems to show that she is really oppressed.' On hearing this, he said: 'Sha'bi, after Yusuf's brothers had thrown him in the well, they went back to their father.'

One should hence not come to a conclusion unless one has heard both parties. First-one should properly enquire circumstances before one makes a decision. (Ibn Kathir)

The dreadful consequences of backbiting

Rabi رحمه الله عليه who was Tabi'i narrated: 'Once I went to attend a gathering; some people were sitting together and chatting with each other. I too, sat with them. After a little while they started to backbite someone. I disliked this, got up and left, because if backbiting takes place in a gathering, then one should try to stop it. And if one cannot stop it, then one should become part of such talk. Rather one should get up and leave. So I got up and left. After a while I thought that now the back-biting must be over, so I went again to that gathering. People were chatting for a while, but then they started to backbite again. By then my resolve had grown weak and I was not in a position to leave the gathering. I listened to their backbiting, and finally I myself said some inappropriate sentences.

After coming back home, I went to sleep. In my dream I saw a man of very dark complexion, who brought me a huge container full of meat. I had already realized that it was pork meat, when the man said to me: 'It is pork eat it!' I said: 'I am a Muslim. How could I have pork meat?' he said: 'You'll have to eat it!' then he started to stuff the meat into my mouth. I tried to stop him, but he kept stuffing it into my mouth, until I felt nauseous and started to vomit. The man however kept stuffing me. During this state of extreme distress, I suddenly woke up. After waking up when I had my food, I felt the disgusting taste of pork meat in my mouth. No matter what I ate, it tasted like pork meat. This continued for thirty days. Thus Allah reprimed me of the evil consequence of backbiting. I felt the after-taste of those words for thirty days. (Ta'mir-e-Hayat)

A strange example of success in matters related to Deen (Religion)

Allah Most High has made person's failure or success dependent on deen. Just like sweetness cannot be separated from honey, or sweet fragrance from a flower similarly success cannot be separated from deen. What is deen? Deen is to do whatever Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم commanded to do, and to refrain from whatever has been forbidden.

Whether circumstances deteriorate or improve depends on whether one's deeds deteriorate or improve. And whether one's deeds deteriorate or improve depends on whether one's faith deteriorates or grows stronger. If one's faith deteriorates, then one's deeds deteriorate, too, and if one's deeds deteriorate then Allah causes one's circumstances to deteriorate. Every Muslim hence ought to change himself for the better so that his circumstances will be changed for the better, too.

The greatest Ayat (verse)

Sayyidina Ubayy bin Ka'ab رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم once said: 'O Abul Munzir (Abul Munzir was Sayyidina Ubayy bin Ka'ab's رضي الله عنه patronym), do you know which Ayat (verse) is the greatest Ayat (verse) of the Holy Qur'an?' I said: 'Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم know best.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم then repeated his question: 'O Abul Munzir, do you know which Ayat (verse) is the greatest Ayat (verse) of the Holy Qur'an?' I said: 'The Ayat beginning with 'Allah! There is no god but Him (i.e. The Ayatul Kursi).' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم then stroke my hand and said: 'O Abul Munzir, may Allah bless your knowledge.' (Mishkat, with reference of Muslim)

From this tradition is learnt that the Ayatul Kursi is the greatest Ayat of the Holy Qur'an. This is so because the subject matter of this Ayat is Allah's unity, His characteristics and attributes.

An excellent method of protecting one's life and belongings, and of protecting oneself against Satan's evil.

Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه narrated: The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم made me custodian over whatever Zakah has been collected during the month of Ramadhan. (i.e. Sadaqatul Fitr). And I did accordingly. Suddenly someone came and started taking grain with both hands. I caught him and said: 'I will surely bring you to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم!' He said: 'I am a poor man. I have to feed my family. I am in desperate need (i.e. my poverty compels me to steal). Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه said: 'I then let him go.' Next morning the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked me: 'O Abu Hurairah, What did your captive do last night?' I said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, He complained of his poverty, and that he has got a family to feed.' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Beware! He lied to you. He will come again.' When I heard this from the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, I was fully convinced that he would come again, so I kept waiting for him. And indeed, he came and started taking grain with both hands. I caught him and said: 'I will surely bring you to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم!' He said: 'Let me go! I am a poor man. I have to feed my family. I will not come again.' To felt sorry for him and let him go. Next morning the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said to me: 'O Abu Hurairah, what about your captive' I said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, he complained of his poverty and that he has got a family to feed. I felt pity for him and let him go.

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'beware! He lied to you.

He will come again.' When heard this from the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, I was fully convinced that he would come again, so I kept waiting for him. And indeed, he came again and started filling grain with both hands (into his vessel). I caught him and said: 'I will surely bring you to Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. This is now the third time. Every time you promise not to come again, and yet you come again!' he said: 'Let me go. I will teach you some words through which Allah Most High will let you reap benefit. When you lie down at night, recite Ayatul Kursi.

Allah will appoint a guardian for you who shall guard you throughout the night; Satan will not even get close to you until the next morning.' I then let him go. Next morning the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'What about your captive?' I said: 'He taught me some words through which Allah Most High will let me reap benefit (so I let him go).'

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Listen, this time he told you the truth although he is otherwise a liar. Do you know to whom you talked in the last three nights?' I said: 'No!' the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم then said to me: 'That was Satan.' (Mishkat, with reference to Bukhari)

From this Hadith is learnt that if someone recites Ayatul Kursi before going to sleep, then he shall remain safe from theft and from the Satan's evil.

The blessings of Wudhu (Ablution)

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم not only taught us how to perform wudhu and regulations pertaining to Wudhu but he also enumerated the many blessings of Wudhu. It has been related from Sayyidina Uthman رضى الله عنه that the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had said: 'Whoever performed Wudhu and performed it well, his whole body shall be purified from sins, even from under his nails.' (Bukhari and Muslim)

That means if someone performs Wudhu as is, taught by Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, duly regarding all sunan and etiquettes, then not only those limbs that are actually washed during ablution shall be cleaned and purified, rather the whole body shall be cleansed from the impurity of sins. Thus one becomes inwardly and outwardly purified.

It has been related from Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: When a Muslim performs Wudhu and washes his face, then whatever sins he had committed with his eyes shall be washed away. Then when he washes his hands whatever sins he had committed with his hands shall be washed away. Then when he washes his feet whatever sins he had committed with his feet shall be washed away. Then on completing his Wudhu, he has become clean of sins as well. (Muslim)

Three points should be elucidated in this regard:

- 1) In the Ahadith cited above is mentioned that sins shall be washed away, although sins do not consist of any material substance which could be washed away with water.

Some scholars have mentioned that sins being washed away should be taken metaphorical, namely that they shall be pardoned and forgiven.

Others have stated that darkness and inauspiciousness cover the limb through which one committed a sin, and that this darkness, also affects one's heart. Then if one performs with Allah's leave ablution, duly regarding all sunnah and etiquettes, then the evil effect of sin is washed away from the limb through which one had committed a sin, as well as from one's heart, and Allah forgives that sin. This seems to be - according to this humble servant's opinion- closer to the wording of the Hadith.

- 2) In the Hadith narrated by Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه is mentioned that when one washes one's face, the sins committed through one's eyes shall be washed away. Now arises the question why only the sins committed by one's eyes were mentioned, whereas the face comprises of several organs such as the eyes, the nose, the mouth, and some sins are committed through the nose and the tongue.

This can be answered as follows that in the said Hadith the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم did not fully enumerate all the body parts which are purified during Wudhu. He mentioned the eyes, hands and feet only as example. There is another Hadith on this subject which Imam Malik and Imam Nasai رحمه الله عليهما recorded from Abdullah Sanabahi. In that Hadith comes that when one gargles and rinses one's nose, the sins committed by one's tongue and nose shall be washed away, and when one wipes one's ears the sins committed by one's ears shall be washed away.

- 3) The effect of good deeds is that they annul the evil effect of sins. In the Holy Qura'n comes:

إِنَّ الْحَسَنَاتِ يُذْهِبْنَ السَّيِّئَاتِ

'Indeed, good deeds wipe out evil deeds.' (Surah Hud, Ayat 114)

There are many Ahadith in which the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم enumerated good deeds which wipe out evil deeds, virtues which lead to the forgiveness of sins or which expiate for one's misdoings. We have already quoted this kind of Ahadith, and we shall continue to do so in the subsequent chapters. In some traditions the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم explicitly stated that only minor sins shall be pardoned through the blessings of those virtues. Hence the Ahle Haqq, the Ahl-e-Sunnah maintain exactly this stance, namely that only minor sins shall be forgiven in this manner. This is proven from the Holy Qur'an too. Allah Most High stated:

إِنْ تَجْتَنِبُوا كَبَائِرَ مَا تُنْهَوْنَ عَنْهُ نَكْفَرْنَا عَنْكُمْ

سَيِّئَاتِكُمْ

'If you avoid the major sins which were made forbidden unto you, then we shall expiate your minor misdeeds.'

(Surah Nisaa, Ayat 31)

In short the sins referred to in the above Ahadith, are minor sins only. Major sins are a very serious matter, and the only antidote against their poison is to sincere repentance. (Ma'ariful Hadith, 3/44-47)

The Key to all gates of paradise

عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَا مِنْكُمْ مِنْ أَحَدٍ يَتَوَضَّأُ فَيُبَلِّغُ أَوْ فَيُسْبِغُ الْوُضُوءَ ثُمَّ يَقُولُ أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَأَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ، إِلَّا فُتِحَتْ لَهُ أَبْوَابُ الْجَنَّةِ الثَّمَانِيَةِ يَدْخُلُهَا مِنْ أَيِّهَا شَاءَ (رواه مسلم)

On the authority of Sayyidina Umar bin Al Khattab رضى الله عنه who said: The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: If any of you performs Wudhu (ablution) and perform it well and thereafter recites:

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَأَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ

(I bear witness that there is no god except Allah and that Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم is His servant and messenger). Then all eight gates of Paradise are flung open for him, and he may enter from whichever gate he likes. (Muslim)

It seems like only the part of the body which are actually washed during Wudhu become pure and clean, so a believer feels that he had outwardly cleaned himself, as he was ordered to, but that he could not full purify himself of spiritual pollution, namely weak faith, lack of sincerity and commission of sins. Feeling thus he recites the Kalimah-e-Shahadah so as to renew his faith, express his sincere submission to Allah, and pledges to follow the footsteps of Allah's messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. As a result there of Allah

Most High decides to forgive this bondman and all the gates of paradise are flung open for him. (Ma'ariful Hadith 3/47-48)

The Stench of falsehood

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Umar رضى الله عنه narrated that the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'if a person utters a lie, then the angels (appointed to guard him) keep one mile away from him, because of the stench of what he had said. (Tirmidhi, Mishkat p 413)

Just like material things can emit a pleasant or a foul smell, similarly the words one speaks can emit a pleasant or a foul smell. The angels perceive this smell just like we perceive the smell of material things. Some of Allah's bondmen who are overwhelmed by spirituality too, perceive the good or bad smell of the words one speaks. (Islah-e-Ma'ashrah, p 55)

Stern warning for those who narrate false dreams

One must never narrate false dreams. In one Hadith has been mentioned that on the Day of Judgment a person who narrates false dreams will be made to tie a knot between two grains of barley (which he will never be able to do). (Marne ke baad kya hoga?)

The cause of being deprived from the strength to good deeds

One of the causes of being deprived from the strength to do good deeds is doubtful and unlawful income. If someone has no concern for where his money is coming from, if one does not distinguish between lawful and unlawful, if all one wants is more and more money, even if that means that one resorts to robbery, theft, taking bribes, devouring interest, fraud, etc, then one will lose one's strength and will to do good deeds. In short, strength for acts of worship is generated from the 'Nur' of one's heart, and this 'Nur' in turn results from a pure and lawful income. If one's sustenance is lawful and pure, then it is full of blessing, even if it is only little. Besides, lawful income is hardly ever abundant. Unlawful income on the other hand, seems to be plentiful, but it is void of blessing. There are cases where a person receives a lawful and pure sustenance in sheer abundance, but such cases are rare. In general lawful sustenance just suffices to fulfill one's needs. But since this kind of income is blessed, the goodness there of is more apparent. (Wa Salam, Muhammad Yunus Palanpuri).

Note: A woman from Mumbai enquired why one loses the strength to do good, such as offering prayers, fasting, zikr, reciting the Holy Qur'an, etc. She mentioned that when she sits down to recite Qur'an, she lacks the strength and will to do so. The above letter was written in reply to her query.

One should keep one's talk brief

It has been related from Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه that once a person stood up and began to deliver a sermon in his presence. When that person's talk got longer and longer, Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه said: 'It would be better for him if he had kept his talk brief for I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم say: 'I deem it proper - or may be he said: Allah commanded me- to keep my talk brief, for it is better to keep one's talk brief. (Sunnan Abi Dawud)

Experience bears witness to the fact that overly lengthy sermons tend to tire the audience. At times a speech lightly affects the listeners, but as the speech gets longer and longer that effect wears off and the listeners become bored and frustrated. One should hence keep one's talk simple and short.

A conspiracy to kill three companions

The compiler of Majma'ul-Fawa'id recorded with reference to Tabarani's Muajjam Kabir the following tradition pertaining to Sayyidina Ali Murtaza's رضى الله عنه martyrdom from Ismail bin Rashid.

Below is given some information regarding the Khawarij, then the said incident shall be mentioned.

Khawarij: They were a group in Sayyidina Ali's رضي الله عنه troops, who due to their ignorance and folly, considered Sayyidina Ali's رضي الله عنه decisions as wrong and- God forbid- in utter contradiction to the Holy Qur'an. These misunderstandings caused them to oppose Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه and to revolt against him. The Khawarij were several thousand in number. As a result of Sayyidina Ali's رضي الله عنه diplomatic skills many of them gave up their erroneous notions, but many others persisted on their error and took up arms. Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه was left with no choice but to fight against them. A great number of them were killed, while some survived. Three of those survivors, namely Barak bin Abdullah, Amr bin Bakr Tamimi and Abdur Rahman bin Muljam came together in Makkah. They exchanged their views concerning the current situation and finally they come to the conclusion that those people who are in authority are the cause of all mischief. If these people were eliminated, then mischief would come to an end. They identified three persons as main culprits. Sayyidina Muawiyah رضي الله عنه Sayyidina Amr bin Aas رضي الله عنه and Sayyidina Ali Murtaza رضي الله عنه.

Barak said: "I shall kill Muawiyah." Amr Tamimi Said: 'I shall will Amr bin Aas.' And Abdur Rahman Maljam said: 'I shall kill Ali.' Then they took an oath to this effect. They further decided that each of them shall carry and his task on 17th Ramadhan, A when the people go for to offer the Fajr-Prayer. During those days either the ruler himself or one person appointed by him used to lead the prayer.

As per their plan, Barak went to Damascus, Amr Tawimi went to Egypt where Sayyidina Amr bin Aas رضي الله عنه Functioned as governor. Abdur Rahman bin Muljam رضي الله عنه went to Kufah. On 17th Ramadhan when Sayyidina Muawiyah رضي الله عنه went to lead the prayer, he was attacked by Barak. Sayyidina Muawiyah رضي الله عنه however managed to escape with a deep wound on his hip Barak was captured (and put to death). The Physician who was called to treat Sayyidina Muawiyah's رضي الله عنه wound said that the sword which was used for the attack had been dipped into poison and that there are only two ways of treating this wound and neutralizing the poison namely either to brand it with a red-hot iron, or to use a medicine the side-effect of which would be that Sayyidina Muawiyah رضى الله عنه could not father any children. On hearing this Sayyidina Muawiyah رضى الله عنه said: 'I cannot bear being branded by a red-hot iron, so I'd rather have that medicine. My two sons Yazid and Abdur Rahman are enough for me.' He was then given that medicine and recovered.

Amr Tamimi went as planned- to Egypt in order to kill Sayyidina Amr bin Aas رضى الله عنه. Allah however willed that right in the night before 17th Ramadhan Sayyidina Amr bin Aas رضى الله عنه fell so ill that he was not in a position to lead the prayer. He then appointed Kharjah bin Habib to lead the prayer instead. Kharjah acted accordingly and stood in the Imam's place. Amr Tamimi mistook Kharjah for Sayyidina Amr bin Aas رضى الله عنه, struck him with his sword and made him embrace martyrdom. Amr Tamimi was captured and brought to Sayyidina Amr bin Aas. When Amr Tamimi saw the people address Sayyidina Amr bin Aas رضى الله عنه as Ameer, he asked them, 'Who is he?' they said: 'He is the governor of Egypt, Sayyidina Amr bin Aas رضى الله عنه,' he then asked: 'Whom did I kill?' they said: 'that was Kharjah bin Habib.' That miserable wretch (i.e. Amr Tamimi) then said to Sayyidina Amr bin Aas: 'O wicked one! I intended to kill you!' Sayyidina Amr رضى الله عنه said: 'You intended something whereas Allah intended something else. It happened as intended by Allah.' Amr Tamimi was then killed in retaliation for Kharjah bin Habib.

The third evil character namely Abdur Rahman bin Maljim went as planned to Kufah. In the night before 17th Ramadhan, before the Fajr prayer, Abdur Rahman hide himself somewhere in the way leading to the mosque. It was Sayyidina Ali's رضى الله عنه habit to call the people to prayer, saying 'As-Salah! As-Salah!' while on his way to the mosque. Also that night he did the same, when out of a sudden he was attacked by Abdur Rahman bin Maljam who inflicted a deep wound on his forehead. The people pursued the attacker and caught him. He was then brought to Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه. Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه said to his elder son Sayyidina Hasan رضى الله عنه: 'if I survive, then I shall decide regarding Ibn Maljam whatever I please. If I want to, I will forgive him and if I want to, I will punish him. And if I die, then take retaliation from him, as laid down by the Holy law. But do not mutilate him, for I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم say: 'Do not mutilate, even if you kill a insane dog.' When Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه died as a result of the attack, Abdur Rahman was killed in retaliation. The angry mab then burnt his dead body. (Ma'airful Hadith 8/399)

The strange story of two partners

Two men happened to be partners; they had saved eight thousand gold coins. One of the partners was well acquainted with business matters, whereas the other was not. The first one said: 'Since you do not know much about business affairs it will be difficult for us to get along together. Take your share and go your own way.'

There was also a king who had died. The partner who was acquainted with business affairs purchased the royal palace for one thousand gold coins. Then he called his former partner and said: 'tell me, how do you like what 'I bought?' His former partner then praised the palace. When he came out from there he prayed: 'O Allah my partner bought for thousand gold coins a palace in this world; whereas I ask you to grant me for the same price a palace in the Hereafter. I will spend for your sake one thousand gold coins on the poor.' And so he did after some time the partner who was well-acquainted with business affairs spent one thousand gold coins on his marriage. He invited his former partner to the feast and said: 'I have spent one thousand gold coins on marrying this woman.' His former partner then praised his decision. When he came out, he made up his mind to spend another thousand gold-coins for Allah's sake. He said: 'O Allah! My partner has spent so much money for the sake of marrying one woman of this world, whereas, I ask you to grant me a virgin of paradise.' He then spent another thousand gold-coins on the poor.

After some time the worldly minded man called his companion again and said: 'Look, I purchased two gardens for two thousand gold coins. Just look at them! How do you like them?' His companion then looked at the two gardens and praised them. Then on coming out, he prayed: 'O Allah, my companion used his two thousand gold coins to buy two gardens of this world, where as I want to buy two gardens of Paradise. I want to spend my two thousand gold coins in your way.' He then gave the amount in charity. When the angels came to seize their souls, the one who used to give charity was taken to a palace in Paradise where he was married to a beautiful woman. He also got two gardens and such blessings which are not known to anyone except Allah. He then remembered his partner. An angel told him that he is in Hell, and that he could see him if he wanted. Indeed, when the man who used to give charity had a look at his former partner, he saw him burning in the Fire. He said: 'Had it not been for Allah's mercy I myself would have become fuel for the Fire of hell. It was naught but His kindness that I was saved.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4/367-368)

Clean your heart until it shines like a mirror

Shaykh Shahabuddin Suharwardy رحمه الله عليه related the following story from Mawlana Jalaluddin Rumi رحمه الله عليه. Once the Romans and the Chinese broke into an argument as to who is the most skillful artisan and decorator. The Chinese insisted that they are the most Skilled, and the Romans claimed the same. Their case was brought to the emperor who decreed that both should prove their claim, after which the final verdict would be given.

The emperor then had a building constructed. The building was divided into two portions and a wall was erected to separate both portions. There after both contestants were given one half of the building, and they were told to decorate it. The Chinese first got the walls white washed then they decorated the walls with all kinds of floral motifs, relief-work, engravings, and so on. The Romans, too got the walls white washed. But they did not paint a single leaf or flower on the wall, not did they apply a single coat of colour to the walls. They did however polish the walls until they became clean and shining like a mirror. When both contestants had completed their work, the emperor was informed. He came and ordered that the wall which divided the building into two halves be removed. As soon as the wall was removed, all the paintings, engravings and other artwork done by the Chinese were reflected in the walls which the Romans had polished. So it seemed like both parts of the building were decorated in the same exquisite manner. The emperor was greatly confused as to in whose favour he should decide. Finally he gave a verdict in favour of the Romans, as they and not demonstrated their own skills but also showed a reflection of Chinese artwork.

Maulana Rumi wrote after relating this incident. 'Dear friend, you too should work on your heart like a Roman artisan, that mean polish it with Riyadhat and Mujahadah until it becomes so clean and shining that even when sitting at home one can behold all the beauty of the world therein. Discard all material filth and spiritual vices from your heart and enlighten of instated with knowledge of Allah. All realities of this world and the Hereafter will become known to you. Such a pure heart is blessed with knowledge and cognition without any intermediary, and such a heart gets more and more radial day by day.

Sayyidina Zahir's رضى الله عنه story

In Shamail Tirmidhi has been beautifully narrated an incident from the life of a companion, namely Sayyidina Zahir bin Haram Ashja'i رضى الله عنه.

Sayyidina Zahir رضى الله عنه was a villager, who used to send gifts to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. He sent Items that were easily available in his village such as vegetables, pickles, etc. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم happily accepted those gifts. He صلى الله عليه وسلم used to say that Sayyidina Zahir رضى الله عنه was not a handsome sight, but that his faith and his moral character were of the highest standing. Whenever Sayyidina Zahir رضى الله عنه was about to return to his village, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم would give him some gift.

Once Sayyidina Zahir رضى الله عنه sold his goods in the marketplace of Madinah. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم sneaked behind him and quickly covered his eyes. Sayyidina Zahir رضى الله عنه had no idea who it was, and since his eyes were covered, he couldn't see anything, either. He thought that any of the people must be playing a trick on him. He started shouting: 'Who are you? Let me go!' He somehow managed to get a glance of the one who held him. When he realized that he was held by the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, he no longer shouted: 'Let me go!' he rather pressed his back against the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم blessed chest, as he knew this kind of closeness to be source of tremendous goodness. Thereafter the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked: 'who will buy that slave?' Sayyidina Zahir رضى الله عنه said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, you'd suffer quite some loss if you were to sell me. Who would pay a price to buy an ugly person like me?' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم then said: 'You have got quite some worth in the sight of Allah!' (Shamail -e- Timudhi p 14)

We all ought to learn a lesson from this incident, namely that love for Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم depends on the state of one's heart. If one's heart is filled with Taqwa (piety), then one has also obtained the station of love for Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم.

In one Hadith comes that Sayyidina Usamah رضى الله عنه was very dark complexioned, but yet he was dearer to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم than the other companions. Once the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said to Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها: 'Love Usamah رضى الله عنه, for I love him.'

The Muslim Ummah shall suffer misfortunes when the following fifteen vices are being committed

Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه related that the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'When the Ummah commits fifteen kinds of vices all sorts of calamities shall rain down on them.'

Someone asked: 'O Messenger of Allah what are those fifteen vices,' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

- 1) When spoils of war are considered as personal property.
- 2) When entrusted goods are considered as plunder.
- 3) When the Zakah (obligatory annual charity) is considered as a fine.
- 4) When people acquire religious knowledge for worldly purposes.
- 5) When a man obeys his wife.
- 6) And disobeys his mother.
- 7) When a person treats his friend well and maltreats his father.
- 8) When people make noise in mosques.
- 9) When the worst person of a tribe is appointed as their leader.
- 10) When the vilest of a nation becomes their ruler.
- 11) When a person is given respect only to be saved from his mischief.
- 12) When liquor is consumed frequently.
- 13) When even men begin to wear silk.
- 14) When songstresses and musical instruments become common.
- 15) When the later generations of this Ummah curse the former generations.

Then wait for a red storm, for earthquakes, for the earth's splitting asunder, for distortion of faces, for raining down of stones, and also wait for those signs which shall come one after the other, just like the pearls that fall off a broken necklace.

(Tirmidhi 2/44)

Love for five things causes one to forget five things

There shall come a time when people will love five things and forget five others.

- 1) They will love this worldly life and forget the Hereafter.
- 2) They will love wealth and forget that they shall be held accountable.
- 3) They will love the creator and forget the Creator.
- 4) They will love all that leads to sin and they will forget repentance.
- 5) They will love palatial mansions and they will forget the grave. (Makashafatul Quloob, p 34)

How Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها found a needle in a pitch - dark night

In Kanzul Ummal has been related a tradition from Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها according to which she said: 'Once I had borrowed a needle from Sayyidah Hafsa bint Rawaha رضى الله عنها. I used this needle to mend the clothes of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. Once during a pitch-dark night, I dropped the needle. I looked for it everywhere but could not find it. When the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم came home suddenly saw the needle shine in the radiance of his luminous countenance. I laughed and picked up the needle.'

Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها further said:

لَنَا شَمْسٌ وَ لِلْأَفَاقِ شَمْسٌ
و شَمْسِيْ أَفْضَلُ مِنْ شَمْسِ السَّمَاءِ

'We have got a sun, and the people of this world have got a sun, and my sun is far better than the sun in the sky.'

A scholar who does not act according to his knowledge shall not even smell the fragrance of Paradise

عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ
تَعَلَّمَ عِلْمًا مِمَّا يُبْتَغَى بِهِ وَجْهُ اللَّهِ لَا يَتَعَلَّمُهُ إِلَّا لِيُصِيبَ بِهِ عَرَضًا مِنَ الدُّنْيَا
لَمْ يَجِدْ عَرْفَ الْجَنَّةِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ يُعْنَى رِيحَهَا (رواه احمد وابوداؤد وابن ماجه)

On the authority of Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه who said: the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: whoever acquires such knowledge through which Allah's good will and pleasure is sought for worldly purposes shall not even smell the fragrance of Paradise on the Day of Judgment. (Musnad Ahmad, Abu Dawud, Ibn Majah)

عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَنْ تَعَلَّمَ الْعِلْمَ لغيرِ اللَّهِ وَأَرَادَ بِهِ غيرِ اللَّهِ فَلْيَتَّبِعْهُ مَقْعَدَهُ مِنَ النَّارِ (رواه الترمذی)

On the authority of Sayyidina Ibn Umar رضى الله عنهما who said: The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: whoever acquires religious knowledge for anyone else's sake than Allah's or who intends to please anyone else but Allah, then let him make his abode in the Fire. (Jami Tirmidhi)

Allah Most High sent down religious knowledge through the Prophets عليهم السلام, the last of whom was Sayyidina Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم, and the Holy Books, the last of which was the Holy Qur'an, so that mankind may find guidance therein and tread the paths leading to His good will and pleasure, His mercy and ultimately Paradise. Now if any one acquires such, sacred knowledge not to please Allah, but to follow his base desires, or to obtain any worldly end, then he has indeed committed a great wrong against the knowledge which Allah Most high conveyed to us though His beloved صلى الله عليه وسلم. Doing so is a very severe form of disobedience. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم apprised as though those Ahadith that a person who does so shall not even smell a whiff of the fragrance of Paradise, and that a painful punishment shall await him. -اللهم احفظنا-

عَنْ جُنْدُبٍ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ مَثَلُ الْعَالِمِ الَّذِي يُعَلِّمُ النَّاسَ الْحَيْرَ وَيَنْسِي نَفْسَهُ كَمَثَلِ السِّرَاحِ يُضِيءُ النَّاسَ وَيُخْرِقُ نَفْسَهُ -

On the authority of Sayyidina Jundub رضى الله عنه who said: The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: The similitude of a scholar who teaches mankind matters of goodness but forgets his own self is that of a lamp that gives light to mankind while it burns itself. (Tabarani Zia-ul-Muqaddasi)

عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ أَشَدُّ
النَّاسِ عَذَابًا يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ عَالِمٌ لَمْ يَنْفَعُهُ عِلْمُهُ۔

On the authority of Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه who said: The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: The scholar whose knowledge does not benefit him shall get the worst punishment of all mankind on the Day of Judgment. (Masnad Tayalisi, Sunan Saïd bin Mansoor, Al Kamil li Ibn Uday, Baihaqi: Shu'bul Iman)

Some sins are such that all mankind - no matter whether believer or infidel- considers them to be worthy of an extremely hard punishment, such as robbery, killing another without legal justification, rape, theft, paying and accepting bribes, maltreating widows orphans and other helpless human beings, oppression, etc. There are other sins which the majority of mankind does not consider to be sins, but which are a very grave affair in the Divine Court, even graver than the evils mentioned above. Infidelity and ascribing partners to Allah fall in this category of sins, as well as acquiring religious knowledge (which is after all the heritage of the prophets) for worldly purposes, or acquiring religious knowledge without putting it into practice, even living intentionally against one's knowledge. The first type of sin is such that one creature wrongs another creature. This is why even an infidel who lacks god-consciousness considers these evils to be great wrongs. The second type of sin however is such that the rights of Allah, His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم the Holy Shariah (divine law). And the related fields of knowledge are not desired as they not to be discharged. This too, is a great wrong, but only such people whose hearts abound with love for Allah, His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and the Holy Shariah (divine law) are in a position to perceive the gravity of this matter. In fact, acquiring religious knowledge not to please Allah but to obtain any worldly purposes and to lead a life in opposition to one's knowledge, is as grave a sin as infidelity, ascribing partners to Allah and hypocrisy. This is why the above -mentioned punishment shall (i.e. deprivation of the fragrance of Paradise and condemnation to hell) shall be metted out to those who commit this sin. May Allah grant the people of knowledge the strength to always keep in mind these sayings of our beloved Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم.

Allah Most High had created thousand different creatures

Sayyidina Jabir bin Abdullah رضى الله عنه narrated that once during the reign of Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه, locusts had almost vanished. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه kept asking the people whether they had seen any locusts, but when no one gave him a reply in the affirmative, he got very worried. He sent a messenger to Yemen, another to Syria and a third to Iraq so that they may enquire from the people about locusts. Finally the person whom Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه had sent to Yemen returned, and he had brought with him a handful of locusts which he placed in front of Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه. On seeing the locusts, Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه exclaimed thrice: 'Allahu Akbar!' Then he said: 'I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم says that Allah has created one thousand different kinds of creatures six hundred of which live in the sea and four hundred of which live on the land, and the first creature to vanish shall be the locusts, thereafter other creatures shall vanish, too, just like beads that fall off a broken string. (Mishkat p 47, Hayatus- Sahaba 3/82)

Villagers and their strange questions

Salim bin Amir رحمة الله عليه mentioned that the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم companions used to say: 'Allah Most High let us reap great benefit from the questions asked by village-people.'

- 1) Once a villager came to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, Allah Most High made mention of a tree in paradise which is a source of trouble for people!' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked: 'Which tree is it?' The villager said: 'It is the lote-tree.' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم then replied: 'Has Allah Most High not said in the Holy Qur'an:

فِي سِدْرٍ مَّخْضُودٍ

'In (gardens of) thorn less lote-trees' (Surah Waqiah, Ayat 28)

Allah Most High has removed the thorns of this tree and replaced them with fruits instead. Each fruit of this tree shall have seventy-two flavours, and each flavour shall be different from the other.'

- 2) Sayyidina Utbah bin Abd Sulaimi رضى الله عنه narrated: 'Once I was sitting with the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم when suddenly a villager came. He said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, I heard you make mention of a certain tree in Paradise, and I don't think that there is any tree that got more thorns than that tree, namely the tree.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Allah Most High replaced all its thorns with fruits as big as the testicles of a fattened ram. Each of those fruits shall have seventy flavours and each flavour shall be different from the other.'
- 3) Sayyidina Utbah bin Abd Sulaimi رضى الله عنه narrated that once a villager presented himself to the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم. He asked about al Kausar (the great cistern) and also made mention of paradise. Then the villager asked whether there will be fruits in Paradise. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Yes. They will grow on a tree which is known as 'Tuba.'

The narrator said that the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم mentioned another thing as well, but that he could not remember what it was.

The villager then asked: 'is there anything in our lands that resembles this tree?'

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'No he then asked the villager whether he had been to Syria, which however the villager denied. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'In Syria there is a tree which is known as walnut tree. (It resembles this tree.) It grows from a stem. Its branches spread all over.' The villager asked: 'How big is its crown?' 'If a black and white spotted crow keeps flying for a month without ever stopping, then it might reach from one side of the crown the other side,' answered the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. The villager asked: 'How big are its roots?' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم replied: 'If one of your family's young camels would start walking until it is old and until its bones break due to its excessive walking, then yet it could not even go once around the roots of this tree.'

- 4) The villager then asked whether there will be grapes in paradise. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said. 'Yes. The villager wanted to know: 'How big shall a single grape be?' Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked him in turn: 'has your father ever slaughtered a big ram?' Yes come the reply. He further asked: 'Did your father then skin the ram, did he give the hide to your mother and did he ask her to make a bucket from this hide?' - 'Yes' answered the villager. Allah's messenger said: 'A single grape shall be as big as such a bucket.' The villager said: 'If a single grape is that big, then it shall suffice to feed me and my family.' Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'it would suffice even your whole clan.' (Hayatus-Sahabu 3/66-67)
- 5) Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه narrated that once a villager came to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and asked: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, who shall reckon the creation on the Day of Judgment?' The noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Allah.' The villager exclaimed: 'By the Lord of the Ka'abah, then we shall be saved!' the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked: 'O villager, why do you say so?' He replied: 'If a generous being is in charge over someone, then he Pardons and forgives.' (Hayatus-Sahaba 3/41)

Better die before six things appear

The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'if six things appear, then it is better for you to die rather than to stay alive:

عَنْ عَبْدِ الْعَفَّارِ بْنِ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ يَقُولُ بَادِرُوا بِالْمَوْتِ سِتًّا (١) إِمْرَةٌ السُّفَهَاءِ (٢) وَكَثْرَةُ الشَّرْطِ (٣) وَبَيْعُ الْحُكْمِ (٤) وَاسْتِحْقَافًا بِالْدَمِ (٥) وَقَطِيعَةُ الرَّجِيمِ (٦) وَنَشَأُ يَتَّخِذُونَ الْقُرْآنَ مَزَامِيرَ يَقْدِمُونَهُ يُعَنِّيهِمْ وَإِنْ كَانَ أَقْلٌ مِنْهُمْ فَقَهَا-

Sayyidina Abis Ghaffari رضى الله عنه said: I heard the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم say: 'Better die before six things appear: 'Reign of the foolish, abundance of police, sale of judicial decisions, considering shedding of blood as a matter of not much consequence, severing of the ties of kinship, and a generation that takes the Qur'an as a source of entertainment, they put ahead (such people) who recite it as though it was a song, even though (such people) have got least understanding of religion. (Musnad Ahmad 3/494)

In this sacred Hadith the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم predicted six evils due to which the condition of this Ummah will grow from bad to worse. The state of society will deteriorate, the whole appearance of the Muslim community will change. 'At that time', the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, 'it will be better to die than stay alive.'

This saying of the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم means that there will be a time when unsuitable people who lack insight and understanding will have authority. It is better to be dead before one is governed by such people. In Tirmidhi Sharif is one tradition according to which the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Your rulers and leaders will be the vilest and worst from among you. Wealth would be with the avaricious among you. Your affairs will be decided after consultation with women. When this happens then your being buried in your graves will be better for you than your living on earth. (Tirmidhi Sharif 2/52)

During the days of the Noble Prophet ﷺ police was not as institutionalized as it is now.

Police was needed only to improve local living quality and to prevent injustice and oppression. But now things have changed. Rather than preventing injustice and oppression, the police itself is foremost in doing wrong. There seems to be no limit. No matter how many police -men are posted at roads, crossings and other places to guard traffic and vehicles, and to ensure security against theft and robbery, it is of no avail. This is mainly because the police self, rather than fulfilling its duty, troubles commuters, drivers and travelers, in order to receive as many bribe as possible. It is for everyone to see how many law enforcing agents are around. The Noble Prophet ﷺ said: 'when such vile and mean police is in abundance, then death becomes preferable to life.'

In one Hadith comes that the Noble Prophet ﷺ said: 'Two kind of people are yet to come:

- 1) Women who will be naked in spite of their being dressed. They will go around unveiled and made up. They will be bare -headed and their heads will seem to sway like a camel's hump. Such women will not even get to smell the fragrance of Paradise.
- 2) Such law-enforcing agents, PACs, who will have leashes like the tails of animals with which they beat the poor and the down-trodden. They too, will not attain Paradise. (Muslim Sharif 2/20, Mishkat , p 306)

The Noble Prophet ﷺ further said that there will be a time when judicial verdicts can be bought. Anyone who has got enough money to pay the bribes, will be able to buy a verdict in his favour. Not even the names of Justice and equitability will remain. Decisions will no longer be based on justice and truth, but on bribes. The judge will say" 'he will decide in favour of the one who brings the thicker bundle of notes.

Brothers! Once upon a time court - officials, clerks, etc. would discuss bribes in secret only, but now these matters are discussed openly, even on the judge's seat. This is why the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that death is better than being alive at such a time.

Brothers! Listen well! The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has cursed three kinds of people:

- 1) The one who accepts bribes.
- 2) The one who pays bribes.
- 3) The one who mediates between both parties.

Imam Ahmed recorded the following tradition from Sayyidina Thawban رضى الله عنه.

عَنْ ثَوْبَانَ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ قَالَ لَعَنَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ
الرَّاشِيَّ وَالْمُرْتَشِيَّ وَالرَّائِشَ الَّذِي يَمْشِي بَيْنَهُمَا

'The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم cursed the one who takes bribes, the one who pays bribes and the one who mediates between the twain.' (Musnad Ahmad 4/205)

The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم further said that there will be a time when killing and blood shed will no longer be considered a matter of consequence. People will be quick to draw their arms over petty matters. Within minutes they will shed each other's blood. No one will ask who is attacking whom, or whose life is being taken. As such a time of trial and tribulation death is definitely preferable to stay alive.

On the occasion of Hujjatul Wada (farewell pilgrimage) the Noble prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم stated again and again during his sermons: 'After me, do not smite each others neck, for this might bring to the edge of infidelity and apostasy.'

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that there will come a time when treating one's relatives will and strengthening the ties of kinship will become a thing of the past. People will consider it for themselves to keep away from their kith and kin. Others will keep away because their relatives trouble them rather than standing by them at the time of need, and others keeps away from their relatives so that they don't have to help them.

In another Hadith the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم is reported to have said that Allah is extremely wroth with three kinds of people They are the most detestable of mankind in the sight of Allah

- 1) One who associates partners with Allah.
- 2) One who does not treat his relatives well.
- 3) One who commands others to do evil and.

keeps them away from, deeds of righteousness in another Hadith Allah Most High conveyed glad tidings to one who takes to the following:

- 1) Being overwhelming by fear of Allah and adopting a life of picky and God-consciousness
- 2) Strengthening the ties of kinship and treating one's relatives well.

One who does so, shall get three glad tidings:

- 1) Allah shall grant him blessing in his life -time and increase his life-span.
- 2) Allah shall grant him ample provisions.
- 3) Allah shall protect him from an evil death.

عَنْ عَلِيِّ ابْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ
مَنْ سَرَّهُ أَنْ يُمَدَّلَهُ فِي عُمُرِهِ وَيُوسَّعَ لَهُ فِي رِزْقِهِ وَيُدْفَعَ عَنْهُ مَيْتَةُ السُّوءِ
فَلْيَتَّقِ اللَّهَ وَيُصِلْ رَحِمَهُ-

On the authority of Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه, from the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم who said: 'Let any one who desires that his life-span be increased, that his provisions be ample and that we'll be saved of an evil death, fear Allah and strengthen the ties of Kinship.' (Baihaqi Shub'ul Iman)

The Noble Prophet رضى الله عنه said that there will come a time when people will consider the Holy Qur'an some kind of musical entertainment, the means the one who recites Holy Qur'an will recite it as though it was a song, and people will gather to hear such recitation, as they gather to see a circus of sorts. None of those people will feel the urge to actually understand what they hear, not to talk about acting accordingly. Nowadays in almost every hotel, public place, shop, etc. Cassettes of reknown Qaris are being played at high volume so that the recitation is audible even in far off corners of the establishment and what are the people doing? Some smoke, some drink tea, some chat and some say 'Wah Wah'. Is this not an extreme form of disrespect, even blasphemy toward the Holy Qur'an? Can any true believer tolerate that? This is why the Noble Prophet رضي الله عنه said that when such a time comes, then death is better for you than life.

A boil on Sayyidina Adam's عليه السلام neck was cured by virtue of offering prayers

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Umar رضي الله عنهما narrated that once Sayyidina Adam عليه السلام had a boil on his neck. He offered the prayer and the boil moved down to his chest. Sayyidina Adam عليه السلام again offered prayers, and the boil moved down to his hip. Again he prayed and the boil moved to his ankle. When he prayed again, it moved to his big toe, and after offering one more prayer, the boil had completely disappeared. (Hayatus-Sahabah 3/107)

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood's رضي الله عنه statements regarding the prayer.

- 1) Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood رضي الله عنه said: 'As long as you are praying, you are actually knocking the door of the Almighty. And if someone knocks this door, then it shall surely be opened for him.
- 2) Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood رضي الله عنه said, 'Defer your need until after the Fardh prayers, i.e. after the Fardh prayer, ask Allah to fulfill your needs.
- 3) Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood رضي الله عنه said: as long as a person avoids major sins, all the (minor) sins he commits between two prayers shall be forgiven.

- 4) Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masood رضى الله عنه said 'prayers are an expiation for the (minor) sins committed afterwards.'
- 5) Once a boil appeared on Sayyidina Adam's عليه السلام big toe. Shortly afterward the boil moved up to his heel, then his knee, then his hip, then his shoulder and finally his neck. Thereafter Sayyidina Adam عليه السلام stood up to pray. The boil then moved down from his neck to his shoulders. He prayed again, and the boil moved from his shoulders to his hip. He prayed again, and the boil moved from his hip to his knee. He prayed again, and the boil moved from his knee to his foot. He prayed again, and the boil disappeared completely. (Hayal us-Sahaabah 3/107)

A woman's strange story

Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه narrated: once a woman came to me and asked me: 'Will my repentance ever be accepted? I committed adultery and got pregnant. Then I killed the child.' I said to her: 'No. (You have committed two major sins. Neither will your eyes ever be cooled, nor will you ever become honorable and respectable.' The woman then felt immense regret, got up and left. After that I offered the Fajr-prayer behind the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, and I told him about the conversation I had with that woman. He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'You gave her an evil reply. Did you never recite the Ayat:

وَالَّذِينَ لَا يَدْعُونَ مَعَ اللَّهِ إِلَهًا آخَرَ وَلَا يَقْتُلُونَ
النَّفْسَ الَّتِي حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ إِلَّا بِالْحَقِّ وَلَا يَزْنُونَ وَمَنْ
يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَلْقَ أَثَامًا ﴿١٨﴾ يُضْعَفُ لَهُ الْعَذَابُ يَوْمَ

الْقِيَمَةِ وَتَحْتَدُّ فِيهِ مُهَانًا ﴿٦٦﴾ إِلَّا مَنْ تَابَ وَآمَنَ
وَعَمِلَ عَمَلًا صَالِحًا فَأُولَئِكَ يُبَدِّلُ اللَّهُ سَيِّئَاتِهِمْ
حَسَنَاتٍ وَكَانَ اللَّهُ غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا ﴿٦٧﴾

'And those who call not unto any other god along with Allah, nor take the life which Allah has forbidden save in (course of) justice, nor commit adultery - and whoso does so shall pay the penalty. The doom will be doubled for him on the Day of Resurrection, and he will abide therein disdained forever. Save him who repents and believes and does righteous work. As for such, Allah will change their evil deeds to good deeds. Allah is ever-Forgiving, Merciful.' (Surah Furqan, verses 68-70)

I then recited these Ayat unto that woman. She said: All praise be to Allah who showed me a way out.'

Ibn Jareer recorded this tradition with a slight difference. According to his version, the woman left Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه in a state of extreme remorse she said: 'Alas! Has this beauty been created for hell?'

In this tradition further comes that after coming back from the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه searched all streets and quarters of Madinah for this woman, but in vain. In the following night however the woman herself came to Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه, and he told her what the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had said. She immediately prostrated and said: 'All praise be to Allah who showed me a way out, and told me how to make up for my sin.' The woman then set one of the slave-girls along with her daughter free and turned to Allah in true repentance. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 9/22)

Allah's dealing with one who calls 'Ya Hannan, Ya Mannan' While burning for thousand years in hell

The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: One person who has been sent to Hell shall call 'Ya Hannan, Ya Mannan' for thousand years. Allah shall then say to Sayyidina Jibrail عليه السلام, 'Go and see what he is saying.' Sayyidina Jibrail عليه السلام then will do as he had been told. He will see all the people of Hell in a plightful condition - with hanging heads moaning and crying. Sayyidina Jibrail عليه السلام will then return and tell Allah Most High what he had seen. Allah will say: 'Go again. At such and such place is a certain person. Bring him here.' Sayyidina Jibrail عليه السلام will do as he had been told and bring that person into the presence of the Almighty Allah most High will ask him: 'How is the place where you were staying?' he will say 'It is an evil place to stay and an evil place to sleep.'

Allah will then command: 'Bring him back to where he had come from!' That person will then fervently implore Allah. He will say: 'O my Most merciful of all those who show mercy. It does not behave your generous being to return me there once you have taken me out from there. O Lord, I hope for your mercy and your generosity! O Lord, bestow your bounty upon me! When you had me taken out from there I was happy for I thought that you'd never return me there.' On hearing this, the sovereign, the Benevolent, the Merciful will take pity on this and say: 'Well then, leave this servant of Mine!' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4/19)

How Allah Most High will treat the last person to leave hell.

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: I know the person who shall be the last one to leave hell and to enter paradise. He will be a sinful servant who will be presented to Allah. Allah will say: 'Leave aside his major sins and reckon his minor sins.' He will then be asked: 'Did you do such and such thing on such and such day? Did you do this? Did you do that?' That person will not be in a position to deny any of his misdeeds. He will admit everything. Then he will be told that he shall get a virtue in place of each sin. On hearing this, he will exclaim excitedly: 'O my Lord, I have committed many other sins which I did not find here!' When the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم narrated this, he had laughed so much that his gums could be were seen. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4/21 with reference to Muslim)

While a person is asleep, an angel erases ten sins in turn for each good deed.

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'While a person is asleep, his angel says to his Satan: 'Give me your record where his sins are written' When the angel is given the record, he erases ten sins in turn for each good deed done by the person, and writes virtues instead. So when any of you intends to sleep, then let him say 'Subhanallah' thirty-three times, 'Al Hamidu lillah' thirty-three times and 'Allah u Akbar' thirty-four times. This makes hundred altogether. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4/21 with reference to Ibn Abi Dunya)

On the Day of Judgment, the sins committed by the righteous shall be converted into virtues

Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه narrated that each human being shall be given his record of deeds on the Day of Judgement. When he starts reading it, he will find a list of the sins he had committed, and he will become kind of dejected. A bit lower he will find a list of his good deeds, and he will become hopeful again. When he looks once more at the top of his record, he will find that his sins have been converted into virtues, too.

Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه said that many people who are burdened with sins will come into Divine presence. Someone asked: 'Who are those people?' Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه, replied: 'They are those whose sins shall be converted into virtues.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4/21)

An excellent prescription for protection against every evil

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Khubaib رضى الله عنه related: 'Once in a rainy, pitch dark night, we were looking for Allah's messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. When we finally found him, he said: 'Recite Surah Ikhlas, Surah Falaq and Surah Nas three times mornings and evenings. This shall suffice you against everything.' (Mishkat Shareef, p 188)

This recital offers sufficient protection against each and every evil, i.e. Satan, one's own self, Jinn, evil spirits, magic, foes, those who envy their evil intentions and their evil glances. This recital is an excellent means of protection; anyone who is regular in this recital will not require any further recitals.

An excellent prescription to relieve worry and distress.

حَسْبِيَ اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ عَلَيْهِ تَوَكَّلْتُ وَهُوَ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ

'Allah suffices me. There is no god but Him. In this I put my trust and he is Lord of the Mighty Throne.' (Surah Taubah, Ayat 129)

In Abu Dawood comes that if anyone recites this Ayat seven times mornings and evenings. Then Allah shall suffice him against all worries and distress, in this world as well as in the Hereafter. Allamah Aloosi رحمه الله عليه stated that he himself recites this Ayat regularly. (Ruh ul Ma'ani)

An incident between Sayyidina Muaz رضي الله عنه and his wife

Said bin Muasayyib رحمه الله عليه narrated that Sayyidina Umar bin Al Khattab رضي الله عنه had sent Sayyidina Muaz رضي الله عنه to Banu Kilab to collect them obligatory charity. He went there collected the dues and distributed them then and there without leaving anything for himself. When he returned home, he had a piece of canvas which he had taken along around his neck. His wife said to him: 'Where is the gift which the collector of dues brought for his family?' Sayyidina Muaz رضي الله عنه said: 'I was under constant surveillance, hence I could not bring any gift His wife said: 'You were a trustee of the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and Abu Bakr رضى الله عنه. Umar رضى الله عنه however sent someone with you to watch over you. Does he not consider you as trustworthy?' His wife then told the womenfolk of her clan about this matter, and she also complained to Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه then called for Sayyidina Muaz رضى الله عنه and asked him: 'Did I send someone along with you to keep an eye on you?' Sayyidina Muaz رضى الله عنه said: 'Well, I had no other excuse to pacify my wife. This reply made Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه laugh. He gave something to Sayyidina Muaz رضى الله عنه and said to him: 'Give this to her to make her happy!'

Ibn Jarir said: 'When Sayyidina Muaz رضى الله عنه said that he was under constant Surveillance, he actually meant that Allah Most High was watching over him.' (Hayatus-Sahabah 3/42)

Husband and wife may lie to each other if this is likely to increase their love for each other

Ikrimah رحمة الله عليه related that once Sayyidina Ibn Rawaha رضى الله عنه was lying next to his wife. His slave-girl was sleeping in a corner of the house. He got up and went to her. Within no time, his wife awake startled. When she saw that the bed was empty, she went around to look for her husband, whom she found with the slave-girl. She went back inside to fetch a knife. When she came out again, he had already got up from there as he had fulfilled his desire. When he came across his wife and saw her carrying a knife, he asked her: 'What happened?' She said: 'You are asking me what happened? If I had found you where I had seen you, then I would have rammed this knife between your shoulder blades!' Sayyidina Ibn Rawaha رضى الله عنه asked: 'Where did you see me?' - 'With the slave-girl', came the reply. He said: 'You did not see me there. (I had not gone there. I didn't do any thing with her. If I had been with her, then I would be defiled and not in a position to recite the Holy Qur'an). Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم forbade us to recite the Holy Qur'an in a state of defilement - (Where as I can recite it in front of you right know.) She said: 'Well then. Recite!' Upon this Sayyidina Ibn Rawaha رضى الله عنه recited the following verses.

أَتَانَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ يَتْلُو كِتَابَهُ
كَمَا لَأَمْشُهُورٌ مِنَ الْقَجْرِ سَاطِعٌ

'Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم came to us, reciting His Book, (a book) like the bright shining morning.'

أَتَى بِالْهُدَى بَعْدَ الْعَمَى فَقُلُوبُنَا
بِهِ مُوقِنَاتٍ أَرَبٌ مَا قَالَ وَاقِعٌ

'He brought us guidance after blindness, and our hearts are fully convinced that whatever he says will come true.'

يَبِيتُ يُجَافِي جَنْبَهُ عَنْ فِرَاشِهِ
إِذَا اسْتَقْفَلَتْ بِالْمُشْرِكِينَ الْمَضَاجِعُ

'He spends the whole night in worship while the pagans sleep soundly in their beds'

When he had recited these verses, his wife said to him: 'I believe in Allah, and I declare that I was wrong regarding what I thought I had seen.' In the morning when Sayyidina Ibn Rawah رضى الله عنه told Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم about this incident, He صلى الله عليه وسلم laughed so much that his teeth became visible.

It is a devilish act to hook the fingers of one hand into the fingers of the other hand while one is in the mosque.

One of Sayyidina Abu said Khudri's رضى الله عنه slaves said: once I was with (my master) Sayyidina Abu Said Khudri رضى الله عنه, who was going with the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم somewhere. We entered a mosque where we saw a man who had tied a piece of cloth around his back and legs, and who had hooked the fingers of one hand into the fingers of the other hand. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gestured toward the man not to hook his fingers like that, but the man did not understand what he meant. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم then turned toward Sayyidina

Abu Said Khudri رضى الله عنه and said: 'When any of you is in the mosque, then he should never hook his fingers like that, for this is a devilish act. And if any of you is in the mosque, then it is as though he is engaged in offering prayers until he leaves the mosque.' (Hayatus- Sahaba 3/133)

An admonitory incident about a great scholar who went astray.

وَأْتَلْ عَلَيْهِمْ نَبَأَ الَّذِي ءَاتَيْنَاهُ ءَايَاتِنَا فَأَنْسَلَخَ مِنْهَا
فَاتَّبَعَهُ الشَّيْطَانُ فَكَانَ مِنَ الْغَاوِينَ ﴿٧٥﴾

'And tell them the story of him whom we had given Our signs, but he sloughed them off, so Satan overtook him and he became of those who lead astray' (Sarih A'raf Ayat 175)

Since the above Ayat has not mentioned the name of the person whose story is to be told, there is some difference among the exegetes from among the companions and the taba'in as to who this person was. There are several traditions regarding this. The most reliable and well-known tradition is that by Sayyidina Abdullah bin Abbas رضى الله عنهما which has been recorded by Ibn Marduwyah رحمه الله عليه; according to this tradition Sayyidina Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه is reported to have said: 'that person's name was Bal'am ba'oor. He was a great scholar from among the children of Israel. His knowledge was profound, and he had perfect cognition of Allah. He was a devout worshipper whose invocations were readily accepted. He knew the greatest name of Allah (Ism-e-Azam). But when his base desires and inclination towards this world over powered him, when he began to follow his own whims and fancies, all his knowledge and cognition were taken from him. His ascent to the realm; of spirituality and guidance gave way to manifest error, and he was deprived of whatever rank he had in the sight of Allah.

In those Ayaat, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was ordered to relate this admonitory incident unto his people, so that they may understand, take heed, and become believers.

Bal'am ba'oor's story

After Fir'awn (pharaoh) and his troops had been drowned and the conquest of Egypt Allah Most High ordered Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام and the children of Israel to fight against a tyrant people. Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام went along with his troops towards Cana'an, Where they encamped, intending to launch an attack on a city called 'Balqa'a'.

When the tyrants saw that Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام and his troops are about to attack them, and since they knew what had happened to Fir'awn (pharaoh) and his people, and that they could never take up a fight against Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام, they gathered all their chiefs and other honoraries and went to Bal'am Ba'oor. They said to him: 'Musa عليه السلام is man of Quick temper. He is very powerful and influential. He has come along with huge army in order to attack us and expel us from our land. We beseech you to pray for us that he will leave without fighting against us.' Bal'am Ba'oor replied:

دِينُهُ وَدِينِي وَاحِدٌ وَهَذَا شَيْءٌ لَا يَكُونُ

'His religion and my religion are the same. This thing cannot happen.'

How could I invoke Allah against him? I know that he is Allah's Prophet. Allah is there to help him, and so are the angels and the believers. If I would invoke Allah against him, then I would be ruined in this world as well as in the next. Disgrace in both worlds would be my lot. When the people kept insisting, Bal'am Ba'oor said: 'Well, I'll pray, to Allah to let me know whether or not I may curse him.' He then had a vision that he must not under any circumstances invoke against Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام and his army. Bal'am Ba'oor then told the people that he has been prohibited to fulfill their request.

In some traditions has been mentioned that the ruler of Balqa'a threatened to send Bal'am to the gallows if he will not curse Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام, whereas others have mentioned that the people had bribed his wife with expensive gifts to convince her husband. Bal'am's love for his wife was sheer unlimited and he gave in to her coaxing. The ruler's threat, the crying of his people and his wife's insistence were too much for him. His love for his wife and his desire to become rich made him blind to the truth. He mounted his mule and rode off to a place called 'Hasban' Where the Muslim soldiers had encamped - in order to curse them. While on his way his donkey stumbled and fell down. When he tried to make the animal get up, it suddenly spoke to him by the leave of Allah" 'Woe to you, O Bal'am, woe to you! You neither see nor understand. There are angels in front of me who will not let me go further. They repel me with all their might.' Hearing this sent a tremble down Bal'am's spine, but Satan kept instigating him. He moved onward and began to curse the believers.

Right then something strange happened: All the curses Bal'am wanted to use for Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام and his people, were twisted in his mouth, and instead of cursing the believers, he cursed his own people. And what ever gainful invocation he had intended for his people, was twisted in his mouth, and instead of praying for his people, he ended up praying for the believers.

When his people saw this, they raised a hue and cry: 'O Bal'am! What are you doing? You are cursing us!' Bal'am replied: 'I have no control over my tongue. Whatever I am doing is not the result of my own free will, a higher force makes me do this.' As a result of his deed his tongue grew so long that it hung down unto his chest, and his people were doomed to utter ruin.

On realizing that he had ruined his worldly life as well as his Hereafter, Bal'am went to his people and said: 'Let me tell you a trick. It might well be that if you do what I tell you, you will overcome Musa عليه السلام and his people, he then told his people the trick through which they might deceive Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام and his army.

The trick which Bal'am had devised

Bal'am said to his people: 'Select the most beautiful and charming girls from among your daughters, then disguise them as merchants. Tell the girls not to mind it when the soldiers flirt with them or touch them. Tell them to let the soldiers do whatever they please.' Bal'am knew quite well that Sayyidina Musa's عليه السلام soldiers had been separated from their wives and children since quite some time. They were travelers far away from home, so it was quite conceivable that they'd commit any act of indecency. He also knew that when a people gets involved in adultery and fornication, they will not succeed in attaining their objective. The girls were made up and sent off accordingly. Bal'am's trick turned out to be successful to a certain degree, for indeed, one of the soldiers committed adultery with one of the girl. Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام had tried hard to stop him, but in vain. As a result of this misdeed an epidemic spread in the camp, and seventy thousand of Sayyidina Musa's عليه السلام men died within one day. Thereafter the adulterers and the adulteress were put to death and their dead bodies were hung up so that everyone could see them. Only then the epidemic came to an end.

Bal'am's likeliness

Every human being - nay, rather every living organism - must exhale its hot, polluted poisonous breath and inhale fresh, clean air in order to stay alive. Life itself depends on the act of breathing, and Allah has made it easy for every living creature to breathe. Is it not amazing how effortlessly one is able to breathe in and out? It comes all naturally, almost automatically, without any conscious effort involved.

The dog however is a creature that -due to its faintheartedness- pants and lolls out its tongue while breathing, as the act of breathing requires quite some effort on his part. This is under certain circumstances - also true for other animals, but in them this state is transitional only.

In this Ayaat Allah Most High has likened Bal'am to a dog who lolls out his tongue, if someone teases him and who lolls out his tongue even when left alone. Bal'am's condition is not different. Due to his going against the Divine commandments and following his own base desires, his tongue grew so long that it hung down unto his chest, and he had to spend the rest of his life panting and lolling his tongue just like a dog does.

The exegesists of the Holy Qura'an wrote that although this 'Ayat refers to this person in particular, yet it is applicable to all such persons whom Allah has granted knowledge and cognition, in spite of which he swerves, maddened by his lust for the world and the urge to fulfill his base desires. This incident contains many lesson for people of insight and understanding. Some of these lessons are mentioned below:

- 1) A person should not feel proud of his knowledge, devoutness and piety. He rather ought to be grateful to Allah and pray to Him for steadfastness, and one should fear Allah lest feelings of pride cause one to suffer a fate similar to that of Bal'am.
- 2) Bal'am was punished this way because he had accepted the gifts of a misguided, rebellious people. Extreme caution is hence required as far as relations with such oppressive deluded people is concerned. This includes also accepting their gifts and invitations.
- 3) In this worldly life, virtue and vice affect also others. At times thousands of afflictions, misfortunes and trials are averted only because of some paupers who fervently remember Allah. It is through the blessings of such humble bondmen that Allah sends down countless of His boons and favours instead. And at times it happens that the inauspiciousness of sins committed by few envelopes the whole society, and that whole cities are wiped out, destroyed and annihilated due to those sins. Seventy thousand men from among Bani Israil died because one of their men had committed an act of indecency, so any people that wishes to safe itself from ruin should keep away from obscenity and other vices. If adultery and fornication spread among a nation, then this nation truly deserves Divine anger and wrath. Such nations are then made to suffer poverty, and famine. Sayyidina Ibn Abbas صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

إِذَا ظَهَرَ الزِّنَا وَالرِّبَا فِي قَرْيَةٍ فَقَدْ أَحَلُّوا بِأَنْفُسِهِمْ عَذَابَ اللَّهِ

‘When adultery and interest-based dealings become apparent in a township, then the people there have made (Divine) punishment lawful unto themselves.’
(Targhib wa tarhib)

The honorable exegesis have deduced many other invaluable lessons for us from the above incident. May Allah gives us strength to take heed. Amin.

Ruling: It is laudable to relate and listen to true stories as a means of character-building. Relating true stories in order to obtain any worldly benefit is permissible. Doing so only for the sake of entertainment and as a pastime however is forbidden, as this constitutes as waste of time. (Tafsir Razi, Tafsir Ibn Kathir and others)

Wasting time is a kind of suicide

Wasting time is indeed a kind of suicide, the difference is only that a person who actually commits suicide deprives himself of life for good, whereas a person who wastes his time deprives himself of a part of his life - it is as though he had been dead during those minutes, hours, or days which he had spent in oblivion and futility. If a person was to add up all those moments which he had wasted, then this would amount to months, if not years. If such a person was told that his life-span will be reduced by five or ten years, then this would really be a shock for him. But such a person never worries about the time which he spends sitting around, doing nothing. He feels no regret for the time he has wasted.

One more disadvantage of wasting one's time is that a person who has got nothing purposeful to do is likely to develop all kinds of physical and spiritual ailments. Avarice, greed, oppression, injustice, gambling, adultery, fornication, intoxication and similar vices are usually committed by such idle people. If a person does not-keep himself engaged in any fruitful, beneficial activity, he will incline towards acts of disobedience and evil. Man can become a human being in the true sense only then if he makes the best use of his time, not allowing a single moment to go waste. One should fix a time for each and every of one's daily activities.

Time is like raw material which one can use to make anything one likes. Time is a capital which Allah has bestowed upon all of His servants alike. Those who use this capital in an appropriate manner, spend their life in physical comfort and spiritual delight. Proper utilization of time turns a barbarian into a civilized person: through the blessings of this act an ignorant person can become a scholar, a pauper a wealthy man, a fool a wise person, etc.

Time is that wealth which kings and beggars, the rich and the poor, the strong and the weak, all get alike. Anyone who appreciates this wealth attains honour while those who do not value it shall be disgraced.

If one thinks over the matter, then one comes to realize that ninety percent of people do not know with what and where they spend their time. Anyone who sits around idle with his hands in his pockets, will soon put his hands in others' pockets as well. The only way to become successful is not to pass as single moment idle. There should be no such thing as laziness, for laziness consumes one's veins just like rust consumes iron. Sitting idle is like being buried alive.

A Muslim whose goodness is attested by two men shall go to Paradise

In Musnad Ahmad comes that Abul Aswad رحمه الله عليه said: I came to Al Madinah where an epidemic was raging. People were dying in great numbers. I was sitting with Sayyidina Umar bin Al Khattab رضى الله عنه when people brought a bier and began to speak well of the deceased. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه said: 'It has become inevitable for him.' Right then the people brought another bier and began to speak ill of the deceased. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه said: 'it has become inevitable for him.' I said: 'O commander of the faithful, what has become inevitable?' he replied: 'I merely said what the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم had said: A Muslim whose goodness is attested by four people shall go to paradise. We asked: O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, What if it is attested by only three persons? - Even then, He said. We asked: 'And two?' - Even then, He said. We then did not ask him what would happen if only as single person would attest his goodness.' Ibn Marduwyah has mentioned a Hadith to the following effect: Soon there will come a time where you can recognize the virtuous from the wicked. The people asked: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, how will we do that?' he صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Through your own attestation of virtue and vice. You are Allah's witnesses on earth.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1/220)

Allah is more kind to His servants than a mother to her child.

In an authentic Hadith comes that once the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم saw among the captives a woman who had lost her child, she ran around frantically, looking for her child everywhere. Whenever she came across any child, she would take it and hug it, until she finally found her own child. She picked it up, hugged it, kissed it, fondled it and gave it a draught of milk. On seeing this, the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said to his companions: 'what do you think, would-this woman ever cast her child into the fire?' The people said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, she would never do so!' He صلى الله عليه وسلم then said: 'By Allah, Allah is far more kind and merciful towards His servants than this woman is toward her child.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1/22)

Eat what is lawful, Allah shall accept your prayers.

يَأْتِيهَا النَّاسُ كُلُوا مِمَّا فِي الْأَرْضِ حَلَالًا طَيِّبًا وَلَا

تَتَّبِعُوا خُطُوَاتِ الشَّيْطَانِ إِنَّهُ لَكُمْ عَدُوٌّ مُبِينٌ ﴿١٦٨﴾

'O mankind, eat from the lawful, pure things on earth and do not follow the footsteps of Satan. Lo! He is your open enemy.' (Surah Baqarah, verse 168)

In Sahih Muslim has been mentioned that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: The Lord of the worlds says: I have made the wealth which I granted My servants lawful unto them. I created My servants with an inclination to worship Me alone, but Satan made them Swerve from the true religion and made the lawful things unlawful.

When the above Ayat was being recited unto the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, Sayyidina Saad bin Abi Waqqas رضى الله عنه got up and Said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, please pray unto Allah that Allah accepts my prayers.' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'O Saad, keep eating from what is lawful and pure. Allah shall accept your prayers. By Him in whose hands is Muhammad's life, an unlawful morsel that finds its way into man's stomach makes forty days of worship unacceptable, and flesh which is grown from unlawful sustenance is destined to hell.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir, 1/235)

Keep fearing Allah with regard to women

In Sahih Muslim is a tradition according to which Sayyidina Jabir bin Abdullah رضى الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said during one of the sermons he delivered on the occasion of Hujjatul Widah (farewell pilgrimage): 'People! Fear Allah with regard to women! You took them by Allah's leave, and their shame became lawful unto you through Allah's decree. The right which you have over your women is that they do not allow any such person to enter your dwelling whom you disapprove. And if they still do so, then beat them but not hard so as to leave any trace. And their right over you is that you give them food, drink and clothing according to your ability. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir)

A man should adorn himself in order to please his wife

وَهُنَّ مِثْلُ الَّذِي عَلَيْهِنَّ بِالْمَعْرُوفِ

'And they (i.e. women) have got rights similar to those of men, in Kindness.' (Surah Baqarah, Ayat 228)

One person asked the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم: 'What rights have women got over men?' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'When you eat yourself, then give her to eat, too. When you clothe yourself, then clothe her, too. Don't slap her on her face

Don't abuse her, don't abandon her, nor send her away, but keep her in your home.' On reciting this verse, Sayyidina Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه remarked: 'I like to adorn myself for my wife in order to please her, just like she adorns herself in order to please me. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1/313)

Men stand a degree above women

وَالرِّجَالُ عَلَيْهِنَّ دَرَجَةٌ ۗ وَاللَّهُ عَزِيزٌ حَكِيمٌ

'And men are a degree above them (i.e. women), and Allah is Mighty, Wise.' (Surah Baqarah, Ayat 228)

This was then further elucidated as follows, that men are a degree above women with regard to their physical strength, their moral outlook, their authoritative skills, their covering the expenses of their dependants, their role as in-charge of their families - in short regarding every aspect of life, whether it pertains to this world or the hereafter. The Ayat is concluded with the statement that Allah is Mighty so as to reprise those who disobey Him, and His commands are full of wisdom. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1/313)

The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was very Kind hearted

Sayyidina Anas رضى الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was very kindhearted. Whenever a person came to him (asking him for something, and he had nothing with him), then He would give him a promise (namely that as soon as He had something to give, He would do so), and if He had something to give, then He would give it then and there. Once after the Iqamah had been called, a villager came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, grabbed Him by his clothes and said: 'I still have a need to be fulfilled, and I am afraid that I might forget it.' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ then got up and went with him. After he had fulfilled the man's need, he came back and led the prayer. (Hayatus - Sahaba 3/150)

Four Rakat of Sunnah before the Zuhr prayer are rewarded like the Tahajjud prayer

Abdur Rahman bin Abdullah رحمه الله narrated: I once presented myself to Sayyidina Umar bin Al Khattab رضى الله عنه who was offering some prayer before the Zuhr prayer. I asked him: 'Which prayer were you offering?' he said: 'This prayer can be likened to the Tahajjud prayer.'

Aswad, Murrah and Masrooq رحمه الله said: Sayyidina Abdullah رضى الله عنه stated: Among all the prayers offered during day-time, only the four Rakat which are offered before the Zuhr Prayer can be likened to the Tahajjud prayer, and the Superiority of this prayer over other prayers offered during daytime, is like that of a prayer offered with congregation over a prayer offered without congregation. (Hayat-us-Sahabah 3/164)

The story of a youth whose body smelled like musk and amberg's

Allamah As'ad bin Abdullah Yafa'i رحمه الله is the author of Al-

Targheeb wat-Tarheeb, a renowned work on the subject of Tasawwuf. In this book he mentioned the story of a young man whose body always smelled of musk and amber's. Once someone asked that young man: 'How come you always smell of musk and amber's? You must be spending a fortune on perfumes!' The young man said: 'Neither did I ever purchase any perfume, nor did I ever use any.' - 'Then where does this fragrance come from?' asked the other person. The young man replied: 'It is a secret which should not be disclosed.' The questioner insisted: 'Please, do tell us! It may be of benefit for us.' Upon this, the young man began to narrate his story. He said: My father was a merchant who used to sell every day commodities. I used to sit with him in his shop. Once an old woman came and purchased some goods. She said to my father: please have your son accompany me so that I can settle my dues through him. I then went with the old woman. After a while we reached a beautiful house. I was ushered into a beautiful room, where a beautiful girl was reclining on a bed. As soon as she saw me, she tried to seduce me, for I myself was extraordinarily handsome. However I refused to fulfill her desire. She took hold of my hand and pulled me towards her. Allah Most High then cast an inspiration into my heart. I said to the girl: 'Listen, I have to relieve myself!' She immediately ordered her servants to clean the bathroom for me. I went to bathroom, relieved myself and rubbed my body with faeces. Then I came out. when the girl saw me in that condition, she started yelling: 'Throw him out! He is a madman.'

I had a Dirham with me from which I purchased some soap. Then I went to the river, took a bath and washed my clothes. I dressed and went back. I had never told anyone about this. When I went to sleep that night, I saw in my dream an angel. That angel said to me: 'Allah Most High gives you glad tidings of paradise, and as a reward for the trick you used to save yourself from disobedience, this fragrance is being presented to you.' Since then my body and my clothes smell of musk and amber's - a scent which people perceive even now. And praise be to Allah, the Lord of the Worlds.

Make a record of Your sins, then repent

Allamah Yafa'i رحمه الله عليه recorded another incident in his work At- Targheeb wat- Tarheeb. He wrote that there was an extremely sinful youth. However this youth - whenever he committed a sin-would make it a point to write his sin into a note book.

In the city where he lived there was a very poor woman whose children were starving since three days. Seeing her children in such distress was too much for her to bear. She went to her neighbor and borrowed a silken dress from her. She then wore that dress and went out. When the young man saw her, he called her to himself. He had hardly mentioned his desire, when the woman burst into tears. She said: 'I am not a prostitute. My despair for my children drove me out. When you called me, I thought I'd have reason to expect good from you.' The young man had some Dirhams with him. He gave them to the woman and let her go. Then he began to cry himself and told his mother the whole story. His mother always had tried to keep him away from acts of disobedience. When she heard what had happened, she became very happy. She said: 'My son! This is the only good deed you had done in your life. You should write it into your note book as well.' The young man said: 'Well, there is no space left in my note-book.' She said: 'then write it at the margin.' The young man did accordingly. Thereafter he went to sleep, feeling remorseful for all his misdoings. When he woke up, he saw that his note-book was blank. Whatever sins he had recorded therein were erased: All pages were blank, except for the small entry he had made at the margin, and on the top of the page was written:

'Indeed, good deeds erase evil deeds.' (Surah Hud, Ayat 114)

The young man then repented for good and spent the rest of his life doing good.

One should treat one's companions well

Whenever the Messenger of Allah ﷺ dispatched an army, he'd instruct the leader to be kind to those under his command, not to put them into hardship, to encourage them and cheer them up. Similarly, when he appointed someone as governor over a people, he would tell him to treat the people fair and just, to sympathise with them, to be kind to them, not to put them into hardship, to give them glad tidings regarding this world and the next, to make them incline toward the hereafter, not to spread hatred among them, to bring about concord and unity among them, and not to spread discord. This can be concluded from the Hadith cited below:

Abu Buradah bin Abi Musa narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said the following to Sayyidina Muaz bin Jabal and Sayyidina Abu Musa Ash'ari رضي الله عنهما before sending them to Yemen:

Treat others with kindness and ease, do not put people into hardship. Keep giving them glad tidings regarding this world and the next, and do not spread hatred among them so as to make them want to flee. Treat each other with love and affection, and do not do anything to sow the seeds of discord. (Bukhari Sharif 1/426, Hadith nr 2942)

Note: Imam Ghazali رحمه الله عليه wrote that one should speak gentle and softly, because one's tone has often a greater effect than one's words. Sayyidina Umar رضي الله عنه said: 'No matter how insignificant something unlawful might seem to be, it will always outweigh something lawful. In Sahih Muslim comes that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'O Allah, if anyone has been put incharge over my Ummah and makes things difficult for them, then deal with him strictly, too,. And if he makes things easy for them, then make things easy for him, too. (Seerat-e-Aisha, p 122)

Sayyidina Uqbah bin Amir's رضي الله عنه last three advices

When Sayyidina Uqbah bin Amir was about to breathe his last, he said: 'My sons, I enjoin you three things, make sure that you'll remember them well:

Do not accept a Hadith of the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, but from a reliable, trust worthy person.

Do not get into the habit of taking loans, even if you have to wear an old cloak.

Do not occupy yourself with composing poetry lest your heart gets so occupied with that as to become neglectful of the Holy Qur'an. (Hayatus- Sahabah 3/231)

Sayyidina Zulkifl's strange story

Mujahid رحمه الله عليه wrote that he was a pious, saintly person, who had a covenant with the Prophet of that era, fulfilled that covenant, and established justice and equitability among the people.

It has been related that when Sayyidina Yasa'a عليه السلام had grown very old, he decided to appoint a successor during his life-time, to see what he does. He assembled the people and said: 'The one who accepts three things shall be my successor - one, to keep the fast throughout the day. Two, to pray throughout the night. Three, never to get angry. No one got up, except for one man whom the people always thought to be insignificant. That person said: 'I will fulfill your conditions.' Sayyidina Yasa'a عليه السلام said: 'Will you fast throughout the day, pray throughout the night and never get angry?' he said: 'Yes' - 'well then' said Sayyidina Yasa'a عليه السلام, let us see until tomorrow.' On the next day he again assembled the people and said what he had said the day before. Again no one got up except for that one man. Sayyidina Yasa'a عليه السلام said: 'Well then, from tomorrow on you shall act as my successor.'

Right then Satan summoned his troops, briefed them about the event and sent them off with instructions to misguide him that person. None of the devils however succeeded. Satan then decided to go himself. At noon-time when the newly appointed successor laid down to have some rest, Satan came and knocked at his door. He got up and asked. 'who is there?' Satan said: 'A victim of oppression yearning for justice. My people do me great wrong - they did this to me, they did that to me And he began to tell a long winding story. He kept talking so long that there was no time left to sleep. Zul Kifl used to rest only a short while during the night. He said: 'Well, come again in the evening, so that I may do justice.' In the evening he sat in the court to give verdicts. He looked around, but the person who came at noon-time was not there. After a while he got up to search him, but without success.

Also in the next morning the petitioner did not come. At noon when Zul kifl was about to lie down, Satan came again and knocked the door. He got the door opened and said to the arrival: 'I had asked you to come in the evening. I kept waiting, but you did not come.' He said: 'Sir, I was just on my way to meet you, when my people interrupted me. They told me not to go, and they promised me to give me what is due to me. So I stopped. Then again they refused to give me my right, and they did this to me, and that to me' And just like the day before, he told a long-winding story that consumed all the time during which Sayyidina Zul Kifl could have slept. In the evening he kept waiting for the petitioner, but in vain.

On the third day he instructed a man to stand at the door and not to let anyone get near to it, since he was too tired to keep himself upright. He had hardly lied down when the accursed Satan came again. The door-keeper tried to keep him back, but Satan sneaked in through a crack in the wall and started to knock the door from inside. Zul Kifl got up and said to the door-keeper: 'Had I not told you not to let anyone come near the door?' The door -Keeper said: 'No one has entered from here.' And indeed, when Zul Kifl looked at the door, he found it locked. Then he realized that he was being tried by Satan. Right then Satan said: 'O Friend of Allah, I lost-against you. You neither gave up vigil at night nor did you get angry with the door-keeper.'

From then on Allah Most High granted him the title Zul Kifl, for he fulfilled the conditions which he had promised to fulfill.

(Tafsir Ibn Kathir 3/392)

How the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم defeated the wrestler Rukanah

There was a famous Arab wrestler whose name was Rukanah. He was extraordinarily strong; It was even believed that he could fight thousand men at a time. He was so strong that if he sat down on the skin of a freshly slaughtered camel, and a whole bunch of young Arab men would try to pull that skin, then the skin would tear, but the spot where Rukanah sat would not be moved.

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم called him to Islam saying: 'Rukanah, the Hereafter, is bound to come. Why are you wasting your life? Accept Islam and turn to Allah!' Rukanah said: 'Muhammad! I am not a scholar, nor do I know much about religion. I am a wrestler. Have a bout with me. If you defeat me I shall accept Islam.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Bismillah.' Rukanah tied his loin-cloth, while the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم rolled up his sleeves and they entered the ring. With in no time, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم put his hand around Rukanah's waist and lifted him up just like one would lift a bird. Then he gently put him down, sat down on his chest and said: 'Rukanah! Say it!' Rukanah however was unwilling to believe that he has been defeated, since he had never been defeated before. He also could not comprehend how the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had lifted his body with such ease. He said, 'I can't believe that you have defeated me. Fight again.'

The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Bismillah.' Within no time, the Blessed Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم put his hand around Rukanah's waist and lifted him up- as he had done before, and then he gently put him down. He said: 'You said if I defeat you, you will accept Islam. Well, the condition has been fulfilled.' Rukanah replied: 'Muhammad! This cannot be possible that you lifted my body with your own physical strength. There seems to be some mysterious force within you.' Allah's messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'I invite you to the force that you found within me-and not to my own strength.' On hearing that Rukanah accepted Islam. He became a devout believer and accomplished many a great feat.

Once some thieves had stolen a great number of camels from the Baitul Maal (Treasury). In the morning when the theft was discovered, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'People, hunt down those thieves!' Rukanah said: 'I alone am enough.' The thieves had left already at night. They had fled as fast as they could and they had covered a considerable distance. Rukanah however caught them during their flight. He brought them as well as the stolen camels and other goods back to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم who gave the thieves their due punishment.

Sometimes truth dawns upon a person's heart. If such a person got no prejudice, and if he is indeed inclined to find the truth, then he shall surely find it.

The astonishing virtues of بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم

Ibn Marduwyah mentioned that the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'An Ayat has been revealed to me the like of which had been revealed to no other Prophet before me, except Sayyidina Sulaiman عليه السلام, and that Ayat is:

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Sayyidina Jabir bin Abdullah رضى الله عنه narrated: 'When this Ayat was revealed, then

- 1) The clouds in the east were cleared away.
- 2) The winds stopped blowing.
- 3) The sea became completely calm.
- 4) The animals listened with rapt attention.
- 5) Balls of fire were cast at the devils.
- 6) And Allah the Lord of the Worlds said: 'By My Majesty and Honour, if my name is thus recited over any thing, then it shall surely be blessed.

Sayyidina Ibn Mas'ood رضى الله عنه said: 'anyone who wants to save himself from the 19 doorkeepers of Hell, then he should say:

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

for there are 19 letters in it, and each letter is a protection against one of those door-keepers. This has also been mentioned by Ibn Atia; and it has been further corroborated by a Hadith, namely 'I saw more than thirty angels who were in a hurry to get somewhere.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said that when a person uttered:

رَبَّنَا وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ حَمْدًا كَثِيرًا طَيِّبًا مُبَارَكًا فِيهِ

'Rabbanaa wa lakal hamd. Hamdan Kathiran Tayyiban Mubarkan fih.

This phrase, too contains more than thirty letters, and exactly the same number of angels descended from the heaven

Similarly the Aayat

has got nineteen letters, and the number of the angels put as keepers of the gates to hell is nineteen, too.

In Musnad Ahmad comes: once the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم was riding some where. He had mounted one of his companions behind him. The camel on which they rode, stumbled. The companion said: 'May Satan perish!' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم told him: 'Don't say so, for this makes Satan feel proud. He thinks that he had caused the camel to fall. But rather say, 'In the name of Allah' this shall make him shrink until he becomes as insignificant and despicable like a fly.

In another Hadith comes: 'If one starts a work without reciting بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ, then this work shall be void of blessing.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1/38)

The Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم sayings regarding the rights of neighbors.

Besides one's parents, children and close relatives, human beings have got another long-lasting relation, namely that with their neighbors. No matter whether this relation is a pleasant or unpleasant one. It has got a great impact on one's personal life, peace of mind and moral character. In his teachings, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave great importance to the rights of neighbors. Again and again he stressed the need to treat one's neighbors with kindness, consideration and respect, so for that he declared good treatment of one's neighbors as a part of faith, a pre-requisite for admission into paradise, and the touchstone of love toward Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. Below are some of the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم sayings in this regard:

- 1) One Ansari companions رضى الله عنه narrated: once I went to present myself to the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم. When I reached there, I saw a man stand there and the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم was facing him. I thought that maybe the man wanted the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم to do something for him. The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم kept talking to him. Quite some time passed that way, until I began to fear that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم might have gotten tired. After a long while the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم came toward me. I said: 'O Prophet of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, this person kept you standing for so long, and I worried that your feet must be aching.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'So you saw him?' I said: 'Yes, I saw him quite well.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'You know who he was? He was Jibril عليه السلام. He told me again and again about the rights of neighbors, until I thought that today neighbors shall be given a share in inheritance. (Musnad Ahmad)
- 2) In Bazaar comes that the Messenger of Allah عليه السلام said: There are three kinds of neighbors:

- I. The neighbor who has got only one right, he has got the lowest standing among the neighbors (as far as rights are concerned).
- II. The neighbor who has got two rights.
- III. The neighbor who has got three rights.

The neighbor who has got one right is a Non-Muslim neighbor with whom you have got no relation.

The neighbor who has got two rights, is a Muslim. One right is due to him on account of his being a Muslim, and the other is due to him on account of his being a neighbor.

The neighbor who has got three rights, is a Muslim to whom one happens to be related. One right is due to him since he is a Muslim. The second right is due to him since he is a neighbor and the third right is due to him since he is a relative.

Explanation: this Hadith clearly shows that even non-Muslim neighbors enjoy the same rights and privileges that have been mentioned in the Holy Qur'an and in the sacred Ahadith; and that they deserve to be treated with the same kindness and consideration. This is exactly how the companions رضوان الله عليهم اجمعين had absorbed the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم teachings. In Jami Tirmidhi and some other books has been mentioned that at Sayyidina Abdullah bin Amr bin Aas's رضي الله عنه place a goat had been slaughtered. When he came back home, he asked: 'Did you present some meat to our Jewish neighbor? I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم say: Jibril عليه السلام stressed good treatment of one's neighbors so much that I began to think they will be declared eligible to receive a part of the inheritance. Alas, just as the chronological gap between our age and the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم gap keeps widening, we also distant ourselves more and more from the teachings and guidelines which Allah's Beloved صلى الله عليه وسلم has left for us. If the generations that came after the companions رضوان الله عليهم اجمعين had acted according to the Noble Prophet's teachings about the rights and duties of a neighbor, then the world would be quite different from what it is today. May Allah give us the strength and will to understand and appreciate the value of these teachings and to mould our lives accordingly. (Ma'ariful Hadith 6/100)

- 3) In Musnad Ahmad comes that Sayyidah Aisha رضي الله عنها said once to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم: 'I have got two neighbors and I want to send a gift to one of them. To which one should I send it?' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'To the one whose door is closer.' (Ibn Kathir)
- 4) In Tabarani comes that once the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم took ablution. The people tried to get some of the water to rub it on their bodies. Allah's messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم asked: 'why are you doing so?' They said: 'Out of love for Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. He then said: 'If anyone wants to be loved by Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, then he should speak the truth when ever he speaks. If anything is entrusted to him, then he should return such a deposit with honesty; and he should treat his neighbors well.
- 5) In Musnad Ahmad comes that the first dispute to be brought before Allah on the Day of Judgment would be between two neighbors.
- 6) In Musnad Ahmad comes that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Jibril enjoined me so much regarding neighbors that I began to think that maybe neighbors will be made eligible to receive a part of the inheritance.
- 7) The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'The best companion in the sight of Allah is one who treats his fellow-travelers well, and the best neighbor in the sight of Allah is one who treats his neighbors well.
- 8) Once the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم asked his companions: 'What do you think about fornication and adultery?' The people said: 'It is unlawful. Allah and His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم declared it to be forbidden, and it will stay forbidden until the day of Judgment.' The messenger of Allah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said: 'listen , a man who has committed adultery with ten women has committed a sin less grave than that of a man who committed adultery with his neighbor's wife.' Then he said: 'What do you say about theft?' the people said: 'it is forbidden. Allah and His Messenger صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم declared it to be forbidden, and it will stay forbidden until the Day of Judgment. 'the Messenger of Allah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم then said: 'Listen, a man who stole from ten different houses has committed a sin less grave than that of a man who stole from his neighbor's house.'

- 9) In the Sahihayin, is a Hadith in which Sayyidina Ibn Mas'ood رضی اللہ عنہ asked: 'O Messenger of Allah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, which is the greatest sin?' He رضی اللہ عنہ said: 'To ascribe partners to Allah whereas He alone created you.' Sayyidina Ibn Mas'ood asked: 'And then?' He صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم said: 'to commit adultery with the wife of one's neighbor.'
- 10) In Musnad Abd bin Hamid comes that Sayyidina Jabir bin Abdullah رضی اللہ عنہ said: One person came from the outskirts of Al Madinah. The Messenger of Allah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم and Sayyidina Jibril علیہ السلام happened to after prayers at that time at the place where the funeral prayers are usually offered. After they had concluded the prayer, the visitor asked: 'who was the person who prayed with the messenger of Allah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم?' The Messenger of Allah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم asked: "Did you see him?' he said: 'yes.' - 'Then you saw tremendous good', said the Messenger of Allah صلی اللہ علیہ وسلم, 'He was Jibril علیہ السلام. He kept telling me about the rights and duties of neighbors until I thought that soon neighbors will become eligible to receive a share of the inheritance. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1/561)

Sending food to one's neighbor

In Sahih Muslim is a tradition in which Sayyidina Abu Zarr Ghifari رضى الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم enjoined him as follows: 'When you cook something. Then add some water to the stock so that you can send a part of the food to your neighbor.' (Sahih Muslim 2/29)

Note: This advice was not given solely to Sayyidina Abu Zarr Ghifari رضى الله عنه: it was meant for the whole Ummah.

Treating one's neighbors well is a sign of perfect faith

Imam Bukhari quoted tradition four times in his Sahih. In this tradition the messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم declared a good treatment and kindness toward one's neighbors a sign of perfect faith. Anyone who does neither sympathize with his neighbors nor shares his grief, is not a perfect believer.

The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: One who believes in Allah and the hereafter must not trouble his neighbor. And one who believes in Allah and the hereafter must treat his neighbor with kindness and respect. And one who believes in Allah and the hereafter must honour his guests. (Sahih Bukhari 2/779, Hadith nr. 4991)

If treating one's neighbor well is considered as a sign of perfect faith, then it will also be considered as a sign of love for Allah and His messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. A person who possesses these attributes is true in his claim to love Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, and any one who is void of these attributes lays a false claim to love.

Don't break your neighbor's heart

Imam Abu Hamid Ghazali recorded the following statement in his work Ihya Uloom-ud-deen: 'don't build your house so high that it covers your neighbors house and thus prevents the air. If however your neighbor does not mind your doing so, then there is no harm in it. And do not vex your poor neighbor with your high buildings so as to render his own dwelling useless - void of light and void of air. And when you buy fruit, then send something thereof to your neighbor, otherwise carry it secretly into your house. And don't let your children eat fruits outside the house, lest this might sadden your neighbor's children. And don't vex your neighbor with the smell of freshly cooked food, unless you intend to give him something thereof. Then it is no harm therein. (Ihya Uloom-ud-deen, 2/119)

Some clearly defined rights of neighbors

On the authority of Sayyidina Muawiyah bin Haydah رضى الله عنه: The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Your neighbors' right over you are:

- 1). That you visit him when he is sick.
- 2). That you accompany his bier when he dies (and lend a helping hand during the funeral)
- 3). That you grant him a loan if he needs one (provided you are in a position to do so)
- 4). That you conceal his misdeed in case he did something wrong.
- 5). That you congratulate him and pray for his prosperity in case he obtains one of Allah's blessings.
- 6). That you console him in case misfortune strikes him.
- 7). That you don't build your house so high as to hinder circulation of air.
- 8). And (when you prepare some delicious food), that the fragrance of freshly cooked food does not cause him or his children trouble, unless you send something to him as well. (In this case there is no harm if the smell reaches him.) (Muajjam Kabeer, Tabarani)

Explanation: The last two among the rights enunciated in this Hadith, deserve particular mention:

- I. To be careful when constructing one's home; the walls should not be so high as to keep out air and light from one's neighbor's home.

II. One should remember one's neighbor when preparing any special dish for the good smell of freshly cooked food will make him and his children yearn for the food; and it would sadden them if this desire remains unfulfilled. Hence one should take it upon himself to either send some food to one's neighbor, or to ensure that the smell does not reach his home. Obviously, the first option is the easier one. These two guidelines which the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم left for us show what great concern he had for the rights of neighbors. And almost similar tradition has been quoted by Ibn Adi in Kamil' and by Kharaiti in 'Makarim ul Akhlaq, on the authority of Sayyidina Abdullah bin Amr bin Aas رضى الله عنه, with the following additions:

- 9). And when you buy fruit, then send some to your neighbor also.
- 10). And if you can't do that, then bring it secretly (lest your neighbor sees it) and don't let your children eat such fruit outside your home, lest your neighbor's children see them and feel jealous. (Kanzul Ummal)

May Allah give us the strength and understanding and appreciate the value of these teachings, and to mould our lives accordingly so that we may reap the blessings there of already in this worldly life. (Ma'ariful Hadith 6/97 - 98)

Two more Ahadith concerning neighbors

- 1). Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه related that one person said: 'O messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم there is one woman who is well known for her (voluntary) fasts and prayers, and she also gives a abundant charity, but her tongue causes her neighbors much trouble - (i.e. she speaks ill of her neighbors).' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'She shall go to Hell.'

The person then said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم

وسلم, there is another woman who is not so particular about (voluntary) fasts, prayers, and charity, she gives away some pieces of cheese but not more than that. This woman however does not trouble her neighbors with her tongue.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'She shall go to Paradise.' (Musnad Ahmad)

- 2). Sayyidina Abdullah bin Mas'ood رضى الله عنه related: One person enquired: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, how can I know whether I wrought good or evil?' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'When you hear your neighbors say that you did good, then you must indeed have done good And when you hear them say that you did wrong, then you must indeed have done wrong. (Ibn Majah, Mishkat p 424)

Under which circumstances one is not required to discharge the responsibility of bidding good and for bidding evil

Sayyidina Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم said: being mindful of one's own religious affairs as well as those of others, and bidding others to do good and to keep away from evil is a religious obligation as well as a Divine requirement, so keep doing it. Yes, when the following vices begin to appear:

- 1). When wealth is being worshipped.
- 2). When parsimony and avarice become the nature of this Ummat.
- 3). When people follow their base desires.
- 4). When they forget the Hereafter and make this worldly life the purpose of their existence.
- 5). When every one considers only his own opinion,

Well, in such a decadent environment it will suffice if everyone works toward the rectification of his own soul and tries to save himself from acts of disobedience, for there is little hope that anyone else will pay heed. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم further said: There will come a time when a staying firm upon religion and fulfilling the commands of Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم will become as difficult as holding burning embers in one's naked hands. This will be a test of one's stead fastness and patience. Obviously, Under such circumstances keeping oneself on the straight path will require an enormous effort, hence the responsibility of bidding others to do good and to keep away from evil no longer remains. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said about those people who remain steadfast even under such adverse circumstances that they shall get the reward of fifty men. (Ma'ariful Hadith 8/103)

Six Peculiarities of Monday

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Abbas رضى الله عنه said that Monday has got a very special relation with the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم life, because:

- 1). The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was born on a Monday.
- 2). He صلى الله عليه وسلم was granted Prophet hood on a Monday.
- 3). He صلى الله عليه وسلم fixed Hajar-e-Aswad at its proper place on a Monday.
- 4). On a Monday the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم commenced his journey of migration (from Makkah to Al Madinah) from the cave of Thawr.
- 5). On Monday He صلى الله عليه وسلم arrived in Al Madinah.
- 6). On Monday He صلى الله عليه وسلم left behind this mortal world. (Musnad Ahmad 1/277 Hadith no - 2506)

There was a time when even trees recognized the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Nowadays however hardly any Muslim would recognize him

There are number of authentic Ahadith which state that once the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was on a journey. During the journey a villager passed by the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. He صلى الله عليه وسلم called the man and asked him: 'Where are you going?' The man said: 'I am going home.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'When you are going home, then take a thing of goodness along.' The man asked: 'What thing of goodness do you want to give me?' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Bear witness that there is no god except Allah, that He is alone and has no partners, and that Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم is His servant and messenger.'

The villager said: 'who will bear witness to the truthfulness of that?' There happened to be a tree at the far end of the valley. The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'The tree over there will bear witness.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم then called the tree, and indeed! The tree came, dragging its roots along. It then recited the Kalimah-e-Shahadat. Then it returned to where it had come from.

On seeing the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم perform this miracle, the villager could not help exclaiming: 'You are verily Allah's messenger sent with truth. I believe in you. I shall return to my tribe and invite them to Islam. If they accept, then I shall bring them to you, and if they do not accept then I shall leave them and come to you so that I may stay in your company. (Majmauz-Zawaid 8/292, Hadith Nr. 5636)

The Historical background and significance of the Islamic calendar

In the early days of Islam, people used the Christian calendar. The Muslims were not in the habit of recording dates. During the reign of Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه Sayyidina Abu Musa Ash'ari رضى الله عنه wrote him a letter to which said: 'You send letters to the governments of different areas, but there is no date on these letters. It would be very beneficial to mentioned the date, one could easily find out when the letter containing the order arrived, when the order was implemented, etc. In order to keep track of these matters one has to record the relevant dates. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه liked the idea and immediately called some senior companions for a meeting. During this meeting, the companions voiced four opinions:

- 1). One group stated that the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم birth should be taken as the starting point of Islamic history.

- 2). Another group stated that the year in which the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was granted Prophet hood should be taken as the starting point.
- 3). Another group recommended that Islamic history should be counted from the Hijrah on - wards.
- 4). The Fourth group suggested that the year of the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم demise should be taken as the starting point.

These four views were then discussed in detail. Finally Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه decided that making the day on which the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was born or the day on which Prophet hood was conferred upon him the starting point of Islamic history might lead to differences, since there are different views with regard to when these events took place. Similarly, taking the year in which the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم passed away as a starting point would be inappropriate since this year was a year of grief and sorrow for Islam and the Muslims. Rather the year of Hijrah (migration) should be taken as a beginning point, for the following four reasons:

- 1). The Hijrah (migration) made a clear distinction between truth and falsehood.
- 2). It was the year in which Islam was strengthened and honored.
- 3). It was the year in which the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and the Muslims began to worship their Lord openly, without any fear, in peace and security.
- 4). It was the year in which the foundation of the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم mosque was laid.

Keeping in view all these benefits, the companions unanimously agreed that the year of Hijrah should be taken as the starting point of Islamic history. (Bukhari Sharif 1/56, Hadith No. 3794, Fathul Bari, Umdatul Qari, Ar-Rawdh ul Anf 4/256)

Thereafter the question arised which of the twelve months of a year should be declared the first month of the Islamic calendar, and that four out of these twelve months were Holy months, namely Zul Qa'dah, Zul Hijjah, Muharram, and Rajab which falls between Jamadi-ul Thani and Sha'ban. (Bukhari Sharif, 2/632, Hadith No. 4228)

Again the Noble companions held different views regarding the month which should be declared the first months of the Islamic calendar.

Four opinions were expressed:

- 1). Some stated that Rajab should be the first month, since there are six months from Rajab to Zul Hijjah, and six months from Muharram till Rajab.
- 2). Another group maintained that Ramadhan should be the first month, since Ramadhan is the most excellent of all months, and the Holy Qur'an was revealed during this month.
- 3). One group recommended that Muharram should be the first month of the Islamic calendar, since this is the month in which the pilgrims return after having performed Hajj (pilgrimage).
- 4). The fourth group suggested that the Islamic calendar should begin with the month Rabiul Awwal, since the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم migrated from Makkah to Madinah in this very month.

Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه considered all those suggestions with utmost respect, then he decided that the Islamic calendar should begin with the month of Muharam, for the following two reasons:

- 1). On the occasion of Bay'at Uqbah the Ansar رضى الله عنهم invited the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم to settle down in Madinah, and he accepted their invitation. This took place in the month of Zul Hijjah, after the pilgrims had completed the rites of Hajj (pilgrimage). And in the month of Muharram the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم began to send his companions to Madinah. Hence Hijrah (migration) commenced in the Month of Muharram, and it was completed in Rabiul Awwal when the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم himself migrated to Al Madinah.

- 2). Hajj is an act of devotion deep rooted in the history of the true religion of Allah Hajj (pilgrimage) can be performed only once a year, After having completed the rites of Hajj (pilgrimage), during the month of Muharram, the pilgrims return to their hometowns.

On basis of these benefits it seemed appropriate to declare Muharram the first month of the Islamic calendar. All the companions agreed unanimously, and hence it was decided that the Hijrah (pilgrimage) shall be considered as the starting point of Islamic history, and Muharram was declared the first month of the Islamic calendar. The Muslim Ummah is acting accordingly ever since.

Note: We too should mention the Islamic dates in whatever program we intend to make. Whether It be a marriage ceremony, a journey, a business contract, or any other social event, it should be planned and carried out according to the Islamic calendar, as this would add a spiritual dimension and great blessing to an other wise worldly affair. Unfortunately nowadays many Muslims hardly know the names of the Islamic months. Hence ensure to tell your children about the Islamic calendar and its significance in the life of a Muslim. Allah Most High laid down the days of fasting, Eid and Hajj (pilgrimage) according to the Islamic calendar, and not according to the Gregorian calendar. The Gregorian calendar is of secondary nature only. May Allah grant us the will and strength to act accordingly. Amin, Ya rabbul alamin.

The difference between knowledge and wealth (Reply to a letter)

Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه stated that there is quite some difference between wealth and knowledge, wealth decreases when you spend there from, whereas knowledge increases. If knowledge was to decrease, then the first one to suffer would be a Hafiz who teaches children how to recite the Holy Quran. His knowledge would leave him and shift to others. It is however just the opposite way. The more he teaches the more his own knowledge increases. In short, no matter how much of one's knowledge one extends to others, it increases, wealth on the other hand decreases.

Someone who owns wealth has to guard it. Even if one has only a few pennies, one will worry that someone might steal them. Should one lock it or bury it? Will anyone steal it while one is asleep? There are many other similar considerations. Hence it can rightly be said that one has to guard one's wealth. Knowledge, on the other hand, protects the person of knowledge. A knowledgeable person needs no other protection. His knowledge will tell him whether there is any danger on the path he intends to tread or whether the path will lead him to salvation. Wealth however extends no protection. It needs to be guarded and protected.

Apparently, wealth brings many a problem, one has to protect it against thieves, dacoits, etc. Knowledge on the other hand brings many a benefit and blessing, for knowledge is one's protector, helper and guide toward the path of salvation. Anyone who imparts knowledge to another person is indeed a benefactor for he has opened is indeed a benefactor for he has opened up the gates to good ness in this world and in the next.

Wealth however does not guide one to the right path, it rather leads one astray. Yes, if someone earns according to whatever knowledge he has been given, and also spends accordingly, then wealth can benefit him. If however someone earns wealth completely disregarding what is lawful and what not, and also spends his wealth in such a manner, then wealth leads to nothing but wretchedness. Until recently we only believed that unlawful income brings many misfortunes, but now the whole world witnesses the evil consequences of ill-gotten wealth. People who have acquired wealth in dubious ways almost seem to say: 'Would we only be relieved of it then at least our lives would be saved. Some bury their wealth, others dump it into the sea, but the government leaves no stone unturned to extract that wealth. So rich people are really troubled. It is nothing but Allah's grace that now, people like us who used to say that a little money is more than sufficient, people who are poor but satisfied, can easily say that we live in comfort and ease. We can even ask the rich: 'of what benefit was your wealth to you? Our poverty has done us good. Poor people are at least not bothered by the government which tries to extract taxes. A poor person can easily say: I have got nothing: How could I pay you?' Such a person is indeed at great ease. Maulana Thanvi رحمه الله عليه used to say: 'We don't keep anything, so we've got nothing to worry about. We have not even a turban, so we don't have to worry about the folds. One who keeps a turban has to worry about its folds. Anyway, here's no turban. Here are not many clothes either, hence no need to worry about hems and buttons.' Anyway, people who content themselves with what ever barely suffices, are at ease; while people who keep more than that tend to be in trouble. But why? Definitely not only on basis of their having more belongings for Islam does not enjoin us to live in poverty and indigence. It is rather because they have acquired their belongings in an unlawful manner. That is why they are in trouble. One who acquires wealth in a lawful manner is not troubled.

From this is learnt that adopting lawful means is always a source of comfort and ease, while adopting unlawful means leads one into trouble, and here it does not matter whether unlawful means are 'unlawful' from the legal or the Shara'i point of view. If a person does something unlawful, he is definitely going to be in trouble.

Note: There was a person who happened to be quite affluent. Then by a unfortunate twist of fate he lost a considerable portion of his wealth, and consequently he was in dire straits. He also happened to be a scholar. The above article was written in reply to his letter. May Allah protect us against all kinds of misfortune. Ameen.

The people of Sayyidina Nuh عليه السلام revered five saints – they used to sit in the saint's gatherings, remember Allah and acquire religious knowledge. The people's faith was strengthened through the blessings of these saints. When those saints passed away, the people were saddened and distressed. They had no idea whom they should approach for guidance in religious matters. Satan seized this opportunity and whispered into the hearts of those people: 'Why don't you make images of your saints and keep them with you? Whenever you look at their images, you will remember them, and your inner state will be just what it used to be in their , gatherings.' The people liked this idea and so they made statues of their saints. The names of these saints were: Wadd, Suwa'a. Yaguth, Ya'uq and Nasr. These names are mentioned in the Holy Qur'an, too. The purpose of these statues was nothing but to remind the people of the saints. They were not meant for worship. So, in the beginning, the people remained the staunch believers in Allah's unity. No one took these images as objects of worship. The impact that the saints had on the people remained.

The next generation however was not familiar with the ways of those saints. They could not recall any fond memories associated with those saints. All they knew was that their ancestors hold the images of those saints in high esteem. Their faith was no longer as pure as that of their forefathers.

The third generation had lost all cognition. They could not think of these statues as anything but objects of worship. They prostrated in front of the statues, prayed to them and made offerings to them, thus ascribing partners to Allah.

In short, idolatry had its origins in images and pictures. In the beginning, pictures are only meant to aid the memory - just like in the case of those religious - minded people who intended nothing but to remember their saints. In the end however these very pictures became a means of idol - worship.

At times people make pictures or images only to entertain themselves. In this case pictures carry them farther and farther away from reality. This era is dominated by pictures and quite often it seems like the pictures are more loved and respected than the people they show. Old pictures are considered as masterpieces, as legacy. The rich don't hesitate to spend thousands of rupees on such a picture due to its being 'antique' and 'unique'. People who actually witnessed the old days are not even given anything close to the same importance.

Whatever can nowadays be seen in cinemas is nothing but pictures - singing, dancing pictures. Millions of rupees are spent just to have a look at those pictures. Even those who are on the verge of starvation prefer to spend their money on a trip to the cinema. This is only because people who are overly attached to pictures, have become oblivious of the reality. The honorable Sufis wrote: 'If you want to die on goodness, then do not divert your attention toward images. Allah Most High created the images of man- yet, do not get lost in them. Rather pay attention to their ways of living. Inclination toward outer appearance extinguishes inclination to a lofty moral character, and the actual objective should be pursuing such a life style which leads to the acquisition of a lofty moral character, beneficial knowledge, sound reason and appropriate action.

To sum up, the Noble Prophets عليهم السلام propagated faith in Allah's unity, and they forbade associating partners with Allah. The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم however went one step further. He not just forbade shirk, but he also instructed his followers to beware of everything that might lead to shirk (infidelity). The companions رضى الله عنهم, too, followed him in this regard. Once Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه performed Tawaf (circumambulation). The people crowded around the Black stone, thinking that their Hajj (pilgrimage) would not be complete if they do not kiss the Black Stone. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه was present, too. He addressed the Black Stone, saying:

إِنِّي أَعْلَمُ أَنَّكَ حَجَرٌ لَا تَنْفَعُ وَلَا تَضُرُّ لَوْلَا إِيَّيَ رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَبْلَكَ مَا قَبَّلْتُكَ

'Indeed I know that you are a mere stone. You do not benefit nor harm. I Had not seen the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم kiss you. I would never kiss you.

In other words, the only reason to kiss you is to follow the Sunnah of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. The statement " 'You do not benefit nor harm' was meant to cut off the very roots of shirk (infidelity).

Deprivation of Divine Mercy

Nowadays even Muslims decorate their homes with all sorts of pictures and images. Doing so has become quite popular, and that although keeping pictures of animated objects within one's house results in deprivation of Divine Mercy. Sayyidina Abu Talha رضى الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said,

لَا يَدْخُلُ الْمَلَائِكَةُ بَيْتًا فِيهِ كَلْبٌ تَصَاوِيرٌ وَلَا

'The angels do not enter a house in which there is a dog or pictures.'

Ummul Mu'mineen Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها narrated that:

إِنَّ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، لَمْ يَكُنْ يَتْرُكُ فِي بَيْتِهِ شَيْئًا فِيهِ تَصَاوِيرٌ إِلَّا نَقَّصَهُ

'The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم would not leave anything having the Symbol of a cross on it in his house unless he erased it (i.e. the cross).' (Mishkat, p 385) sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها further narrated: 'I had bought a small cushion with pictures on it. When the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم saw it, he stopped right at the door and did not enter. There were signs of displeasure on his face. I said: 'I turn to Allah and His Messenger (that means: I repent, but tell me) what did I do wrong?' (Which misdeed of mine prevents you from entering?) The messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'What about this cushion?' Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها replied: 'I bought it for you to sit on it and recline on it.' The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Those who makes pictures shall be punished on the Day of Judgment. It shall be said: 'Now bring to life the things you made.'" The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم further said: 'Angels do not enter a house in which there are pictures.'

(Bukhari, Muslim, Mishkat p 385)

The effect of bad literature

Reading religious books and other comparable material are instrumental in rectifying one's character and behavior. Good literature has got a positive impact on one's thinking and way of life. Bad, vulgar literature on the other hand, corrupts one's morals, spreads vulgarity and shamelessness. Hence one should save not only oneself but the whole society from bad, vulgar literature. Along with that one should try one's best to spread the teachings of the Holy Qur'an and the Sunnah. Sayyidina Jabir bin Abdullah رضى الله عنه narrated that the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said during one of his sermons:

قَابَ خَيْرَ الْحَدِيثِ كِتَابُ اللَّهِ، وَخَيْرُ الْهَدْيِ هَدْيُ مُحَمَّدٍ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَشَرُّ الْأُمُورِ مُحَدَّثَاتُهَا وَكُلُّ مُحَدَّثَةٍ بِدْعَةٌ، وَكُلُّ بِدْعَةٍ ضَلَالَةٌ قَابَ كُلِّ ضَلَالَةٍ فِي النَّارِ

'The best of talk is the book of Allah, and the best guidance is the guidance brought by Muhammad, and the worst of matters are innovations, and every innovation amounts to go astray and everyone who went astray goes to hell (definitely).' (Muslim, Mishkat p 27)

The effect of one's environment

Allah Most High has endowed each human being with an unflawed, upright nature. Environmental surroundings however spoil man, to such an extent that he is deprived of whatever flawlessness and uprightness he had been endowed with. This is why one should avoid bad company as far as possible. One should always try to be in the company of good, virtuous people. Children in particular are likely to be affected by their environment, hence it is of foremost importance to save them from bad company, lest one's carelessness in this regard corrupts not only one's own future but also becomes a source of trouble for the whole society.

One reason behind the evils which nowadays spread in our society is that parents are overly indulgent with their children. They do not stop them from misbehavior. Thus children grow into badly spoilt adults that cause their parents nothing but trouble. Parents then end up bewailing their fate. Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

مَا مِنْ مَوْلُودٍ إِلَّا يُولَدُ عَلَى الْفِطْرَةِ، فَأَبَوَاهُ يُهَوِّدَانِهِ أَوْ يُنَصِّرَانِهِ أَوْ يُمَجِّسَانِهِ

'Every child is born on the 'Fitrah' (i.e. the natural inclination to ward Islam). It is his parents who make him a Jew, a Christian or a magian.' (Bukhari, Muslim, Mishkat p 21)

A child adapts to his environment. This is why it is of foremost importance to save children from bad company. Adult morality and virtue alone are not enough to change society for the better. Adults today will be no longer tomorrow. Tomorrow the world shall belong to their children. If children are not up in a manner to cause them incline toward righteousness, then society will sink into corruption and squalor.

The effect of Western culture

Today the whole world is infatuated with the western 'culture. Everyone prides himself or herself in adopting the western fashion and lifestyle. The Islamic culture is viewed with disdain. The majority of Muslims prefer to follow the footsteps of western nations with regard to their clothing and way of living. Following the footsteps of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and the noble companions رضى الله عنهم is considered to be a matter of disgrace. (معاذ الله!)

One poet said:

'As for your apparel you're Christians, as for your culture you're Jews

Such are the Muslims - even Hindus feel ashamed of them.'

Another poet said:

Hat instead of cap, coat instead of Achkan^o whiskers instead of beard – curzon fashion. And:

Women roam in malls in style while girls are air-bathing in parks.

In such an irreligious environment a Muslim's greatest Jihad is to leave aside all western fashions and adopt the Islamic life – style instead – one's clothing, living, sleeping, walking, talking, dealing with others, in short, all ways of life should be according to the Sunnah of our beloved Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. One should strive to keep away from adapting the ways of non-Muslims, other-wise one's honour will be tread upon and the Muslims will be deprived of Allah's mercy and support. Sayyidina Abdullah bin Umar رضى الله عنهما related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

مَنْ تَشَبَّهَ بِقَوْمٍ فَهُوَ مِنْهُمْ

'Whoever adopts resemblance of a people belongs to them.' (Ahmad, Abu Dawood, Mishkat p 375)

That means anyone who adopts resemblance of infidels, transgressors and evil-doers belongs to them, and one who adopts resemblance of the righteous servants of Allah belongs to them.

The above Hadith contains glad tidings for those who try to emulate the ways of pious, virtuous people, and it contains also a stern warning for all those who opt the ways of the infidels and wicked.

Similarly there are Ahadith that contain stern warnings for women who adopt male fashions and men who adopt female fashions.

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Abbas رضى الله عنهما related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

Achkan is a kind of gown.

لَعَنَ اللَّهُ الْمُتَشَبِهِينَ مِنَ الرِّجَالِ بِالنِّسَاءِ، وَالْمُتَشَبِهَاتِ مِنَ النِّسَاءِ
بِالرِّجَالِ

‘Allah cursed such men who adopt female fashions, and such women who adopt male fashions.’ (Bukhari, Mishkat p 380)

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Abbas رضى الله عنهما further stated:

لَعَنَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ الْمُخْتَلِينَ مِنَ الرِّجَالِ وَالْمُتَرَجِّلَاتِ مِنَ
النِّسَاءِ، وَقَالَ: أَخْرِجُوهُمْ مِنْ بَيْوتِكُمْ-

‘The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم cursed men who adopt female fashions and women who adopt male fashions, and he said: ‘Turn them out of your houses.’ (Bukhari, Mishkat p 380)

From the above Ahadith is learnt that those who try to resemble other nations, or those men who try to resemble women, or those women who try to resemble men, are accursed in the sight of Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, and deprived of Divine Mercy.

How fortunate are those who - even in this irreligious environment where they are victims of cease-less criticism - live according to the Sunnah of Allah’s messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. They shall get the reward of hundred martyrs, and in paradise they shall enjoy the company of Allah’s Beloved صلى الله عليه وسلم. Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

مَنْ تَمَسَّكَ بِسُنَّتِي عِنْدَ فَسَادِ أُمَّتِي فَلَهُ أَجْرُ مِائَةِ شَهِيدٍ

‘Whoever holds unto my Sunnah when my Ummah faces squalor and corruption, shall get the reward of hundred martyrs.’ (Mishkat p 30)

Sayyidina Anas رضى الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

مَنْ أَحَبَّ سُنَّتِي فَقَدْ أَحَبَّنِي وَمَنْ أَحَبَّنِي كَانَتْ مَعِيَ فِي الْجَنَّةِ

'Whoever loves my Sunnah, loves me. And whoever loves me shall be with me in Paradise.' (Tirmidhi, Mishkat p 30)

Read these Ahadith carefully. Don't you realize how great the reward for adopting the Islamic culture is? Don't you realize how strictly the Muslim are warned against following non-Muslim (esp. western) ways of life? May Allah save all Muslim from the ever-rising tide of westernization and may He grant us the will and strength to adopt an Islamic lifestyle. Ameen Ya Rabbal Alameen.

Safe yourself from futile discussions and debates

These days people who acquired education in the English way, who are absolutely unacquainted with the teachings of Islam, embark on 'research' completely disregarding the limits set by the Holy Shariah (divine law). They are eager to debate each and every issue, no matter whether they can comprehend it or not. Every one wants to know the underlying reality of an issue, and that although there are certain limitations to research and debates which should not be crossed, and in case one sees someone trying to cross these limits, he or she should be stopped. When the people asked the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم about the reality of the spirit, a very comprehensive reply was revealed to him: 'Say: it is a commandment from my Lord.' Then declining to give any further details, the Ayat was concluded with the statement. 'You have not been given of knowledge save little'. In other words, you are not in a position to understand such a complex matter. Several Surahs of the Holy Qur'an commence with a single letter or a combination of letters, the so-called Huraof-e-Muqatta'at, and it has been strongly discouraged to try to find the meaning of these letters. Thus believers are made to act in this manner:

نہ ہر جائے مرکب توں تاخترن
کہ جاہا سپر باید انداخترن

One should not let the horses of debate race everywhere. There are instances where one should simply surrender the arms of research. Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'People shall keep questioning each other until it will be said. 'Allah Ta'ala created the universe, but who created Allah Ta'ala?' If anyone perceives something like that, he should say:

أَمَنْتُ بِاللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِ

'I believe in Allah and His Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم'

How Sayyidina Salman Farsi رضى الله عنه accepted Islam.

Salman was his name and Abu Abdullah was his Kuniyyat. His honorary appellation was Salman-ul-Khair. So who was Salman? He was embodied goodness. He hailed from Persia. He lived at a place called Jai which was situated in the outskirts of Ramhurmuz. He belonged to Persia's royal family. Whenever someone would ask Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه.

'Whose son are you?' إِبْنُ مَنْ أَنْتَ

He would reply:

'I am Salman, son of Islam.' أَنَا سَلْمَانُ بْنُ الْإِسْلَامِ

That means: Islam is the cause for my spiritual existence, and Islam has fostered me.

فَنِعْمَ الْأَبُ وَنِعْمَ الْإِبْنُ

'What a fine father and what a fine son!'

Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه lived for very long. It has been said that he witnessed the days of Sayyidina Isa bin Maryam عليه السلام. Others said that he did not witness those days, but the days of Sayyidina Isa's عليه السلام companions. Hafiz Zahabi رحمه الله عليه stated, All the sayings regarding Sayyidina Salman's رضى الله عنه age agree that he lived well above two hundred fifty years. Abu Shaykh wrote in Tabaqatul Isbahariniyin: 'The scholars mentioned that Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه lived for more than three hundred fifty years. It is however established beyond any doubt that he lived for two hundred fifty years. (Ishabah, Tarjumah Salman 2/62)

Sayyidina Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنهما narrated that Salman Farsi رضى الله عنه himself had told him how he accepted Islam. He said: I lived in a township known as Jai. My father was the in-charge of that township, and I was his favorite child. He protected me just like a father would protect his virgin daughter. He would not let me leave the house. By religion we were Magans. My father put me in charge of the sacred Fire. It was my duty to ensure that the flames do not die down once my father was busy with some construction work, and he had no other choice but to appoint me as guard over some land and fields. He enjoined me not to get late. Then I went out. On my way I came across a church. I heard some sounds coming from inside that church. Driven by curiosity, I went inside to see what was happening. There I found a group of Christians offering the prayer. I liked their way of worship and said to myself, 'Their religion is better than ours: I asked them from where their religion had its origins. 'From Syria', they said. The sun had set in the meantime. My father who had been waiting for me since quite some time, sent some men to look for me. When I returned home. My father asked me: 'O son, where have you been?' I then told him the whole story. My father said, 'Christianity is void of all goodness. The religion of your forefathers (i.e. fire-worship) is far better.' I said: 'By no means! The religion of the Christians is much better than our religion.' My father then put iron chains around my feet and put me under house arrest. Just like Fir'awn had said to Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام

لَئِنْ آتَّخَذْتَ إِلَهًا غَيْرِي لِأَجْعَلَنَّكَ مِنْ
 الْمَسْجُونِينَ ﴿٢٩﴾

"If you take any other god than me, then I shall imprison you, for sure!" (Surah Shu'araa, Ayat 29)

I sent secretly a message to the Christians, requesting them to inform me when a caravan goes to Syria. Soon they informed me that a caravan of Christian traders was about to return to Syria. I somehow managed to free myself of the chains around my feet. I ran away from home and joined that caravan. On reaching Syria, I asked who was the greatest scholar of Christianity. They told me the name of a priest. I went to that priest and told him my story. I said to him, 'I want to stay with you in order to learn your religion, for I feel a very strong inclination towards it. If you permit me, I shall remain in your service so that I may acquire knowledge of your faith and worship with you.' The priest agreed. Soon however I came to realize that the priest was not a good man. He was greedy and avaricious. He would enjoin others to give charity, and when the people obeyed his call, he would take the money and keep it with himself. He would not distribute it among the poor and needy. Thus he had collected seven earthen vessels full of gold coins. When he died, many faithful gathered to arrange for his funeral. I told them what the priest had really been like, and showed them the vessels full of gold. On seeing this, the people exclaimed: 'By God! We shall not bury such a person. They hung him at the gallows and pelted him with stones. Then they appointed another priest to take his place.

Sayyidina Salman Farsi رضى الله عنه then continued, I never saw a more knowledgeable, pious, devout and abstentious person than him. He had nothing to do with this worldly life, and all he sought was the Hereafter. He kept himself engaged in prayers and worship. Never before I had loved a person as much as I loved this priest, and I kept serving him. When he was about to breathe his last, I asked him for counsel as to where I should go after him. He said, 'There is a scholar in Mawsul. Go there.'

I did just that. I went to Nasibayn where I stayed with a scholar. After his death I went - according to his testament - to a place called Amuriyah and began to live with a scholar there. When he was about to die, I said to him: 'I had stayed with such and such scholar. Now tell me. Where should I go?'

That scholar said, 'As far as I know there is no rightly guided scholar left to whom I could send you. However soon a Prophet will appear. His faith will be that of Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام. He will appear in the land of the Arabs, and he will migrate to ward a land of date-palms. Go to him if you are able to do so. His mark is that he does not accept charities but he accepts gifts. Between his shoulders is the seal of Prophet-hood. You will recognise him when you see him.

At that time I happened to have some cows and goats. Incidentally there was a caravan bound for Arabia. I said to them, 'Take me with you, and I will give you these cows and goats.' The people accepted and took me along. When we reached Wadi Qura they betrayed me and sold me as a slave to a Jew. That Jew took me to a land where there were many date - palms. I thought that maybe this was the place, but I was not sure. Then I was sold to a Jew from Bani Quraizah. That Jew took me to Madinah. On reaching there - I swear by Allah! - I knew immediately that this was the place I had been told about.

In Sahih Bukhari has been mentioned that Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه related: I had thus been sold over ten times (People bought and sold him for a petty amount, and no one was really inclined to keep him, because no one realized his true worth) in Madinah I stayed with the Jew from Banu Quraizah and worked in his orchard. Allah Most High had already bestowed Prophet hood to Sayyidina Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم, but my being enslaved and preoccupied with serving my master prevented me from getting to know about that. Then the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم migrated to Madinah. He stayed for a while with Bani Amr bin Awf in Quba. I had climbed up a date-tree to work on it when my master came and sat down right under that tree. Soon another Jew, who also happened to be the paternal cousin of my master, came and said: 'May God destroy the Ansar! In Quba they all flock around a man who has come from Makkah. He say that he is a Prophet and a messenger.'

Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه said: 'By Allah! When I heard this, I began to shiver and to tremble, so much that I feared I might fall on my master.' Both Jews were aghast to see him in that state. Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه could not help reciting the following verse:

خَلَيْتِي لَا وَاللَّهِ! مَا أَنَا مِنْكُمْ

إِذَا عَلِمْتُ مِنْ آلِ لَيْلَى بَدَا لِيَا

“My friend, by Allah! I no longer belong to the twain of you, when I have beheld a mountain from the place where Laila resides.”

Anyway, I pulled myself together, climbed down the tree and said to the Jew who had just arrived: ‘tell me, what were you talking about? Let me know, too!’ when my master saw this, he got angry, slapped me and said, ‘Of what concern is that to you? Do your work!’ In the evening when I had completed my chores, I took whatever I had with me and went to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم who was then in Quba. I said: ‘I have come to know that you and your companions have got nothing to call their own and that you are needy. I want to give some charity to you and your companions.’ The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم however refused to accept charity, saying, ‘I do not take charity’, but he allowed his companions to take there from.

Sayyidina Salman Farsi رضى الله عنه went on: I said to myself: ‘that is the first of the three sign.’ I went back and again began to collect something. When the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had moved onward to Madinah, I again came to him and said, ‘I would like to give something to as a gift to you, for you do not accept charity.’ The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم accepted. He صلى الله عليه وسلم himself took thereof and he also gave something to his companions. I said to myself: ‘this is the second sign.’ Then I left. I returned after a couple of days. When I presented myself to the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, he was accompanying a funeral procession to Baqí’ Some to the companions were with him صلى الله عليه وسلم, and he was in their midst. I greeted him and sat down right behind him so that I could have a look at the seal of Prophet hood. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم under stood what I wanted and took off the sheet he wore around his shoulders. I immediately recognized him, kissed the seal of Prophet hood and began to cry. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Come in front of me.' I did that, and then, O Ibn Abbas, I told the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم and all the companions who were present my story, just as I told it to you. I accepted Islam then and there, and the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم was very pleased. There after I returned to serve my master. Thus I was unable to participate in the Battle of Badr and in the Battle of Uhud. The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said to me: 'O Salman, enter a contract of Kitabat (set a price to left him free) with your master.' Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه then requested his master to make him a Mukatib (evaluated). His master said: pay me thirty Awqiyah gold and plant three hundred date-palms. When they bear fruits, you shall be free.' Sayyidina Salman رضى الله عنه accepted these conditions at the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم behest. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم then urged the People to help Sayyidina Salman Farsi رضى الله عنه with Saplings of date-palms. Thus some one brought thirty saplings, another brought. Twenty, yet another person brought fifteen, and some people contributed ten saplings. When three hundred saplings had been collected, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said to me, 'Salman, dig holes for them.' When the holes were ready, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم himself planted the saplings and prayed for blessing, one year had hardly passed when they bore fruit. Not a single tree had dried up or withered away. They were all lush and green. Thus the condition regarding the date-palms had been fulfilled, now only the money had to be paid. One day a person brought a piece of gold as big as an egg. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked, 'Where is that poor Mukatib. (i.e. Sayyidina Salman Farsi رضى الله عنه)? Bring him to me! He صلى الله عليه وسلم then gave the gold to me and said: 'Allah will settle your dues with this.' I said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم this is quite little. How will my dues be settled with this?' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Go. Allah will settle your dues with it.' When I weighed the piece of gold it was exactly forty Awaqiyah in weight. Thus my dues were discharged and I was free. I participated in the Battle of the Trench along with the Messenger of Allah. Thereafter, I accompanied the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم in all other expeditions, too. (Seerah Ibn Hisham 1/73)

Note: Hafiz Ibn Qayyim رحمه الله عليه said:

- 1). If you want to know Sayyidina Slaman's رضي الله عنه name - it is Abdullah.
- 2). If you want to know his decadence - he is Ibnul Islam, the illustrious son of Islam.
- 3). If you want to know about his belongings - poverty is his belonging.
- 4). The mosque is his shop.
- 5). Patience is his income.
- 6). Taqwa is his raiment.
- 7). Vigilance is his pillow.
- 8). Special honour was conferred upon him when the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: سَلْمَانَ وَمَنْ أَهْلَ الْبَيْتِ - Salman belongs to us, the people of the house.
- 9). If you ask about his purpose and objective - he longed for Allah and His pleasure.
- 10). If you ask where he is going - he is going toward Paradise.
- 11). If you ask who shows him the way and guides him during his journey, then lo! None less than the Foremost of the pious, the Guide of every living being toward the Lord of the worlds, the leader of the Former and later generations, the seal of all prophets and Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم.

(Thus it has been mentioned in Ibn Qayyim's Fawa'id)

How Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه came to have such an outstanding memory.

- 1). Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم once said to me: 'How come you don't ask me for spoils of war as your companions do?' I said: 'All I ask of you is to teach me whatever Allah taught you.’ Thereafter I took off the striped sheet. Had tied around my upper body and spread it between the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and myself. It is as though I still see the lice crawling over that sheet. Thereafter the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم let me benefit of his sayings. When I had listened to whatever he had to say, he said: ‘Now gather that sheet and wrap it around your body.’ (I did just that.) Ever since then I did not forget a single letter of what the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said.

- 2). Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه stated: the people say: ‘Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه narrates so many Ahadith!’ By Allah! We all have to return to Allah (i.e. Allah will take me to task if I narrate a false hadith, and those who falsely suspect me, shall be taken to task, too.) The people also say that the other Muhajireen (emigrants) and Ansar do not narrate as many Ahadith as Abu Hurairah. (Well the reason for that is that) My brothers from among the Muhajireen were preoccupied with buying and selling, while my brothers from among the Ansar were busy with their land and their cattle. I myself was just a poor, indigent fellow. I was always present even when the other companions were not. And even those who were present would not retain what the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, once they got busy with their work. I however remembered everything.
- 3). One day the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: ‘If any one among you takes his sheet and spreads it in front of me and then draws it to his chest when I finish my talk, will never forget anything I say.’ I immediately took off my striped sheet - and at that time I had no other cloth to cover my back. Then when the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had finished his talk, I gathered the sheet around my chest. By Him who has sent Sayyidina Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم with the truth, up to this day I never forgot any Hadith. By Allah, was it not for two Ayaat in the Book of Allah (which clearly forbid concealment of knowledge), then I’d never relate a Hadith to you. These two Ayaat are:

إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يَكْتُمُونَ مَا أَنْزَلْنَا مِنَ الْبَيِّنَاتِ وَأَهْدَىٰ مِنْ
 بَعْدِ مَا بَيَّنَّهٗ لِلنَّاسِ فِي الْكِتَابِ ۖ أُولَٰئِكَ يَلْعَنُهُمُ اللَّهُ
 وَيَلْعَنُهُمُ اللَّعِنُونَ ﴿١٥٩﴾ إِلَّا الَّذِينَ تَابُوا وَأَصْلَحُوا وَبَيَّنُّوٓا۟
 فَأُولَٰئِكَ أَتُوبُ عَلَيْهِمْ ۗ وَأَنَا التَّوَّابُ الرَّحِيمُ ﴿١٦٠﴾

Those who hide the proof and the guidance which We revealed, after which We had made it clear in the scripture: such are accursed of Allah and accursed of those who have the power to curse. Except such of them as repent and amend and make manifest (the truth). These it is toward whom I relent. I am the Relenting, the Merciful.' (Surah Baqarah, Ayaat 159-160)

- 4). Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه narrated: The people say: 'Abu Hurairah narrates so many Ahadith!' Well, in fact I always stayed in the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم company. I ate barely enough to fill my stomach- During those days I had neither any leafened bread to eat, nor silk to wear, nor any man to serve me, nor any woman. At times I'd tie stones to my stomach due to severe hunger (so as to ease the pangs of hunger), and at times it happened that in spite of my knowing a certain verse from the Qur'an quite well, I'd ask any companion to teach me that verse, so that he might invite me to his home and give me something to eat- and Sayyidina Ja'far bin Abi Talib رضي الله عنه was indeed good to the poor. He'd give us to eat whatever he had at his home. Sometimes (when he had nothing else) he'd give us a funnel that had contained honey or clarified butter. We would then rip that funnel open and lick whatever was inside. (Hayatus - Sahaba 3/189)

A letter to console a patient and fourteen spiritual prescriptions for a swift recovery

In one Hadith comes that on the Day of Judgment Allah Most High shall ask some of His bondmen: 'My servant! I was ill and yet you did not visit Me? I was a patient and you did not come to enquire about My health?'

The bondman shall say: 'O Allah, you are the Lord of the worlds. Disease is a blemish and you are free from all shortcomings and blemishes.' Allah then shall say: Such and such from among My servant was ill. Had you gone to visit him, you would have found this (deed of yours) with Me.' (Mishkat Sharif, p 134)

Allah does not say that about a healthy person. He does not say: 'Why did you not visit Me when I was healthy?' He makes this statement about illness: '

I was ill, yet you did not come to visit Me.' The purpose there of is to console the patient and to give him glad tidings that illness is a means of attaining closeness to Allah. What a great blessing this is!

May Allah grant us all His and His proximity. Ameen Ya Rabbal Alameen.

Sayyidina Imran bin Haseen رضى الله عنه was high ranking companion. For thirty two long years he suffered from an abscess that had appeared at one side of his body. Due to that abscess he could only lie straight on his back. He could not turn on his bed or lie down on his side. Just imagine how much he must have suffered - For thirty - two years he had to lie on his back; he had to eat, drink, worship and even relieve himself while lying on his bed. Think what he must have gone through. How much pain he must have undergone during those thirty two years?

Yet in spite of so much suffering his face was fresh and radiant than the faces of many healthy people. Whoever saw him would be amazed that in spite of such a severe ailment that has been afflicting him since years, he would look more cheerful and fresh than those who were well. The people said: 'How come that in spite of such a prolonged disease you look far more cheerful and fresh than those who were well?'

He said: 'I kept patient at the time of affliction. I said to myself: This is a kind of gift from Allah. Allah Most High liked this condition for me, so I am content.' In return Allah honored me by causing the angels to descend upon me. Thus I meet the angels every day, and I am free to visit the unseen world which has been opened up for me.'

So why would anyone want to be healthy if due to his ailment – the unseen world is made visible to him and he perceives the presence of the angels? For such a person disease is a great blessing indeed.

Islam thus lets a healthy person rest content with his health, while it tells a sick person: Your Illness is a means of acquiring Allah's proximity. Hence if you remain patient and content, then your rank shall get higher and higher.

Then another matter is that Islam does not prevent one from seeking a cure for one's ailments. It rather encourages one to do so, provided one remains content with whatever the outcome might be. Man should continue his struggle without wanting to interfere with the Divine decree. Man's job is to use medicines, but whether or not these medicines work is left up to Allah. He is the One to decide if the patient is to recover or not.

That is Allah's job. It is not your job. Do not interfere in what is up to Allah alone. Use medicines but remain content with whatever Allah wills, consider Allah's decree as a source of goodness for you. If you remain patient, then disease will raise your rank and your moral outlook. That helps a person to pass such stages of spirituality which no healthy person could ever pass. A patient who remains content has indeed reason to say to himself. 'Congratulations on my ailment. I do not stand in need of health, for if I was healthy I'd never get those ranks.

Islam tells a healthy person to make his health a means of attaining Allah's proximity, and it tells sick person to make his sickness a means of attaining Allah's proximity, and that a sick person shall not remain deprived on account of his sickness. One should not think that all goodness has fallen into the lot of those who enjoy good health, and that there is nothing left for those who is ill. Rather one should think of one's illness as one's great asset. In short, Islam's objective is to encourage each and every individual to be pleased and content with one's condition, and to make the best of it.

Below are given some spiritual prescriptions for a swift recovery:

- 1). Recite Surah Fatiha 21 times and blow over yourself.
- 2). Recite Surah Fatiha 21 times, blow over water and consume the water.
- 3). Recite يَا سَلَامُ (Yaa Salamu) 143 times and blow over yourself.
- 4). Give charity.
- 5). Use pure honey.
- 6). Pray for those who suffer from a similar ailment.
- 7). Invite all those who come to visit you during your sickness to remain steadfast on the true religion of Allah.
- 8). I am sending you some Zamzam water. Use it with the intention of acquiring health.
- 9). Strengthen the ties of kinship with your relatives. In a Hadith comes that strengthening the ties of kinship is a cure.
- 10). In a Hadith comes that the Holy Qur'an is a cure. Recite yourself if possible; otherwise have any of your children recite while you yourself listen.
- 11). If there is no one to recite for you, then merely look toward the Holy Quran.
- 12). I am sending you some Kalonji (a kind of black seed). Use them.
- 13). In a Hadith comes that Allah Most High readily accept the prayer of a patient. In other words, a patient's prayer is more likely to be accepted than that of a healthy person. So pray to Allah as much as you can.
- 14). In one Hadith comes: 'Travel and you will get healthy.'

I pray to Allah that he may grant you full and swift recovery. Ameen Ya Rabbal Alameen. Also convey my greetings to your family.

How Alamgir's رحمة الله عليه wisdom aided the dissemination of religious knowledge

It has been recorded that during the days of Alamgir رحمة الله عليه religious scholars absolutely lacked patronage and support on part of the provincial governments. Alamgir رحمة الله عليه who was a scholar himself and who knew the value of scholars, resolved this situation in a far more effective way than getting any article or speech printed in the newspaper

When the time for prayers had drawn close, he announced that today the Nawab of Dekkan should assist him in performing Wudhu. The Nawab was delighted when he got to know about that. He thought that may be the ruler wants to confer some special honour to him or grant him some additional territory. The Nawab brought a tumbler full of water and then began to pour water for the ruler. Alamgir رحمة الله عليه asked him: 'By the way, how many Faraidh (compulsory acts) are there in Wudhu (ablution)?' had the Nawab ever performed Wudhu (ablution), he would have known the answer. The questions startled the Nawab. He did not know what to say in reply. When he was asked about the Sunan of Wudhu, he fared not much better. He could not answer the question.

Alamgir said: 'Alas! You rule over hundreds and thousands of Subjects. Lacs of people are under your control. You call yourself a Muslim, but you not even know how many Faraidh (compulsory acts), Wajibat (obligatory) and Sunan there are in Wudhu (ablution). I hope that you will not embarrass yourself like that in future.

With another one he dealt as follows: during the month of Ramadhan he invited him to break the fast with him. The Nawab was delighted He said: 'What a great honour this most undeserving slave that his royal Highness should remember him!

When the time to break the fast had drawn close, Alamgir asked: 'Could you please tell me how many things there are that render the fast void?'

Incidentally, the Nawab had not kept the fast. He had no idea which things render the fast void. Not knowing the answer, he had no other choice but to keep silent.

Alamgir رحمه الله عليه said, 'What a shame! You call yourself governor of Muslim and Nawab. Thousands of people are under your control. You yourself are a Muslim, your state is inhabited by Muslims, and yet you have no idea which things render the fast void! Alamgir then asked another Nawab about the Masail of Zakat, and yet another one about the Masail of Hajj (pilgrimage), but no one could give a satisfactory answer. All of them failed the test. Alamgir then addressed them all, saying, 'Beware! This should not repeat itself in future.

When the Nawabs returned to their respective states, they had no option but to acquire religious knowledge, thus they began to look for scholars. The scholars however gave themselves airs. One said: 'Sir, I shall take 500 Rupees as allowance.' Another said: 'I shall take 1000 Rupees,' The Nawabs' estates were in question, so they desperately searched the whole country for scholars. Within no time all scholars and students of religious sciences had found a patron and sponsor. Huge allowances were issued, and once the Nawabs had come to know about the religious injunctions, they began to put them into practice, too.

A custom of the state of Bhopal that deserves to be emulated

In Bhopal, whenever a poor person would admit his child in a Maktab (religious school), and the child would for instance begin to memorise Juz (section) A.L.M, the state would issue one rupee as monthly allowance. And when the child reached the second, Juz (section), the state would issue two rupees, and when the child reached the third Juz (section), the state would raise the monthly allowance to three rupees. And when the child reached the thirtieth Juz (section), the allowance would be raised to thirty rupees. During those days thirty rupees were a lot of money. As a result, the poor who had hardly enough to eat, would send their children to Maktabs and Madarsahs so that they would memorise the Holy Qur'an. The allowance would be issued on the very same day. There were thousands of such poor families, and soon the state was blessed with thousands of Huffaz. There was no mosque that could not boast of a Hafiz or two.

The excellence of a scholar who propagates religious knowledge and some guidelines for students.

Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه said: the one who teaches you religious knowledge has got many a right over you:

- 1). Do not ask too many questions, nor press him for an answer.
- 2). When he turns away from you, then desist.
- 3). When he gets tired, then do not take hold of his clothes.
- 4). Neither gesture toward him with your hands nor with your eyes.
- 5). Do not ask anything during his gathering.
- 6). Do not try to find fault with him.
- 7). And if he happens to err then wait until he retracts.
- 8). And when he does so, then accept his retraction.
- 9). And never say: 'Such and such has said something to counter your view.'
- 10). And never disclose his secret.
- 11). Nor bite his back.
- 12). Duly consider his rights - in his presence as well as in his absence.
- 13). And greet all people with 'Salaam', especially your teacher.
- 14). Sit right in front of him.
- 15). Outdo others in serving him when he has got any need.

16). And don't loose heart for as long as you stay with him, for he is like a Date-palm that is capable, of benefiting others all the time. And he is like a fasting person who wages war in the path of Allah. And when he dies then he leaves such a gap behind that cannot be filled until the day of Judgment.

And seventy thousand angels accompany one who sets out to acquire religious knowledge. (Hayatus-Sahaba, 3/242)

Three advice that Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها gave to the preacher of Madinah

Sha'bi رحمه الله عليه narrated that Sayyidah Aisha رضى الله عنها said to Ibn Abi Saib رحمه الله عليه who preached to the people of Madinah: 'Accept my advice regarding three matters, otherwise I shall surely fight with you.'

Ibn Abi Saib رحمه الله عليه said: 'O Mother of the Faithful, let me benefit from your Advice - I shall surely accept it!' She said: Do not use poetry and verse in your supplications, for neither the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم nor the companions would do so intentionally. Preach once a week only, or twice if you wish so, or thrice, but no more than that lest the people get tired off the book of Allah). Never ever interrupt a group of people who are already engaged in a conversation to hold your sermon. Let them finish their talk and then - if they are inclined to listen to you - you may preach. (Hayatus - Sahaba 3/239)

The reality of Tasawwuf (Mysticism)

There are several names for Tasawwuf (mysticism), it is known as Ilm-ul-Qalb (knowledge of heart), Ilm-ul -Akhlaq (knowledge of ethics) Ihsan, Sulook and Tariqat. All these names stand for one and the same thing. The Holy Qur'an and the Sunnah mostly use the term 'Ihsan', while in our days the word 'Tasawwuf' (mysticism), is known better. Anyway, the underlying reality is the same, namely just like there are deeds that relate to our outward, physical existence, there are deeds that relate to our inward, spiritual existence. These deeds are known as 'A'maal-e- Batinah' (internal). And just like outward deeds have been categorized as good and bad, as 'Fardh' (compulsory), 'Wajib' (obligatory), 'Haram' (unlawful) and 'Makrooh' (unbecoming), the inward deeds have been categorized as good and bad, as 'Fardh' (compulsory), 'Wajib, (obligatory)' 'Haram' (unlawful) and 'Makrooh' (unbecoming), too.

Taqwa (piety), love for Allah, a lofty character, Reliance upon Allah, patience, gratitude, humility, contentment, forbearance, generosity, modesty, kindness and sympathy,.... All these are considered as virtuous traits. These traits are also known as 'Fadhaail' and 'Akhlaq-e-Hameeda' Each believer is obliged to acquire these traits.

Then there are evil traits like: pride, self-conceit, arrogance, showing off, love for wealth, love for fame, avarice, cowardice greed, inimity, jealousy, malice, hard heartedness, cruelty, excessive anger, These evil traits are also known as 'Razaail' and 'Akhlaq-e- Razealah'. They are either 'Haram' or Makrooh. Each believer is obliged to rid himself of such traits.

Fadhaail and Razaail, both are related to one's inward state. They actually form the basis of our outward deeds. Whether one does good or evil (outward) deeds is in fact the outcome of one's good or evil traits.

Taqwa and love for Allah, for example, are inward states, but they have an impact on our outward deeds like acts of worship such as the prayer and the fast. They are a manifestation of one's inward state. And if one - in spite of instigations from Satan as well as one's own base desires - keeps away from looking at forbidden sights, fighting, quarrelling and other sins, then the reasons for restraining oneself are Taqwa and love for Allah.

Similarly if one commits any (outward) sin, then this is usually the outcome of some inward evil trait like: love for wealth, love for fame, enmity, jealousy, anger, laziness, pride, and so on.

The beauty or ugliness of one's outward deeds, and whether one's deeds are accepted or rejected by Allah, too, depends on one's inward state. Sincerity and ostentation are for example two opposite states that are related to all of our outward deeds. If for example a person prays, fasts, gives charity, performs the pilgrimage, etc only to show off or to become known as a righteous person, then these acts are not worthy of being called 'worship'. Similarly if someone engages in trade or crafts - which is as such a mundane activity in order to comply with Allah's command and to earn His good will and pleasure, then his doing so becomes an act of worship that deserves to be rewarded. This is the amazing outcome of sincerity and ostentation. The later turned out to be an act of worship into a mundane affair, while the former turned a mundane affair into an act of worship.

This is the meaning of the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم saying:

إِنَّمَا الْأَعْمَالُ بِالنِّيَّاتِ

'Indeed, all deeds depend upon the intentions.' (Mishkat Sharif, Hadith no. 1)

This holds true for almost all inward virtues and vices; they not only make a deed beautiful or ugly, acceptable or rejectable, but quite often they are the force that drives one to do a certain deed. This reality is reflected in one of the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم sayings:

أَلَا إِنَّ فِي الْجَسَدِ مُضْغَةً، إِذَا صَلَحَتْ صَلَحَ الْجَسَدُ كُلُّهُ، وَإِذَا فَسَدَتْ فَسَدَ الْجَسَدُ كُلُّهُ، إِلَّا وَهِيَ الْقَلْبُ.

'Behold! In the body there is a piece of flesh, if it is sound, then the whole body is sound, and if it is corrupt, then the whole body is corrupt.' (Sahih Bukhari)

All scholars and jurists are hence agreed that it is the duty of every sane adult to acquire traits of virtue and to rid oneself of evil traits. This duty is referred to as 'Islah-e-Nafs' (self reform), 'Tazkiyah-e-e-Nafs' (self mortification), 'Tahzeeb-e-Akhlaq' and 'Tazkiyah-e-Akhlaq' (moral and ethical reform). And exactly that is the objective and purpose of Tasawwuf (mysticism). (Radd-ul-Mukhtar ma'a Durrul Mukhtar, Awarif-ul-Ma'arif, Ihya-ul-Uloom)

Purity of one's heart and spirit, and cleansing of one's soul are the marrow of each and every religion and the very purpose of Prophet hood. The Holy Qur'an has mentioned four reasons for Sayyidina Muhammad's صلى الله عليه وسلم prophetic mission, the second of which is:

'And to purify them' وَيُزَكِّيهِمْ
(Surah Al-e-Imran, Surah jumu'ah)

In the Holy Qur'an has further been stated that a person's success or failure depends on whether or not he succeeded in purifying his soul:

قَدْ أَفْلَحَ مَنْ زَكَّاهَا ۖ وَقَدْ خَابَ مَنْ دَسَّاهَا ۖ

'Succeeded has he who has purified it, while he has failed who polluted it.' (Surah Shams, Ayat 9-10)

It has also been mentioned that sins are not only committed by one's outward, physical existence, but also by one's inward, spiritual existence, and that one must strictly avoid all kinds of sin, no matter whether outward or inward, as they all lead to Divine wrath and punishment. Allah Most High says:

وَذُرُوا ظَاهِرَ الْأَثَمِ وَبَاطِنَهُ ۚ إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يَكْسِبُونَ
الْأَثَمَ سَيُجْزَوْنَ بِمَا كَانُوا يَقْتَرِفُونَ

'And leave the manifest sins as well as the hidden ones' indeed, those who work evil shall soon be reprimed for what they wrought.' (Surah An'am, Ayat 120)

Hidden sins are those that have been discussed above They are the fountainhead of all manifest sins. Each and every sins originates from our world within.

In the terms of Tasawwuf such vices or inward sins are known as 'Razaail' or 'Akhlāq-e-Razeelah'. On the other hand, the inward virtues are the sources of all outward good deeds and acts of worship. Doing good is actually a reflection of one's inward virtuosity. Inward virtues are known as 'Fadhaail' (excellent moral values) (or 'Akhlaq-e-Hameedah' (good manners) in the terms of Tasawwuf (mysticism).

The list of outward good and evil deeds and the relevant Shara'i injunctions is long, and so is the list of inward good and evil deeds. They form the subject matter of Tasawwuf (mysticism). Below we shall discuss some of the 'Fadhaail' (excellent moral) and 'Razaail' (bad manners). From this ensuring discussion one can easily conclude how much the acquisition of 'Fadhaail' (excellent moral) the need to refrain from 'Razaail' (bad manners) has been emphasized in the Holy Qur'an and in the Sunnah. The injunctions regarding inward deeds have been given no less importance than those regarding outward deeds.

Exhortation to acquire Fadhaail (Excellent Moral)

The Importance of Taqwa (Piety):

Taqwa is an inward deed. Allah Most High mentioned right at the beginning of the second Surah that only those who has Taqwa (piety) shall truly benefit from the teachings of the Holy Qur'an Allah Says:

هُدًى لِّلْمُتَّقِينَ ﴿٢﴾

"Guidance of those who have Taqwa." (Surah Baqarah, verse 2)

Those who have Taqwa shall enjoy the ever lasting pleasures of Paradise. This has been mentioned again and again in the Holy Qur'an, for instance:

إِنَّ الْمُتَّقِينَ فِي جَنَّاتٍ وَنَعِيمٍ ﴿١٧﴾

'Truly those who have Taqwa shall be in gardens and delight.' (Surah Toor, verse 17)

The Holy Qur'an commands us again and again to adopt Taqwa, and it also tells us how, namely by sitting in the company of those who are truthful:

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا اتَّقُوا اللَّهَ وَكُونُوا مَعَ
الصَّٰدِقِينَ ﴿١١٩﴾

‘O ye who believe, adopt Taqwa and be with those who are truthful.’ (Surah Tawbah, verse 119)

In the sight of Allah there is only one criteria for honour, and that is Taqwa:

إِنَّ أَكْرَمَكُمْ عِنْدَ اللَّهِ أَتَقَىٰكُمْ

“Truly, the most honorable with Allah from among you is the one who has got the most Taqwa.” (Surah Hujrat, Ayat 13)

The above verses were only quoted as example. If one was to cite all verses that deal with Taqwa (piety), then this would fill several pages.

The importance of Sincerity:

Sincerity, too, is a deed of the heart. The significance of sincerity has been highlighted many times in the Holy Qur’an. For example the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was commanded:

فَاعْبُدْ اللَّهَ مُخْلِصًا لَهُ الدِّينَ ﴿٢﴾

“So worship Allah making religion pure for him.” (Surah Zumar, verse 2)

قُلْ إِنِّي أُمِرْتُ أَنْ أَعْبُدَ اللَّهَ مُخْلِصًا لَهُ الدِّينَ ﴿١١﴾

‘Say: I am commanded to worship Allah, making religion pure for him.’ (Surah Zumar, verse 11)

In the Holy Qur'an has been stated at seven different places:

مخلصين له الدين

'Making acts of obedience pure for Him alone.'

Exhortation to rely on Allah

Reliance on Allah or 'Tawakkul' is another in-ward act that the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was commanded to do, and along with that command he was also given glad tidings:

فَتَوَكَّلْ عَلَى اللَّهِ إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُحِبُّ الْمُتَوَكِّلِينَ ﴿١٥٩﴾

"So put you trust in Allah. Indeed Allah loves those who put their trust (in Him)." (Surah Al-e-Imran, verse 159)

And all Muslims were commanded:

وَعَلَى اللَّهِ فَلْيَتَوَكَّلِ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ ﴿١٢٢﴾

"And on Allah let the believers rely." (Surah Al-e-Imran, verse 122)

The Holy Qur'an tells us that all the former Prophets عليهم السلام exhorted their followers to put their trust in Allah. Sayyidina Musa عليه السلام for instance, said to his people:

يَقَوْمِ إِن كُنتُمْ ءَامِنْتُمْ بِاللَّهِ فَعَلَيْهِ تَوَكَّلُوا إِن كُنتُمْ مُسْلِمِينَ ﴿٨٤﴾

"O my people, if you are believers, then put your trust in Allah, if you have surrendered yourself (i.e. if you are Muslims)." (Surah Yunus, verse 84)

Allah Most High further explained His ways by Saying:

وَمَنْ يَتَوَكَّلْ عَلَى اللَّهِ فَهُوَ حَسْبُهُ ﴿٢٢٥﴾

“Whoever relies on Allah, He shall suffice him.” (Surah Talaq, verse 3)

Exhortation to patience and perseverance

‘Sabr’ is another inward virtue. Sabr means actually to remain steadfast in the event of something that is not according to one’s likes, and not to lose heart or get dejected.

Each and every moment of the Noble Prophet’s صلى الله عليه وسلم life is one example of ‘Sabr’, of patience and perseverance. In the Holy Qur’an he has been commanded:

فَأَصْبِرْ كَمَا صَبَرَ أَوْلُوا الْعَزْمِ مِنَ الرُّسُلِ

‘Then have patience even as the soul of heart among the messengers (of old).’ (Surah Ahqaf, verse 35)

And the believers were told:

وَلَيْن صَبْرْتُمْ لَهُوَ خَيْرٌ لِلصَّابِرِينَ ﴿١٢٦﴾

‘And if you are patient, then this is better for these who are patient.’ (Surah Nahl, verse 126)

The command to be patient is accompanied by glad tidings:

وَأَصْبِرُوا إِنَّ اللَّهَ مَعَ الصَّابِرِينَ ﴿٤٦﴾

‘And be patient. Lo! Allah is with those who are patient.’ (Surah Anfal, verse 26)

Those who are patient shall be blessed with paradise. Allah Most High says:

أَمْ حَسِبْتُمْ أَنْ تَدْخُلُوا الْجَنَّةَ وَلَمَّا يَعْلَمِ اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ جَاهَدُوا مِنْكُمْ وَيَعْلَمِ الصَّابِرِينَ ﴿١٤٢﴾

'Or deemed you that you would enter paradise while yet Allah knows not those of you who really strive, nor knows those of you who are patients.' (Surah Al-e-Imran, verse 142)

The Ayat cited above related to only four Fadhaail (excellence). If one was to compile all the verses and Ahadith on that topic, then that would make a quite thick book. The purpose of giving these few examples was to show that one's duties are not confined to out ward acts of worship alone.' The acquisition of Fadhaail is as much a duty as the offering of prayer, keeping the fast, etc. one may even go so far as to say that none of the outward acts of worship is complete unless one has acquired those Fadhaail (excellences).

The unlawful nature of Razaail (depravity)

The evil of pride:

Razaail are all those filthy, evil traits which have been explicitly forbidden in the Holy Qur'an and in the Sunnah. It is neither possible to mention the whole list of those vices, nor it is the purpose of this article. We shall however quote a few examples:

إِنَّهُ لَا يُحِبُّ الْمُسْتَكْبِرِينَ ﴿٢٣﴾

'Indeed, He does not love those who are proud.' (Surah Nahl, verse 23)

And those whom Allah loves not shall be made abide to hell:

أَلَيْسَ فِي جَهَنَّمَ مَثْوًى لِّلْمُتَكَبِّرِينَ ﴿٦٠﴾

'Is not in Hell the abode of those who are proud?' (Surah Zumar, verse 60)

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم himself said:

لَا يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ مَنْ كَانَ فِي قَلْبِهِ مِثْقَالُ ذَرَّةٍ مِنْ كِبَرٍ-

'No one in whose heart is as little as an atom's weight of pride shall enter paradise.' (Muslim Sharif)

The evil of ostentation:

Ostentation is a very dangerous matter. It ruins even the greatest act of worship, causing a person to be punished rather than rewarded. In the Holy Qura'n comes,

فَوَيْلٌ لِلْمُصَلِّينَ ﴿٤﴾ الَّذِينَ هُمْ عَنْ صَلَاتِهِمْ
سَاهُونَ ﴿٥﴾ الَّذِينَ هُمْ يُرَاءُونَ ﴿٦﴾

'So woe to those worshippers who are neglectful of their prayer, those who showoff.' (Surah Ma'oon 4-7)

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم declared ostentation to be minor shirk. He صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

إِنَّ أَحْوَفَ مَا أَخَافُ عَلَيْكُمْ الشِّرْكَ الْأَصْغَرَ، قَالُوا: وَمَا الشِّرْكَ
الْأَصْغَرُ يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! قَالَ: الرِّيَاءُ، يَقُولُ اللَّهُ عَزَّوَجَلَّ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ: إِذَا
جَازَى الْعِبَادَ، بِأَعْمَالِهِمْ، إِذْهَبُوا إِلَى الَّذِينَ كُنْتُمْ تَرَاءُونَ فِي الدُّنْيَا،
فَانظُرُوا هَلْ تَجِدُونَ عِنْدَهُمُ الْجُزَاءَ-

'Minor Shirk' is among the things I fear most for you. The people asked: 'what is minor shirk, O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم? He said: 'Ostentation. On the day of Judgment when the people get rewarded for their deeds, Allah the Glorious and Majestic shall say: 'Go to those to whom you showed off during your worldly life, see if you find reward with them.' (Musnad Ahmad, Tabarani, Baihaqi)

The evil of envy

Envy is a spiritual ailment that not only deprives one of peace in this world, but that shall cause one to suffer in the Here after as well. If one attentively reads the incidents narrated in the Holy Qur'an then one comes to realize that envy was the first sin that had been committed in the heavens, and the first sin that had been committed on earth. In heaven Iblis envied Sayyidina Adam عليه السلام and on earth envy led to the first ever murder Qabil had killed his brother Habil. Envy is so great an evil that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم was commanded to seek refuge from it:

وَمِنْ شَرِّ حَاسِدٍ إِذَا حَسَدَ ﴿٥﴾

“And from the evil of the envier when he envies.” (Surah Falaq, verse 5)

The Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

إِيَّاكُمْ وَالْحَسَدَ، فَإِنَّ الْحَسَدَ يَأْكُلُ الْحَسَنَاتِ كَمَا تَأْكُلُ النَّارُ الْحَطَبَ

“Beware of envy of envy consumes virtues just like fire consumes wood.” (Abu Dawood)

The evil of miserliness

Miserliness is another inward evil trait which prevents a person from spending from his wealth on others. In the Holy Qur'an this trait is mentioned along with those traits that are peculiar to infidels.

Allah Most High Says:

وَأَمَّا مَنْ نَحِلَ وَأَسْتَغْنَى ﴿٨﴾ وَكَذَّبَ بِالْحُسْنَى ﴿٩﴾
فَسَنِيْرُهُ لِلْعُسْرَى ﴿١٠﴾ وَمَا يُغْنِي عَنْهُ مَالُهُ إِذَا
تَرَدَّى ﴿١١﴾

“But as for him who stints and deems himself independent, and disbelieves in goodness. Surely we will ease his way unto adversity. When he perishes, his riches will not save him.” (Surah Layl, verse 8-11)

Anyone whose has reached such heights that it ever prevent him from fulfilling these duties that the Holy Shariah (divine law) has imposed on him shall be severely punished:

وَلَا تَحْسَبَنَّ الَّذِينَ يَبْخُلُونَ بِمَا آتَاهُمُ اللَّهُ مِنْ فَضْلِهِ هُوَ خَيْرًا لَّهُمْ بَلْ هُوَ شَرٌّ لَّهُمْ سَيُطَوَّقُونَ مَا بَخَلُوا بِهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ

“And let not those who hoard up that which Allah has bestowed upon them of His bounty think that it is better for them. Nay, it is worse for them. That which they hoard will be their collar on the Day of Resurrection.” (Surah Al-e-Imran, verse 180)

One who suffers from this ailments is infact not hurting others but himself. His miserliness deprives him of people’s love and friendship, of good reputation and of lawful comfort and ease, while in the hereafter he shall be deprived of Divine favours and rewards. This reality has been expressed in the Holy Qur’an as follows:

فَمَنْ كُفٍ مِّنْ يَبْخُلُ وَمَنْ يَبْخُلْ فَإِنَّمَا يَبْخُلُ عَنْ نَفْسِهِ

“And as for him who hoards, he hoards only from his own soul.” (Surah Muhammad, verse 37)

The worst from of miserliness is called ‘Shuhh’ in Arabic. Those who are saved from this evil shall be successful. In the Holy Qur’an comes:

وَمَنْ يُوقَ شُحَّ نَفْسِهِ فَأُولَٰئِكَ هُمُ الْمُفْلِحُونَ ﴿٩﴾

“And whose is saved from his own avarice, such shall be successful.” (Surah Hashr verse 9)

A definitions of Tasawwuf (mysticism) and Ilm-e-Tasawwuf (knowledge of mysticism)

The list of Fadhaail (bad manners) and Razaail (good manners) is long. Each and every trait has got its own definition and reality; causes and indicators. There are different ways of acquiring Fadhaail (good manners) and eliminating Razaail (bad manners). Details regarding this can be found in books on Tasawwuf (like Imam Ghazali's Ihya-ul-Uloom, Maulana Ashraf Ali's At-Tasharruf, Ta'leemud-deen, Rooh-e-Tasawwuf, Qasd-us-Sabeel, etc.....) as well as in the gatherings of the honorable Sufis. The purpose of this article is merely to show that inward deeds - just like outward deeds- can be classified as Fardh Ain (most compulsory), and Haram (unlawful), and fulfilling those inward Faraaidh (obligations) as well as eliminating those traits that are Haram (unlawful) is the very essence of Tasawwuf (mysticism). Imam Ghazali رحمه الله عليه gave a very detailed definition of Ilm-e-Tasawwuf (knowledge of mysticism), which had been summarized by Allamah Shami, as follows:

هُوَ عِلْمٌ يُعْرَفُ بِهِ أَنْوَاءُ الْفَضَائِلِ وَكَيْفِيَّةُ اكْتِسَابِهَا، وَأَنْوَاءُ الرَّذَائِلِ وَكَفَيْتَةُ اجْتِنَابِهَا

"Ilm-e-Tasawwuf- is the science of different kinds of praiseworthy traits and how to acquire them, and of different kinds of Razaail and how to refrain from them."
(Raddul Mukhtar ma'a Durrul Mukhtar 1/40)

Ilm-e-Tasawwuf (knowledge of mysticism) is - just like Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) - that kind of knowledge partial acquisition of which is Fardh-e-Ain (strict obligation), and total acquisition of which is Fardh-e-Kifayah (adequate obligation)

Each believing man and woman is obliged to acquire proper knowledge of injunctions pertaining to their day-to-day life, Acquiring full knowledge and understanding of Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence), so as to be in the position of issuing Fatawa, however is not an individual obligation (Fardh Ain). It is rather a communal obligation (Fardh-e-Kifayah).^①

① Note: There are two kinds of Fardh: Fardh-e-Ain (strict obligation) and

Similarly it is each and every Muslim's obligation to acquire those praise worthy traits which is lacking so far, and to eliminate those evil traits which are lurking within one's soul. In order to do so, one must have certain knowledge of Tasawwuf. Acquiring enough knowledge to rectify oneself is Fardh-e-Ain (strict obligation), while studying this subject in depth so as to be able to guide others, is Fardh-e-Kifayah. (Raddul Mukhtar 1/40, ma'ariful Quran 4/490)

The definition of Sufi and Murshid

Someone who has get thorough knowledge of Fiqh is known as 'Faqih', 'Mufti', or 'Mujtahid', Similarly one who is proficient in the sciences of Tasawwuf, Tariqat or Sulook, is known as 'Sufi', 'Murshid', 'Shaykh' or 'Pir'. Not everyone is in a position to directly derive fiqh injunctions, rules and regulators, from the Holy Qur'an and the Sunnah, one rather needs to consult one who has studied Fiqh in depth in order to find a Shara'i acceptable solution to one's problems. Similarly it is a very delicate task to make one's character and morals meet the high standards laid down by the Holy Qur'an and the Sunnah. In order to do so one must - at times - undergo many rigorous spiritual exercises and other forms of spiritual treatment. This however is not a task that one could accomplish without proper

Fardh-e-Kifayah (adequate obligation). Fardh-e-Ain (strict obligation) is that kind of obligation that has to be discharged by every Muslim man or woman, like prayers, fast, hajj (pilgrimage), Zakah (annual charity), etc. Fardh-e-Kifayah (adequate obligation) refers to that kind of obligation which, if it is fulfilled by some Muslims-absolves the others from discharging that duty, like for example shrouding and burying the dead, offering the funeral prayer, Waging war in Allah's way, acquiring full knowledge of Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) and Tasawwuf (knowledge of mysticism) etc. Even if there is only a single person in a settlement who can guide the people regarding legal and / or spiritual matters, then all the other Muslims living in that settlement stand absolved from the duty of acquiring such through knowledge. If however not a single such person is found, then it is the duty of those who reside in such a locality to either make one from among them acquire such knowledge, or to invite a scholar to like with them. If they fail to do so, then they all will be guilty. (Tafsir Ma'ariful Quran 4/487- 490) guidance and instructions, and providing such guidance is the task of a Shaykh or a Murshid. Hence every sane and adult Muslim, male or female, needs to find such a Shaykh who can aid them in their quest for self -correction and spiritual purification. Such a Shaykh must be a stout follower of the Holy Qura'an and the Sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice), and an authentic, acknowledged Shaykh in whose company he must have spent some time, must have granted him permission to become a spiritual guide for others. (Qasd - us - Sabeel)

Bay'at is a Sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice). It is neither Fardh (compulsory) nor Wajib (obligatory)

Bay'at or pledge of allegiance is actually a mutual promise between the Mureed (student) and the Shaykh. The Shaykh promises his student to teach him how to spend his life according to the Divine commandments, while the Mureed promises to do whatever his Shaykh tells him to do. Making such a pledge is neither Fardh (compulsory) nor Wajib (obligatory); self - correction is not impossible without the guidance of a Shaykh, it is rather a Sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم and the Noble companions رضى الله عنهم, and because of the pledge, both parties perceive their responsibilities in a stronger way. Through the blessings of Bay'at it becomes very easy to obtain one's objective.

Kashf and Karamat (revealed manifestation) are not the objective

At times it happens that a person who has succeeded in rectifying himself to a certain degree, i.e. who has - to a certain degree - managed to mould his life according to the Holy Qur'an and the Sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice), and whose life has been permeated by the ways of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم, experiences unusual phenomena like Kashf (manifestation), Karamat (divination) and Ilham (revelation). These things are a kind of reward from Allah and a number of such incidents have been attributed to some of the noble companions رضى الله عنهم and other friends of Allah. Such occurrences however are neither the objective of Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) or Tasawuf (mysticism), nor do the perfection of one's religion or knowledge depend thereupon. Glimpses of some things that are to take place in future and other extraordinary, unusual occurrences is no proof of perfection regarding religious matters, for at times even such people who do not follow the Holy Shariah (divine law), are in a position to accomplish such feats, after undergoing certain spiritual exercises. Those who practice mesmerism and magic also accomplish many strange things - being a Muslim or a devout believer is not the condition for that.

To sum up, Kashf (manifestation) and Karamat (divination) are not tricks, they are a reward from Allah which he occasionally bestows on some of His pious bondmen, but they are neither the objective of Tasawuf (mysticism), nor does the perfection of one's faith depend upon them.

The sole purpose is to abide by the Holy Shariah (divine law) and to please Allah Most High True perfection of faith lies in living according to the Holy Shariah (divine law) and to mould one's physical and spiritual existence accordingly. This yields one the good will and pleasure of Allah Most High, and this is the true objective of Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) and Tasawwuf (mysticism). This objective cannot be obtained without acting upon Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence), nor can it be obtained without acting upon Tasawwuf (mysticism). Neither Bay'at (pledge), nor spiritual exercises, nor Kashf (manifestation) and Karamat (divination) are the objective of Tasawwuf (manifestation). Bayat (piety) and spiritual exercises are rather a means of acting the objective.

Kashf (manifestation) and Karamat (divination) are a kind of reward that Allah bestows upon some of His servants who have attained the objective. Different kinds of people get different kinds of rewards. If for example a person success in rectifying himself without undergoing any spiritual exercises, and if he has never seen ever a single true dream or experienced something like Kashf (manifestation) or Karamat (divination), then yet there is no doubt in his being a perfect believer and a friend of Allah. Nor is a person who experiences Kashf (manifestation) and Karamat (divination) necessarily more beloved to Allah than a person who does not experience. Excellence and superiority are solely determined by a person's Taqwa (piety). The more Taqwa (piety) a person has the more honourable and dearer he is to Allah. In the Holy Qur'an has been stated:

إِنَّ أَكْرَمَكُمْ عِنْدَ اللَّهِ أَتَقَىٰكُمْ

"The most honorable with Allah is he who has got the most Taqwa (piety) from among you." (Surah Hujrat, verse 13)

The essence and reality of Tasawwuf (mysticism) that has been discussed in these pages is the gist of whatever has been stated in all authentic books on Tasawwuf (mysticism). It is whatever the honorable jurists and Sufis have taught throughout the ages. The Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم blessed life is the best example of those teachings, and after the articles of faith it is the gist of the Qur'anic message and the Sunnah. (Nawadirul Fiqh 1/42-59)

A strange incident of a father and his son Qurtubi recorded from Sayyidina Jabir bin Abdullah رضى الله عنه that once a person came to the Noble Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said: "Tell your father to come here. 'Right then Sayyidina Jibril عليه السلام appeared and said: 'When his father comes, then ask him about the words which he keeps reciting in his heart, and which have not even been heard by his ears.' Once the father arrived, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said to him: 'How come your son is complaining about you that you want to seize his wealth?' The father said: 'Just ask him whether I spend it on anyone else but his paternal aunt, his maternal aunt or my own person.' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Well, that's it (I do not need to know any thing else.) Then he said: 'What are those words that you keep reciting in your heart and that not have not even been heard by your own ears?' That person says: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, Allah causes my faith in you to grow more & more and no matter what (i.e. it is nothing short of a miracle that you know what no one was ever heard so far.) He further said: 'I keep reciting some verses in my heart which have not even been heard by my own ears.' He صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Let me hear those verses!' That person then recited:

عَذُوْتُكَ مَوْلَرِدًا وَمُنْتِكَ يَافِعًا
تُعَلِّ بِمَا أَجِنِّي عَلَيْكَ وَتُنْهَلِ
إِذَا لَيْلَةٌ صَافَتْكَ بِالسُّقْمِ لَمْ أَبِثْ
لِسُقْمِكَ إِلَّا سَاهِرًا أَتَمَلِّمِ
كَأَنِّي أَنَا الْمَطْرُوقُ دُونَكَ بِالَّذِي
طَرَفْتُ بِهِ دُونِي فَعَيْنِي تَهْمَلِ
تَخَافُ الرَّذَى نَفْسِي عَلَيْكَ وَأَهْمَا
لَتَعْلَمَنَّ أَنَّ الْمَوْتَ وَقْتُ مُوجِّلِ
فَلَمَّا بَلَغْتَ السِّنَّ وَالْعَايَةَ الَّتِي
إِلَيْهَا مَدَى مَا كُنْتُ فِيكَ أَوْمِلِ
جَعَلْتَ جَزَائِي غِلْظَةً وَفَظَاظَةً
كَأَنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْمَنْعَمُ الْمُتَفَضِّلِ
فَأَبَيْتَكَ إِذْ لَمْ تَرَعْ حَقَّ أُبُوَّتِي
فَعَلْتَ كَمَا الْجَارُ الْمُصَاقِبُ يَفْعَلِ
فَأَوْلَيْتَنِي حَقَّ الْجَوَارِ وَلَمْ تَكُنْ
عَلَى بِمَالٍ دُونَ مَالِكَ تَبْخَلِ

"I gave you to eat when you were little and I was in charge of you when you grew up. It was from my wealth that you ate and drank. "

If you fell ill at night I would not rest whole night because of your sickness.

It was as though your sickness had befallen me, not on you, and my eyes would shed tears throughout the night.

I always apprehended that you might die, though I know that death got its appointed times.

Then when you reached the age I desired you to reach, you paid me back with rudeness and harsh speech, as though you had bestowed your favours upon me.

Alas! If you are not able to discharge the right of me being your father then at least you should live with me like a kind neighbor.

Then at least you would have discharged the right of neighborhood, without being miserly when fulfilling my right from my own wealth.

When Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم heard those verses he took that person's son by the collar of his shirt and said:

أَنْتَ وَمَالُكَ لِأَبِيكَ

"You and your wealth belong to your father." (Qurtubi, Ma'ariful Qur'an 5/468)

An easy way of fostering love between husband and wife

An easy way of fostering love between husband and wife is that both keep praying for each other. Insha Allah within a couple of days only they will begin to love each other in a way they could never have thought of.

Remember, one needs cement to join one brick with another, one needs a nail to join one piece of wood with another, and needs glue to join one piece of paper with another.

But in order to join one's heart with another one needs Allah's special grace and favour. One open method to achieve that goal is that the wife obeys her husband in all that is lawful. Along with that, she should get in the habit of saying:

- 1). Yes, yes, yes.
- 2). Fine, fine, fine.
- 3). It will not happen again. It will not happen again.
- 4). I will do just as you say. I will do just as you say.
- 5). Please for give me. Please forgive me.
- 6). You are absolutely right. You are absolutely right.

And in order to complement this above-mentioned course of action, one should do something in secret as well , and that is that husband and wife pray for each other from the bottom of their hearts, that they forgive one another and consider one another the innocent victim of their own weakness. They should suppress the anger and frustration that boils up because of a mistake done by the other; all negative feelings should be lulled to sleep with love, kindness and affection.

The best cure for insomnia

In Tabarani has been recorded from Sayyidina Zaid bin Thabit رضى الله عنه that he had great difficulties in falling asleep at night. And even if he fell asleep, he would wake up many times. He complained to the noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم about this. The noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم advised him: 'recite this dua:

اللَّهُمَّ غَارَتِ النُّجُومُ وَهَدَاتِ الْعُيُوبُ وَأَنْتَ حَيُّ قَيُّومٌ يَا حَيُّ! يَا قَيُّومُ!
أَنْمِ عَيْنِي وَأَهْدِي لَيْلِي -

Sayyidina Zaid bin Thabit رضى الله عنه said: 'when I recited this dua, Allah granted me cure.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4/168)

Develop four traits

In Musnad Ahmad has been mentioned that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'If you have got four traits, then you will not suffer any loss even though the whole world might perish: guarding trusts and deposits, truthfulness of speech, a good moral character and source of lawful income.' (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4/284)

Two co-wives and their piety

In Baghdad lived a very rich trader who was known for his trustworthiness and acumen. Allah Most High caused his business to flourish. His customers came from far flung areas to make purchases. Along with that the trader had been blessed with a happy family life. His wife was beautiful virtuous and skilled. The trader loved his wife dearly, and she loved him beyond measure. In short, they spent a happy, comfortable life. Occasionally the trader had to go on a journey. That meant had to be away from home for several days. His wife considered these trips a business related necessity, and hence she would not mind it. But when the trader began to travel more frequently and when his trips would last longer than before, his wife became a bit suspicious.

An old woman happened to work in the trader's home, and the trader's wife trusted her a lot. There were many things which she would share with that old woman. One day she mentioned her suspicion to the old woman who calmed her down, saying: 'Lady, don't be upset. May your enemies despair instead. I will find out in no time what is going on. Soon the old woman found out that the trader had taken another wife, and that was the reason for his frequent absences. This came as a shock for the trader's wife. – Who has after all not heard of women's jealousy. Soon however she composed herself and thought: 'Whatever was to happen, had happened why should I spoil my life by worrying about this matter?' She thus never apprised her husband that she was aware of his secret. She served him with the same love and devotion as before.

The trader for, fulfilled his wife's rights just as he did before. There was not the least change in his behavior. He showered her with the same love and affection as before. His first wife could not help thinking about the matter, until she finally concluded that she will definitely not try to spoil her husband's legitimate pleasure. She thought: 'My husband could have told me that he wants to contract another marriage. Why did he do it secretly? He did so, because he know it would hurt me. He was afraid that I might become jealous of my co-wife! How sweet of him! How much he had taken my feelings into consideration. Then he did not allow himself to be overpowered by the love for his new wife. He did not curtail any of my rights. There has not been the slightest change in his behavior toward me. So why should I try to stop him from something that Allah has granted him? If I would do that, then who would be more ungrateful and unworthy than I, if I would not have due concern for the feelings of such a kind and loving husband? Why should I hurt him? Thinking this way, she felt completely at peace.

Seeing his wife's loving and sincere behavior, the trader was quite convinced that she was not aware of his secret, and he took utmost care to let her never ever find out. Thus they spent their lives in true bliss and happiness. A few years passed this way when suddenly the trader passed away. The trader had contracted his second marriage so secretly that not even his relatives were aware of it. They all thought that he had only one wife. When the inheritance was distributed, they gave the wife her share. She took it silently, without saying anything for she disliked to disclose the secret which her husband had kept so well throughout his life. But at the same time she did not want to usurp her co-wife's right, there was no doubt that she had no knowledge of her husband's demise, nor did she have anyone to represent her case, but Allah's knowledge encompasses everything. Each and every human being will have to face the Almighty one day, and be held acceptable for all his good and evil deeds. The trader's wife shivered when she thought of that and she decided then and there that she will send half of her share of the inheritance to her co-wife. She then told an extremely trust worthy person about the whole matter, gave him half of the money she had inherited and instructed him to go to her co - wife and to tell her that alas! Her husband has passed away - May Allah forgive him - and that according to the Islamic law, they both were entitled to have an equal share in the inheritance, and that she is sending the amount, hoping that it will be accepted. Once she had dispatched the message and the money, she was overcome by tranquility and peace of mind. After a few days however, the person whom she had sent, returned with the money. This upset the trader's wife very much. When she asked the messenger why he had come back with the money, he took out a letter from his pocket and said: 'Read this, everything is explained in this letter. There is no need to be upset.'

The Co-Wife's thought - provoking letter

Dear sister!

It had grieved me a lot that your dear husband had passed away, and that you are now deprived of his loving care. May Allah forgive him and may he shower him with His mercy. How could I ever thank your sincerity and selflessness - you had sent me half of your share in the inheritance. Your nobility of mind has greatly impressed me. Indeed, no one knew about this matter. My marriage had been contracted in utmost secrecy, and I was fully convinced that you were not aware of it, and not only I, even the late trader himself was sure that you had no idea about this. Your letter however showed that you knew about our secret. It is only natural for co-wives to be jealous. I am quite sure that this incident must have hurt you a lot, but Allahu Akbar! How patient and composed you were. Indeed, your patience and composure was unmatched. You never made even as much as any allusion to show that you know about this secret marriage. Your selflessness, patience and forbearance are really amazing. Your moral perfection had greatly impressed me. Who does not want to be rich? And to which extremes do people go in order to get rich? I salute your uprightness and honesty. In spite of knowing that my marriage had been a secret matter, that there was no one who knew about it, or to make a claim on my behalf, you sent me half of whatever you inherited. Your fear of Allah made you discharge my right. This is what conviction about Allah's omnipresence and omniscience should be like, and this is what a person's urge to fulfill the rights of Allah's servants should be like.

Dear Sister! Your honesty, uprightness and sincerity have impressed me beyond expression, may Allah bless you and may He grant you the goodness of both worlds. But I no longer deserve this share. May Allah grant you, blessing therein. It is true that the late trader had married me and that whenever he came he spent several days with me, and indeed these days were full of joy and happiness. But a while ago this had come to an end for the late trader had divorced me. Not even you knew about this. With this letter I want to thank you for your unmatched love, kindness, selflessness, sincerity and sympathy.

Wa Salam.

Your Sister

When the late trader's wife had finished reading this letter, she was truly impressed by her co-wife's honesty, virtue, and truthfulness. These traits had endeared them one to another and thus a long-lasting relation of love and friendship was established among them. (Siffatus-Safwah, Islami Ma'ashrah, p 152)

Three questions and three answers

Sayyidina Ibn Umar رضى الله عنهما narrated that Sayyidina Umar bin Al Khattab رضى الله عنه once said to Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه: 'O Abul Hasan! There were times when you could attend the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم gatherings while we could not, and at times we could attend his gatherings while you could not. I want to ask you about three things, do you know about them?' Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه: 'What are these three things?'

Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه said: 'At times one person loves another although he has not seen anything (particularly) good in him. And at times a person feels disinclined toward another although he has not seen anything disagreeable about him. What is the reason for that?' Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه said: 'I know the reason. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'the spirits of all mankind were kept together at a certain place in the realm of eternity. The spirits were close to each other. Those that were inclined to each other there also feel inclined to one another in this worldly life, while those who felt disinclined to one another also feel disinclined to one another in this worldly life.' Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه said: 'One of my questions has been answered.'

Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه then continued: 'At times it happens that a person forgets a Hadith, while at other times he remembers it. What is the reason for this?'

Sayyidina Ali صلى الله عليه وسلم replied: 'The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Sometimes clouds cover up the moon, and similarly there are clouds that cover up the heart. The moon is shining, but when it is covered by a cloud, darkness prevails. When the cloud drifts off, the land is again-illuminated by the moon. Similarly it is with a person who narrates Hadith. When his heart is covered by a cloud he forgets the Hadith, and when the cloud drifts away, he remembers it.' Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه said: 'the second of my questions has been answered.'

He then continued: 'At times a person sees a true dream while at other times he sees a false dream. What is the reason for that?'

Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه said: 'I know the answer. I heard the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: if a bondman or bondmaid of Allah is sound asleep, then his or her spirit rises up to the Mighty throne. If a spirit awakes on reaching the throne, then the dream is true, and if it awakes before reaching there, then the dream is false.'

Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه said: 'Now I have got the answers to three questions that had occupied my mind since a long time. Allah be praised that I got these answers before my death.'

(Hayatus - Sahabah 3/249)

Sayyidah Um Sulaim's رضى الله عنها strange question

Sayyidah Um Sulaim رضى الله عنها stated that she was a neighbor of one of the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم wives, Sayyidah Um Salmah. Sayyidah Um Sulaim رضى الله عنها once went over to Sayyidah Um Salmah رضى الله عنها. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم also happened to be there. Sayyidah Um Sulaim رضى الله عنها said: 'O Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم, tell me one thing: If a woman dreams that her husband has intercoursed her, will she have to take Ghusl?' On hearing this, Sayyidah Um Salamah رضى الله عنها exclaimed: 'O Um Sulaim! May your hands be besmeared with dust! You disgraced women in front of Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم. Um Sulaim رضى الله عنها replied: 'Allah Most High does not feel shy of telling the truth. If we have any problem then is it not better to ask the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, rather than to keep stumbling in the darkness of ignorance?'

The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'O Um Sulaim! May your Hands be besmeared with dust. If the woman sees seminal discharge (on her body or her clothes), then she will have to take Ghusl (bath).' Sayyidah Um Salamah رضى الله عنها said: 'do women also have seminal discharge?' Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said: '(of course), how would then a child resemble his mother? Women are not different from men regarding this.' (Hayatus - Sahabah 3/254)

An excellent question and the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم reply

Once during a journey a Bedouin came, stopped the Noble Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم camel, took it by its reins and said: 'Tell me what keeps me away from Hell and brings me close to paradise?' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم gave a most affectionate reply. Thereafter he said: 'Fine now let my camel's rein go.'

The full Hadith is given blow!

عَنْ أَبِي أَيُّوبَ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَنْهُ، أَنَّ أَعْرَابِيًّا عَرَضَ لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ وَهُوَ فِي سَفَرٍ فَأَخَذَ بِحِطَامِ نَاقَتِهِ . أَوْ بِرَمَامِهَا . ثُمَّ قَالَ : يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ! أَوْ يَا مُحَمَّدُ . أَخْبَرَنِي بِمَا يُقْرِبُنِي مِنَ الْجَنَّةِ وَيُبَاعِدُنِي مِنَ النَّارِ ؟ قَالَ : فَكَفَّ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ ، ثُمَّ نَظَرَ فِي أَصْحَابِهِ ثُمَّ قَالَ : لَقَدْ وَفَّقَ . أَوْ لَقَدْ هَدَى . قَالَ كَيْفَ قُلْتَ ؟ فَأَعَادَ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ :

تَعْبُدُ اللَّهَ وَلَا تُشْرِكُ بِهِ شَيْئًا ، وَتُقِيمُ الصَّلَاةَ ، وَتُؤْتِي الزَّكَاةَ ، وَتَهْتَدِي الرِّجْمَدَةَ الثَّقَاةَ .

On the authority of Sayyidina Abu Ayyub رضى الله عنه: Once during a journey a Bedouin intercepted the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم. He took hold of the reins of his camel. Then he said: 'O messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم' or 'O Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم! Tell me what brings me close to Paradise and keeps me away from the Fire?' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم stopped, looked at his companions and said: 'he has been guided.' Then he said: to the Bedouin: 'what did you say?' The Bedouin then repeated his question. The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'Worship Allah and ascribe no partners to him, establish the prayer, pay the Zakah (annual due charity) and strengthen, the ties of kinship. Let my camel go.'

In Muslim Sharif this Hadith has been mentioned with a short addition as well: after the Bedouin had left, the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said: 'If he firmly holds unto that, then he shall surely enter paradise. May Allah help us to live up to this statement of our beloved Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم Amin Ya Rabbal Alameen.

Note: From this incident one can conclude how kind and affectionate the Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was. While he was on journey, mounted on his camel, he was intercepted by a complete stranger. That stranger held him up and demanded: 'Tell me what brings me close to Paradise and keeps me ways from hell.' The Noble Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم did not show the least displeasure, he rather appreciated and encouraged his desire for knowledge; he even said to his companions: 'he has been guided!' Then he asked the Bedouin to repeat his question so that they may hear it. Then he answered the Bedouins question. In the end he asked the Bedouin to let the camel go. Allah -u- Akbar. How great is the rank of Prophet hood, and how great is the embodiment of kindness and mercy صلى الله عليه وسلم.

Prophetic Prescription for Relief from Worries

According to a hadith anyone who is in distress should wait for the adhan and after reciting the prescribed dua at the end of it he should make the following dua and then pray for fulfillment of his need and happiness. His dua will definitely be accepted. The blessed dua is:

اللَّهُمَّ رَبِّ هَذِهِ الدَّعْوَةُ الصَّادِقَةُ الْمُسْتَجَابُ لَهَا دَعْوَةُ الْحَقِّ وَكَلِمَةُ التَّقْوَى
 أَحْيَيْنَا عَلَيْهَا وَآمَنَّا عَلَيْهَا وَابْعَثْنَا عَلَيْهَا وَاجْعَلْنَا مِنْ خِيَارِ أَهْلِهَا آخِيَاءَ وَ
 أَمْوَاتًا (حصن حصين صفحہ نمبر 118)

Prophetic Cure for the Sharp-tongued

Abu Naeem has recorded in Hilyah this hadith narrated by Sayyidina Huzayfah رضى الله عنه that once I complained to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم about my sharp tongue. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم replied why are you negligent regarding istighfar? I recite istighfar (asking forgiveness) 100 times every day.

As per another tradition recorded by Abu Naeem I went to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and said 'O Messenger of Allah! I am sharp-tongued with my family. I fear that my tongue will head me to hell. The Holy Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم reply is almost the same-that I recite istighfar 100 times every day. You should also recite istighfar, abundance of which will cure the sharpness of your tongue.

Even Intentions carry Rewards

A man built a house. He also made windows in it. Then he brought pious person to his house for dua and for gaining Allah's blessings. The person asked him why you made windows in the house? He replied "for the sake of light" The pious person said why did you not make the intention that through the window you will hear adhan. Light and air will come in any case. (Hikayat-e-Rumi pg.89)

The Most Beloved Deed

Sayyidah Asma رضي الله عنها has narrated that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that the most beloved deed to Allah ta'ala is سبحه and the deed most disliked by Allah is تحريف. We asked "O Messenger of Allah! What is سبحه الحديث". The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم replied that it is to engage in تسبيح و تهليل (Saying 'SubhanAllah and La ilaha illallah) when others are carrying on a discussion. Then we asked "O Messenger of Allah! What is تحريف?" The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم replied "It is when people are keeping a good life yet when their neighbour or companion asks them about it, they say we are not well.

Sayyidina Abu Idrees Kholani عليه رحمة الله reported that Sayyidina Ma'az رضي الله عنه said that when you are in an assembly people engage in vain conversation. So when you see that people become negligent of Allah Ta'ala, you should turn to Allah wholeheartedly. Waleed says that when this hadith was narrated in front of Abdur Rahman Bin Yazid bin Jabir رضي الله عنه, he said that this is true and Abu Talha Hakeem bin Dinar told me that the Noble companions رضي الله عنهم used to say that the sign of an accepted dua is that when you see that people are negligent you turn towards Allah. (Hayat us Sahabah Vol II Pg. 343)

Acceptance of Dua in Bazaar

Abu Qalabah رضي الله عنه says that two people meet each other in a bazaar. One said to the other that right now people are negligent towards Allah. Let us ask Allah for His forgiveness. So they both did the same. Then one of them died. The other person saw him in his dream. He was saying that when on that evening we met in the bazaar Allah Ta'ala granted us His forgiveness. (Hayat us Sahabah V 3: 343)

Guarding against the evil of Jinns

Sayyidina Abdullah Bin Busr says that I started my journey from Hims. When I reached a specific part of land the Jinns of that region came to me. I then recited this ayah of Surah Araf:

إِنَّ رَبَّكُمْ اللَّهُ خَلَقَ الَّذِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ فِي سِتَّةِ
 أَيَّامٍ ثُمَّ اسْتَوَى عَلَى الْعَرْشِ يُغْشَى اللَّيْلَ النَّهَارَ يَطْلُبُهُ
 حَثِيثًا وَالشَّمْسَ وَالْقَمَرَ وَالنُّجُومَ مُسَخَّرَاتٍ بِأَمْرِهِ
 أَلَا لَهُ الْخَلْقُ وَالْأَمْرُ تَبَارَكَ اللَّهُ رَبُّ الْعَالَمِينَ

The Jinns then said to each other that you should now guard him till the morning (so they guarded me the whole night). In the morning I seated on my mount and left the place. (Hayatus Sahabah Vol 3: 326)

Teach Surah Nūr to your women folk

Sayyidina Miswar Bin Makhramah رضي الله عنه narrates that I heard Sayyidina Umar Farooq رضي الله عنه says that one should learn the teachings of Surah Baqarah, Surah Nisa, Surah Maidah, Surah Hajj and Surah Nūr Because all the acts made obligatory by Allah Ta'ala are mentioned in these Surahs. Harith bin Mudhrib رحمة الله عليه said that Sayyidina Umar رضي الله عنه wrote to us in a letter that we should learn Surah Nisa, Surah Ahzāb and Surah Nūr.

Sayyidina Umar رضي الله عنه said: Learn Surah Bara'at and teach your womenfolk Surah Nūr and make them wear silver jewellery.

Wedding should be simple

Sayyidina Urwah bin Zubair رضي الله عنه says that we were performing tawaf. During the tawaf I proposed to Sayyidina Abdullah Ibn Umar رضي الله عنه my marriage to his daughter. He remained quiet and did not reply. I thought if he was willing he would have said something. I swear upon Allah now I would not say anything to him about this. Allah be glorified he returned to Madinah before me. I came to Madinah later. And went to the Holy Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم mosque, presented my salam to him and tried to fulfill his rights according to his status. Then I went to Sayyidina Ibn Umar رضي الله عنه, he welcomed me and asked me when I had arrived. I replied "Just now." He said "we were performing tawaf and were trying to visualize that Allah ta'ala was in front of us when you made mention of (my daughter) Saudah Bint Abdullah. Although you could have met me somewhere else of this purpose." I said "it was destined to be like this and so it happened." He said "Now what do you think?" I replied "Now the desire is even greater than before." He therefore called his both sons Saalim and Abdullah and contracted my marriage.

A historical Wedding

It is a very sensitive moment when a father hands over his daughter to someone. Only those who have experienced such an occasion can tell the feeling. Even the strongest of men have stumbled on such occasions.

At such times it seems unlikely that any father prefers for his daughter a poor student instead of a rich prince. In modern times it is just unimaginable. However, these things were not so impossible in the past and are actually recorded in history.

Saeed Bin Musayyab was a high ranking tabi'i. He was in the second year of Sayyidina Umar's Caliphate and was the son of a companion. He died at the age of 75 in the year 95 hijri.

Saeed Bin Musayyab remained in the company of some of the great companions. The famous hafiz of hadith. Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه was his father in law and so he benefitted a lot with his company. Therefore a great part of the hadith narrated by Saeed bin Musayyab is that which he heard from Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه. He was a very pious person and an Aalim. Maymūn Bin Mehran says that when I went to Madinah and asked about the greatest faqih of Madinah, people directed me to the house of Saeed Bin Musayyab. In the words of Ibn Hiban "He was the leader of the people of Madinah." Even Hasan Basri رحمة الله عليه, would write to him whom he had doubt on any issue.

His Zuhd and taqwa was such that Sayyidina Abdullah Ibn Umar رضى الله عنه said that "The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم would have been very pleased if had he seen him." He was so particular about congregational prayer that for forty years he did not miss a single prayer with Jama'at. The incident of 'Hira' is very famous in the history of Madinah. It took place at the time when Yazeed and Abdullah bin Zubair were against each other. When the people of Madinah sided with Abdullah bin Zubair choosing Abdullah bin Hanzalah as their leader and breaking their pledge with Yazeed, the army of Yazeed started killing and looting the people of Madinah. In such difficult time nobody dared to step out of the house. Even the mosque remained empty. But Saeed Bin Musayyab still used to pray in the mosque. People used to say "Look at this crazy old man that he does not leave the mosque even in these circumstances.

The founder of Umawi Caliphate Marwan Bin Hakam had nominated Abdul Malik and (then) his brother Abdul Aziz as his successors to Caliphate. After Marwan, Abdul Malik took over but since he was mal-intentioned he wanted to nullify the succession of Abdul Aziz in favour of his sons Waleed and Sulayman. But he did not do so on the advice of Qubih Bin Zawaib. Abdul Malik was fortunate that Abdul Aziz died soon afterwards.

Now the road was clear for Abdul Malik. He nominated Waleed and Sulayman as his successors and ordered his provincial governors to give pledge to them. Hisham Bin Ismail who was the governor of Madinah, called Saeed Bin Musayyab from the people of Madinah for giving the pledge. But his response was "I cannot make another pledge as long as Abdul Malik is alive.

This was a serious matter because Saeed Bin Musayyab's refusal meant that no one from Madinah will come forward for the pledge. Hisham therefore punished him with lashes. Then Abu Bakr Bin Abdur Rahman was sent to him. On his return Hisham asked: Did Saeed soften up after the punishment. Abu Bakr replied: After the Punishment he was even more hardened, I swear upon Allah. You should stop now.

Abdul Malik thought of a scheme—that the person who did not give up after the lashes should be given a worldly offer. He thought he should have Sayeed Bin Músayyab's daughter married to his son. She was not only pretty but one had a good character and was also well educated. This way the father will be soften up. He gave this assignment of persuading Saeed Bin Musayyab to agree to the governor of Madinah, Hisham Bin Ismail Almakhdūmi (who was also close to Saeed Bin Musayyab).

Hisham knew that it would not work but he had to obey the order of the Caliph. When he visited Saeed Bin Musayyab he discussed other things with him at first and did not come straight to the point, later he said.

As you know Abdul Malik Bin Marwan intends to take from the people pledge of allegiance for his two sons before the pledge he want that you honour Waleed by accepting him as your son in law. On hearing this Saeed Bin Musayyab's faced turned red with anger. He said: I refuse to accept both the things.

As a result he had to suffer many hardships but he remained steadfast. At the same time he desired that to find a suitable husband for his daughter. Then he had his daughter married to an unknown, poor person of Quraish tribe, Abu Da'arh.

Renowned historian Ibne Khalkan has recorded this incident in detail in the words of Abu Da'ah himself.

I used to regularly attend the gatherings of Saeed Bin Musayyab. It so happened that I was not able to attend these gatherings for some time. Then when I went again he asked "Where were you since so long?" I said that my wife died so I was not able to come. He said "Why did you not inform me? I would have attended her funeral.

Then when I was about to leave he asked me if I have found a second wife, I said "May Allah have mercy on you who will marry a person like me who does not possess more than two or three dirham." He said "If I arrange your marriage?" I said

“What could be better than that?” then he praised Allah, sent durūd (benediction) on the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and contracted my marriage with his daughter over two or three dirhams.

Abu Da’ah Says that I got up from there- I was so delighted that I did not know what to do. I came back to my house and wondered from where will I get the loan for the wedding expenses. Then I offered my Maghrib prayer. I was fasting that day. After prayers I wanted to have meal which was bread and olive oil. At that moment there was a knock at the door. I asked who it was. The reply was ‘Saeed’. I thought of all the people by that name except Saeed bin Musayyab because for forty years Saeed Bin Musayyab had not been seen any where except in his house or in the mosque.

When I opened the door Saeed Bin Musayyab was standing right in front of me. The first thought that came to my mind was that he has changed his mind and he wanted to dissolve the marriage. I said to him “O Abu Muhammad! Why did you take the trouble. You should have ordered me to come. He said “No! This time it was necessary that I come”. I said “So what do you wish”? He said “I thought that you must be alone despite the fact that you are married now I did not like it that you spend the night alone. Here is your wife “At that moment Ibn Musayyab”, daughter was standing right behind him. He pushed his daughter inside the house, closed it from outside and went away.

My wife felt unconscious out of modesty. Then I closed the door from inside, went up on the roof and called the neighbours. They all gathered and asked what had happened. I said “Today Saeed Bin Musayyab has contracted my marriage with his daughter and just now he has left his daughter at my house-and she is inside the house. People saw her, my mother also arrived when she came to know about it. She said “You are forbidden to touch her until I spend three days, as per the custom, in beautifying her. So I restrained for three days. Then I went to her and I found that she is a beautiful lady, who has memorized the book of Allah, has knowledge of the Sunnah (Holy Prophet’s practice) and is aware of the rights of the husband.

Abu Da'ah says that then I stayed home for a month. During this period neither I met Saeed Bin Musayyab nor I heard any news of him. After one month I went to see him-at that there was a gathering. I said salam to him and he replied and said nothing else until all the people in the mosque left. When no one left except for myself he asked me "How is your companion?" I said "Couldn't be better". He said "If she does something undesirable, beat her." Then I came back home.

And this was the daughter of Saeed Bin Musayyab with whom Caliph Abdul Malik Bin Marwan wanted his son Walid to marry-at the time when he had appointed Walid as his successor. But Saeed Bin Musayyab refused to marry his daughter to prince Walid. Due to which Abdul Malik turned against him to the extent that he was whipped in extreme cold and cold water was poured over him. (Monthly Rizwan, Lucknow, October 1966, Pg 8-11)

Raise your head towards the sky, do Istighfār and smile

Hazrat Ali Bin Rabi'ah رحمه الله عليه says that Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه made me sit behind him and took me to Harrah. Then he raised his head towards the sky and said "O Allah! Forgive my sins because no one forgives sins except You." Then he looked at me and smiled. I said "O Amir -ul- Momineen! First you asked your Lord for forgiveness then you looked at me and smiled. Why did you do that? Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه replied" Once the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم made me sit behind him then took me to "Harrah. Then he raised his head towards the sky and said "O Allah! Forgive my sins because no one forgive sins except You, Then he looked at me and smiled. I said to him "O Messenger of Allah! First you asked your Lord for forgiveness then you looked at me and smiled. Why was that? The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said "I am smiling because my Lord is amazed at His slave and smiles (and Says) that this slave knows that there is no one who grants forgiveness but Me. (Hayatus Sahabah 3: 350)

To Read Ayatul Kursi in all corners of the House

Abdullah Bin Ubaid Bin Umair رحمه الله عليه says that When Sayyidina Abdur Rahman Bin Auf رضى الله عنه would enter his house he would read Ayat ul Kursi in all the corners of the house. (Hayatus Sahabah 3: 327)

Seek not refuge from fitnah (trial)

Seek refuge from fitnah (trial) that leads astray

Sayyidina Umar رضي الله عنه heard a man praying for refuge from fitnah. Sayyidina Umar رضي الله عنه said "O Allah! I seek your refuge from the wording of his supplication." Then he said to the man: "Are you praying to Allah not to give you wife, children and wealth? (Because in Quran these have been called fitnah). Whosoever desires refuge from fitnah should pray for refuge from fitnah that lead astray. (Hayatus Sahabah 3: 360)

Recipe from protection from Satan

Sha'bi رحمه الله عليه says that Sayyidina Abdullah bin Mas'ud رضي الله عنه said that whoever recites 10 ayah from Surah Baqarah in house no Satan will enter that house till the morning. Those 10 ayah are: The first four ayah of Surah Baqarah, Ayatal Kursi and the two ayah that follows it and the last three ayah of Surah Baqarah. (Hayatus Sahabah 3: 325)

To Sell at a higher price on installments is permissible

You must have seen that the vendors who sell on installments sell at a price higher than the market price. For example a motorcycle that costs Rs. 30000/= in the market will be sold for Rs. 35000/= on installment. Now if the price and the number of installments are agreed upon such a sale is permissible.

However if the buyer does not pay any installment on time the price of the commodity will not increase because once the price has been agreed upon it is not permissible to increase it later.

(Darse Tirmidhi 4:104, Shaikh Taqi Usmani)

Allah will make peace between the oppressor and the oppressed

Sayyidina Anas رضي الله عنه says that once we saw that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was smiling. Sayyidina Umar رضي الله عنه asked 'O Messenger of Allah! What is the reason that you smile?' The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم replied "Two of any people kneel down before Allah. One says to Allah "O Lord! He did me wrong. I want to be compensated. Allah says to him (the oppressor) to compensate for his oppression. The oppressor says "O Lord! I am left with no good deed any more to give to him as compensation. The oppressed then says "O Allah! Let him carry the burden of my sins." While saying this the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم eyes became wet with tears and he said "It will be a day of severe hardship. People will be willing to put the burden of their sins on anyone else.

Now Allah ta'ala will say to the one seeking revenge "Raise your head and look towards Jannah! He will raise his head and say "O Lord! It has palaces of silver and gold, made of pearls. O Lord! To which prophet or siddiq or shaheed do these palaces belong to? Allah ta'ala will say "They are given to anyone who can pay their price." He will say "O Lord! Who can pay their price?" Allah ta'ala will say "You can pay their price." He will then say "How O Lord?" Allah Jalla Shanahu will say "By forgiving your brother." He will say "O Lord! I forgiven". Allah will say "Now you both hold each others hands and enter the Jannah." Then the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said "Fear Allah! Make peace between yourselves because on the day of Judgment Allah ta'ala will also make peace between the believers." (Tafseer Ibn Kathir 2: 269)

The strange story of the death of Sa'ad Bin Ma'az

Sayyidina Jabir رضي الله عنه has narrated that when (the famous Ansari companion) Sa'ad Bin Ma'az passed away we a long with the Holy Prophet ﷺ went for for his funeral. Then after the Holy Prophet ﷺ led the funeral Prayer, and he was placed in his grave and the grave covered, the Holy Prophet ﷺ said SubhanAllah, SubanAllah (we also followed him) we also kept saying Subhan Allah, Subhan Allah for sometime. Then the Holy Prophet ﷺ started saying AllahuAkbar, AllaluAkbar and we also started saying AllahuAkbar, AllahuAkbar. Then the Holy Prophet ﷺ was asked "O Messenger of Allah! What was the purpose of tasbih and tahleel on this occasion?" the Holy Prophet ﷺ replied "The grave of this pious slave of Allah was getting narrower (due to which he was in pain) until Allah ta'ala removed this condition of narrowness and made the place spacious and his pain was removed. (Musnad Ahmad)

- 8). The verdict that Sa'ad Bin Ma'az gave about Banu Quraizah, the Holy Prophet ﷺ said "O Sa'ad the verdict you have given is also the verdict of Allah ta'ala above the heavens.
- 9). When the musk fragrance would be discharged from his grave, the Holy Prophet ﷺ would say "How wonderful is the fragrance from the grave of a believing man."

- 10). The room in which the dead body of Sa'ad bin Ma'az , was Laid, was full of angels that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم could find a place to sit only after one angel moved his wing.
- 11). When the body was lifted the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said "the angels are carrying his body."

Despite all this he had to bear the narrowness of the grave (though it was immediately removed). It carried a warning and a lesson for people like us.

اللَّهُمَّ أَرْحَمْنَا اللَّهُمَّ احْفَظْنَا

O Allah! Have mercy on us, O Allah! Protect us from the punishment of the grave.

The Ameer of Domat ul Jandel sent a silk Jubbah (gaberidine) for the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. The noble companions had never seen such a precious and wonderful Jubbah. They would touch it again and again and would express their amazement at its softness. On seeing this the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said "Does it Seem so nice to you? The handkerchief of Sa'ad Bin Ma'az in Jannah is much better and softer than this. (Take reference from the book).

Qualities of a wife

A woman should bear the following attributes as it makes the nikah blessed:

- 1) The woman should be virtuous and religious. This is very important because if the woman is weak in person and in guarding her modesty then things may get complicated. That is why the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said

تُنكِحُ الْمَرْأَةَ لِأَرْبَعٍ لِمَالِهَا وَلِحَسَبِهَا وَلِجَمَالِهَا وَلِدِينِهَا فَاظْفَرُ بِدَاتِ الدِّينِ

تَرِبَتْ يَمَلِكُ

A woman is married for four things

- 1) Her wealth

- 2) Her ancestry
- 3) Her beauty
- 4) and her religion.

Thus may your hands be smeared with dust you should opt for the religious one. (Bukhari, Muslim)

- 2) The woman should bear good morals. If anyone wants to be free from worries and wants religious assistance, having such a woman is essential. One will be benefitted if he gets such a woman. Some Arab has said that one should not marry six kind of women:

- i) أَنَانَةٌ :is a woman who is always bickering. She creates a scene over petty issues.
- ii) مَنَانَةٌ :is a woman who is always reminding her husband of the things she did for him.
- iii) حَنَانَةٌ :is a woman who is in love with her first husband or the children from the first husband.
- iv) حَدَّاقَةٌ :is a woman who desires everything and asks her husband for these things.
- v) بَرَّاقَةٌ :is a woman who is always busy in beautifying herself.
- vi) شَدَّاقَةٌ :is a woman who is always shouting.

One should not marry these (6) types of women.

The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said "Allah ta'ala is wroth with those who are excessively nagging and...

- 3) The woman should be good looking so that the eyes do not look at the other women. That is why it is desirable to see the woman before nikah (wed lock). Allah ta'ala has praised the hūr of Jannah (Damsel) by calling them خيرات حسان meaning beautiful women having good moral and اطراف قاصرات meaning women who lower their gaze. Therefore any women possessing these attributes is a hūr of Jannah.

- 4) Mahr should be little- The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that the best of wives are those who are beautiful and whose mahr is little. And he said that blessed is the women whose mahr is little.

Just as it is makrūh (unbecoming) to have excess mahr from the woman's side similarly it is not good that a man inquires about the financial status of a woman or takes money from her.

One should not marry a woman because of her wealth. Sufyan Thuri رحمه الله says that when a man gets married and inquires about what does the woman possess and how much wealth she has then you should know that he is a thief. And when sends a gift to his in-laws he should not have the intention of getting more in return. Similarly from the girl's side people should not have this mal-intent. As far as sending gifts is concerned, it is a mean of increasing friendship. This Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

تَهَادُّوا تَحَابُّوا

Give gifts to each other, it will increase mutual love.

- 5) The woman should not be infertile. If this is known in advance then one should not marry her. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

عَلَيْكُمْ بِالْوُلُودِ الْوُدُودِ

Marry a woman who gives birth to children and who loves her husband.

- 6) The woman should be virgin as then her husband's love for her is absolute.
- 7) Woman's family background must be honest and virtuous. Because such a woman would do better upbringing of her children as opposed to the one having a poor family background. (Mukhtasar Mazaqul Arifeen 2: 142)

Begin your work early in the morning Insha Allah it will be a source of blessings

Sakhr Alghamdi رضى الله عنه says that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم made dua "O Allah! Grant your blessings to my ummah in the morning time." There fore when the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم would send an expedition for jihad he would do so early in the morning. It is said that Sakhr al Ghamdi رضى الله عنه was trader and used to send his goods of trade early in the morning. Through its blessings he became well off and wealthy. (Ibn Majah, Tarjman as Sunnah vol iv pg. 478)

Treat with honour the leader of a nation when he visits you

Although Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه accepted Islam very late but he is counted amongst the high ranking companions. He was the leader of his people. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had announced his arrival even before he came to Madinah Tayyabah. The story of his acceptance of Islam is a manifestation of his status and grandeur.

When he entered Masjid Nabawi, the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم was giving a sermon. The mosque was full and he was unable to find a place. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم spread for him the cloak that he was wearing and said "Sit on this". He put the cloak on his chest and said:

اَكْرَمَكَ اللهُ كَمَا اَكْرَمْتَنِي يَا رَسُولَ اللهِ

May Allah honour you in the manner that you have honoured me.

The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم insisted that he sits on the cloak and said:

أَشْهَدُ أَنَّكَ لَا تَبْغِي عُلوًّا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَلَا فَسَادًا

I bear witness that you do not desire superiority in the land nor do you intent to do any mischief.

It was in this assembly that Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه embraced Islam.

According to some traditions of this incident the noble companions asked the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم about the extraordinary treatment Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه was given. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم replied:

إِذَا آتَاكُمْ كَرِيمٌ قَوْمٍ فَأَكْرِمُوهُ

“If the leader of a nation comes to you treat him with honour.”

Even afterwards the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم used to treat him with honour. Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه himself says.

After embracing Islam whenever I would visit him and ask for permission to enter he would always allow me. And he would always look at me with a smile.

During the age of ignorance the people of Yemen constructed an imitation of Ka'aba which was named “Dhul khalsah” They used to call it Ka'aba Yamamiah. They kept few idols in it and used to worship them. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم remained bothered because of it. He said to Jareer رضى الله عنه “If you destroy this false imitation of Ka'aba my heart will be relieved.”

Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه says that in obedience of his command I decided to travel with 150 troops to Yemen. But my condition was such that I did not know how to ride a horse and therefore would fall down. I told the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم about it. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم hit my chest with his blessed hand and prayed

اللَّهُمَّ تَبِّئْهُ وَاجْعَلْهُ هَادِيًا مَهْدِيًّا

“O Allah! Make Jareer firm on the horse’s back and make him the one who gives and who is given guidance.”

Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه says that through the blessings of this dua I became such a good rider that I never fell from the horse again. And then I went with my companions and destroyed the “Dhul Khalsa”, the false Kabah, and burnt it into ashes. When the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم learnt about our success he made five times dua (pray) of barakah for me and my companions.”

Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه was also with the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in the farewell hajj (pilgrimage) and the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم asked him at the time of khutbah to tell the people to remain quiet.

Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه, during his caliphate, sent him to take part in the battles in Iraq where he performed several acts of valour. He had a major contribution in the conquest of Qadsia. After these battles were over he settled in Kūfah and that is where he passed away.

Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه loved very much the people of Madinah especially the Noble Ansari companions. Sayyidina Anas رضى الله عنه says that in one Journey I was in the company of Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه. On the way he was taking good care of me. When I tried to stop him he said “I have seen the manner in which the noble Ansari companions used to treat the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم after which I have sworn that whenever I get the company of an Ansari companion I will serve him.” In Sahih Muslim, the narrators of this tradition, Muhammad Bin Almusni and Muhammad Bin Bishaar رحمه الله عليه have further added that Sayyidina Jareer رضى الله عنه was older than Sayyidina Anas رضى الله عنه.

While his inward capabilities were exceptional Allah ta’ala had granted him outward beauty as well. He was extremely good looking. Sayyidina Umar Farooq رضى الله عنه used to call him i.e. he is in this ummah as beautiful as Yusuf عليه السلام.

يُوسُفُ هَذِهِ الْأُمَّةِ

(Maarif ul hadith 8: 692)

Five things are severe in the sufferings of this world

Wise people have said that when we observed the sufferings of this world we saw that five things were severe in hardship: (i) sickness in a foreign land (ii) poverty in old age (iii) death at a young age (iv) to loose eyesight (v) parting company after having been together. (Maktūbate Sadi pg. 259)

The high morals of Sayyidina Mu'awiyah رضى الله عنه

Sayyidina Wa'il bin Hajr رضى الله عنه narrated that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم granted him a piece of land in "Hadramaut" and sent alongwith him Sayyidina Mu'awiah رضى الله عنه So that he could hand over the property to Sayyidina Wa'ail رضى الله عنه.

Sayyidina Wa'il Bin Hajr was one of the senior ranking leaders of "Hadramaut" when the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم sent Sayyidina Mu'awiyah رضى الله عنه along with him to 'Hadramaut', he was riding a camel while Sayyidina Ameer Muawiah رضى الله عنه had no camel that's why he was walking. On their way when the sun got hotter in the desert and Ameer Muawiah's feet began to hurt with the heat, he said to Wa'ail Bin Hajr رضى الله عنه that "it is very hot, my feet are burning. Let me sit on the camel with you so that I can be saved from the heat."

He replied

كُنتَ مِنْ أَرْدَافِ الْمُلُوكِ

You do not deserve to sit behind kings.

Therefore you should walk in the shadow of my camel. And that is how Sayyidina Muawiyah رضى الله عنه completed his journey from Madinah Munawarraah to Yemen because the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم ordered him to accompany Wail bin Hajr رضى الله عنه. He therefore went their handed over the land and came back.

After some time it so happened that Sayyidina Ameer

Muawiyah رضي الله عنه was appointed as Caliph. During that time when Sayyidina Wa'ail bin Hajr رضي الله عنه came to see him from Yemen to Damascus, Sayyidina Ameer Mu'awiyah رضي الله عنه came outside to welcome him and treated him with lot of honour and kindness. (Darse Tirmidhi 4: 347)

The one who commits suicide may not be a Kafir (infidle) He may also be forgiven

Sayyidina Jabir رضي الله عنه narrates that Tufail bin Amr Addosi رضي الله عنه came to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم (with the request of migration to his tribe) and said "O Messenger of Allah! Would you agree to migrating to a strong fort and a guarding group of people? According to the narrator in the age of ignorance the Dos tribe had a fort - The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم because of the good fortune Allah ta'ala had given to the ansaar-did not accept the offer.

When the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم migrated to Madinah Tufail Bin Amr also migrated to Madinah along with another man from his tribe. Incidentally the climate of Madinah did not suit them and the man fell so sick that he could not bear the suffering. He took out the tip of his arrow and cut with it his finger joints. His hands started bleeding until he died.

Tufail Bin Amr saw him in his dream. His face looked good but his hands were covered. He asked "How did your Lord treat you?" he replied "I was forgiven through the barakah of having migrated with the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Then he asked him "Why do you have your hands covered?" he replied "I have been told that what you have damaged we will not repair." Tufail narrated this dream to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم who made this dua (pray) "O Allah! Forgive his hands as well."

Explanation:

Through this hadith we learn that even forgiveness can be divided. Here the forgiveness had encompassed the whole body of Tufails companion but because Allah's trust was breached his hands remained free from forgiveness. How fortunate was this man that his case was presented before the Holy Prophet ﷺ who raised his blessed hands to beg for his forgiveness. Mercy then took over every inch of his body. (Muslim, Tarjuman us Sunnah 2: 124)

Read Surah Ikhlas 10 times to protect yourself from sins

Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه said that whoever reads Surah Ikhlas 10 times after morning prayer will be protected from sins throughout the day no matter how hard the Satan tries.

The Holy Prophet ﷺ said "Read قل هو الله احد (Surah Ikhlas) and Muadhatain Falaq and Surah Nās) three times each in the morning and in the evening. It will protect you from every thing. (Hayatus Sahabah 3: 324)

In the night of Isra (ascension) the angels advised to do cupping but today people have left it

Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masūd narrated of the things that Holy Prophet ﷺ told us that took place in the night of Isra one thing was that whichever group of angels he passed by advised him to order his Ummah to perform cupping. (Mishkatul Masabih ph 389)

Cupping was quite common among the Arabs. It removes excess and harmful blood. It is an effective treatment of the wide spread problem of blood pressure. People have left it altogether. The Holy Prophet ﷺ had cupping performed on his head and between the shoulders.

Protection from the evil of Jinn

In the Muwatta of Imam Malik it has been recorded from Yahya Bin Saeed that in the night of Isra the Holy Prophet ﷺ saw a jinn who was following him carrying a flame of fine whenever the Holy Prophet ﷺ turned (towards his right or left) he saw him. Jibril عليه السلام said "Shall I not tell you the words which if you read will extinguish his fire and he will fall on his face. The Holy Prophet ﷺ replied "Yes! Tell me." Jibril Ameen asked him to read this.

أَعُوذُ بِوَجْهِ اللَّهِ الْكَرِيمِ وَبِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ الثَّمَاتِ الَّلَاتِي لَا يُجَاوِزُ هُنَّ بَرٌّ
وَلَا فَاجِرٌ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا يَنْزِلُ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ وَشَرِّ مَا يُعْرَبُ فِيهَا وَشَرِّ مَا ذَرَأَ فِي
الْأَرْضِ وَشَرِّ مَا يُخْرَبُ مِنْهَا وَمِنْ فِتَنِ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ وَمِنْ طَوَارِقِ
اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ إِلَّا طَارِقًا يَطْرُقُ بِخَيْرٍ يَا رَحْمَنُ!

Protection from the fire of Hell

The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that the fire of hell will not taste such a man who in his sickness recites these words and then dies

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا
شَرِيكَ لَهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ لَهُ الْمُلْكُ وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا
قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ. (Tirmidhi, Hadith No. 3430).

Turning away from a desire makes man a leader following a desire makes a leader a prisoner

Turning away from a desire is what leaders do - abandoning desires is the strength of prophet hood- when your nature becomes subservient to you, sincerity will be yours.

There are two types of desires.

Carnal desires

Desires of status and rank

The one with carnal desires lives secluded and drinks wine. People remain safe from his fitnah, his evil. But the one who desires status and rank lives in places of worship, in assemblies and is therefore fitnah for the people. He is himself misguided and he misguides others.

The one whose actions are in obedience of his desires and he only wants to please his nafs (base-instincts) he will remain away from Allah even if he reaches the skies. While the one who stays away from his desires and does not obey his nafs he will be close to Allah even if he is in a place of idol-worship.

Khwaja Ibrahim Khawas رحمه الله عليه says "I heard one day that a monk from Rome adhered to celibacy for 60 years. I was surprised because the condition of celibacy is of not more than 40 years. Why is he still in the church I decided to meet him. When I went to him he opened the window and said "O Ibrahim! I know what brings you here. I am not here observing celibacy-rather I have a dog having evil desires. I have imprisoned it here and guarding so that its mischief does not reach to the people- otherwise I am not what you think I am". (Nafs is extremely unfaithful- it is not easy to kill it).

Khwaja Ibrahim says that after hearing conversation I said "O Lord! You are so powerful that you bring people to guidance from the path of falsehood and give them such a status." He then said to me "O Ibrahim! How long will you keep searching for men. Go back and search yourself and when you found yourself be your own guard.

It is the desire of the nafs which clad in 360 different divine forms everyday and invites people to misguidance.

أَفْرَأَيْتَ مَنْ أَخَذَ إِلَهَهُ هَوْنَهُ
(سورة جاثية: آيت ٢٣)

Did you see line who takes his desire as his god.

Turning away from desires makes man a leader and following a desire makes a leader a prisoner. Just as Zulaikha followed her desire and became a prisoner. While Yusuf عليه السلام turned away from the desire, he was a prisoner and became a leader. (Maktūbat Sadi pg. 497)

A woman related her dream to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم

It is recorded in Musnad Ahmad that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم liked dreams. Sometimes he would ask if anyone has seen a dream. If anyone would narrate his dream and the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم would be happy to hear it he would feel good about it.

Once a woman came to the Holy Prophet ﷺ and said "O Messenger of Allah! Today I have seen a dream in which someone came to me and took me from Madinah to Jannah. Then I heard an explosion which caused a panic in Jannah. When I looked up I saw fulan bin fulan (the person so and so) she took the names of twelve people. Many days back the Holy Prophet ﷺ had sent an expedition of an army of the same twelve people. She said "they were brought. They were wearing clothes made of Utlas (silk). They seemed to be very spirited. An order was given that they should be taken to the stream "Baidakh" or it was "Baizakh". When they dived into the stream their faces lit like the full moon. Then in a gold tray were brought gadri (half ripe) dates which they had as much as they liked. There were also all types of fruits all around. They picked and ate the ones they wanted. I also joined them and had the fruits."

After a long time a messenger came and said that fulan and fulan whom you had sent in the expedition have attained martyrdom. He named twelve people and they were the same twelve people the woman saw in her dream. The Holy Prophet ﷺ called that fortunate lady companion and asked her to relate her dream one more time. She related the dream and named the same twelve people the messenger had named. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir Urdu 5: 251)

The Presence of Satan during meals is a fact

Sayyidina Jabir رضي الله عنه has narrated that I myself heard the Holy Prophet ﷺ say that in your every action Satan remains with each one of you even while you are eating. Therefore if anyone drops a morsel of food while having meals he should clean it and eat it instead of leaving it for Satan. Then when he is through he should also lick his fingers because he does not know which part of the food contains special barakah. (Sahih Muslim)

In the last part of the hadith we have been advised to lick our fingers after finishing our meals. While in the beginning part it has been said that if you drop a morsel of food you should not leave it like the arrogant, indifferent people do. Instead you should behave like a needy person who knows, the worth of it. You should pick it up and clean it if needed and eat it. Further, we have informed that even while having our food Satan remains with us. If that morsel of food will not be consumed Satan will consume it.

As earlier mentioned, angels and satans are those creations of Allah which always remain with us but we cannot see them. Whatever the Holy Prophet ﷺ told us about them is from the knowledge Allah ta'ala granted him - and it is the truth. And sometimes the Holy Prophet ﷺ could see them like we see the material things of this world - as is known through many Ahadith. That is why such Ahadith in which there is mention of presence of Satan during meals or that if Allah's name is not recited before meals then Satan shares the food or that the dropped morsel is taken by the Satan - such ahadith should not be taken as symbolic in their meaning. In explanation of this Hadith, Shah Waliullah Muhaddith Dehlvi has narrated this incident in Hujjatullah Albalighah that one day a friend (a student or a disciple) came to meet us. He was served food. While he was having it a morsel of food fell down. He tried to pick it up but it went further a way. The people who were present (and were watching) were amazed at what was happening. The man followed the morsel as it continued to get away from him until he finally grabbed it and ate it.

After some days a man was possessed by Satan Jinn and started speaking in his voice and said that fulan man (he took his name) was having his food. I went to him and liked the food but he did not let me have it so I snatched it from him (and threw it on the floor) but he snatched it back from me.

Another incident narrated by Shah Waliullah happened in his own house. He says once some people of the family were eating carrots. One carrot fell down but one man immediately picked it up and ate it. After some time he was possessed by Satan or jinn who spoke in the man's voice and said that this man ate my carrot.

After recording these incidents Shah Waliullah رحمه الله states that we have come to know of many similar stories due to which we conclude that the ahadith (in which there is mention of Satan's presence at the time of our taking meals) are not symbolic in their meaning rather they are factual- And Allah knows best. (Maariful Hadith 6: 269)

The strange superiority of the last two ayah Surah Baqarah

- 1). According to Sahih Bukhari if anyone recites these two ayah at night they are sufficient for him.
- 2). According to Musnad Ahmad the Holy Prophet ﷺ have been given ending ayah of Surah Baqarah from the treasure beneath the great throne. No Prophet ﷺ before me was given them.
- 3). According to Sahih Muslim in the night of Isra when the Holy Prophet ﷺ reached Sidratul Muntaha, which is in the seventh heaven - whatever ascends towards the skies stops at this point and then is taken over from here and whatever descends towards the skies stops at this point and then is taken over from here. The Sidratul Muntaha was covered with locusts of gold. There the Prophet ﷺ was given three things (i) Five times prayers (ii) The ending ayat of Surah Baqarah (iii) forgiveness from all sins for the people of Tauhid.
- 4). It is stated in Masnad (Ahmad) that the Holy Prophet ﷺ said to Uqbah bin Amir رضى الله عنه "Recite frequently the last two ayah of Surah Baqarah. They have been given to me from the treasures beneath the Arsh.
- 5). It is stated in Ibn Mardawiyah that we have been given superiority over others in three matters. I have been given the ending verse of Surah Baqarah from the treasures beneath the Arsh (empyrean). These were not given to anyone before me nor will they be given to anyone after me.

- 6). It is stated in Ibne Mardawiyah that Sayyidina Ali رضى الله عنه said "I don't know anyone who knows Islam and goes to sleep without reciting Ayatul Kursi and the ending ayah of Surah Baqarah. It is a treasure your Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has been given from treasure beneath the Arsh (empyrean).
- 7). It is stated in a hadith in Tirmidhi, Shareef that two thousands years before creating the heavens and the earth Allah Ta'ala wrote a book in which he sent two verse to end Surah Baqarah. If these are recited in a house for three nights, Satan cannot even come close to that house. Imam Tirmidhi has called this hadeeth 'ghareeb' but Hakim has called it 'Sahih' in Mustadrak.
- 8). It is stated in Ibn Mardawiyah that when the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم would read the end of Surah Baqarah and Ayatul Kursi he would smile and say that these two are the treasure from beneath the Arsh (empyrean) of Rahman and when he would recite the verse.

مَنْ يَعْمَلْ سُوءًا يُجْزِ بِهِ

The ayah

وَأَنْ لَّيْسَ لِلْإِنْسَانِ إِلَّا مَا سَعَى وَأَنْ سَعْيُهُ سَوْفَ يُرَى ثُمَّ يُجْزَاهُ الْجَزَاءُ الْأَوْفَى

He would say انا لله and would look sad.

- 9). It is stated in Ibn Mardawiyah that I have been given Surah Fatiha and the ending verse of Surah Baqarah from beneath the Arsh (empyrean).
- 10). According to a hadith we were sitting in the company of the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Jibril عليه السلام was also there when we heard a grand explosion in the sky. Jibril Amīn looked at the sky a gate in the sky has opened which had never been opened before. An angel descended from it and said to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم

“Be pleased! You are being given two lights which were not given to any other Prophet before you- Surah Fatiha and the ending ayat of Surah Baqarah. You will be given light on every letter of these (Muslim). Thus these ten ahadith are mentioned to express to superiority of these blessed ayah (Tafsir ibn Kathir 1:383)

The one who provides clothing to a Muslim remains under protection of Allah

A beggar came to Sayyidina Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه (and asked for something). Sayyidina Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه said to him: “Do you bear witness that there is no god but Allah and Muhammad (صلى الله عليه وسلم) is the messenger of Allah?” He said “Yes”. Ibne Abbas رضى الله عنه asked “Do you keep the fasts of Ramadhan?” He said “Yes”. Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه “You have begged for something and the one who begs has a right. And it is your right upon us that we treat you with “ihsan.”

Then Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه gave him clothing and said: “I have heard the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم say: If a Muslim provides clothing to another Muslim he remains under the protection of Allah as long as a single piece of that cloth remains on his body. (Hayatus Sahabah 2: 272)

One supplication from Quran in reply to which Allah ta'ala says “I accept and I give”.

Sayyidina Abu Barzah Aslami رضى الله عنه says that I lived with the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and witnessed how he used to make things easy for us. Previous nations faced many hardships. Those commandments have been made easy for this Ummah. That is why the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said “My Ummah is not held accountable by Allah ta'ala for their thoughts and intentions until they are spoken by the tongue or acted upon.” And “To err and to forget have been forgiven for my Ummah” If an act is committed due to forgetfulness or under duress then it is forgivable. That is why Allah ta'ala has directed us to make this supplication:

رَبَّنَا لَا تُؤَاخِذْنَا إِنْ نَسِينَا أَوْ أَخْطَأْنَا رَبَّنَا وَلَا
تَحْمِلْ عَلَيْنَا إِصْرًا كَمَا حَمَلْتَهُ عَلَى الَّذِينَ مِنْ
قَبْلِنَا رَبَّنَا وَلَا تُحَمِّلْنَا مَا لَا طَاقَةَ لَنَا بِهِ وَاعْفُ
عَنَّا وَاعْفِرْ لَنَا وَارْحَمْنَا أَنْتَ مَوْلَانَا فَانصُرْنَا عَلَى
الْقَوْمِ الْكَافِرِينَ

Our Lord, do not hold us accountable, if we forget or make a mistake, and our Lord do not place on us such a burden as You have placed on those before us, and our Lord, do not make us bear a burden for which we have no strength. And pardon us, and grant us the forgiveness, and have mercy on us. You are our Lord. So then help us against the disbelieving people. [2: 286]

It is proven from sahih Muslim that when one prays to Allah through this supplication Allah ta'ala says "I give, I accept."
(Tafsir Ibne Kathir 2: 231)

Glad tidings from the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم to a woman who showed patience in sickness

A woman suffering from epilepsy came to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and said "O messenger of Allah! Pray to Allah for my health." The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said "If that is what you wish, I will pray to Allah and He will grant you health. And if you want then Be - on the day of judgment you will not be held accountable." She said "I will patient if I am not going to be held accountable." Then she said "I am suffering from epilepsy, I loose my consciousness and senses, my clothing is removed and body revealed. Whether my disease is cured or not please pray that at least my clothing is not removed." The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم prayed for her and then during a fit her clothing was never removed from her body. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 2: 262)

A voice was heard from the grave - O Umar! Allah has granted me both the heaven.

It is said that a young man used worship all the time in the mosque. A woman fell in love with him and kept seducing him until he one day came to her house. Immediately he remembered this ayah

إِنَّ الَّذِينَ اتَّقَوْا إِذَا مَسَّهُمْ طَٰئِفٌ مِّنَ الشَّيْطٰنِ
تَذَكَّرُوا فَإِذَا هُمْ مُبْصِرُونَ ﴿٢٠١﴾

Surely when the God-Fearing are touched by and instigation from Satan, they became conscious of Allah, and at once they discern (the ratify) [7: 201]

And he fainted. When he gained to consciousness he started reciting the same ayah until his soul left his body. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه came to his father and said words of consolation he had been buried at night. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه along with his companions went to his grave, offered prayers for his maghfirah (Salvation) and then addressed the grave and said:

وَلِمَن خَافَ مَقَامَ رَبِّهِ جَنَّاتٌ ﴿٤٦﴾

And for the one who is fearful of having to stand before his Lord, there are two gardens

On hearing this ayah the following reply came from inside the grave:

O Umar! Allah has granted me both the heavens.

On the Day of judgment the world will be brought to us in the form of an ugly old woman

Fudhail Bin Iyad رحمه الله عليه says that Sayyidina Ibn Abbas رضى الله عنه said "On the day of judgment the world will be brought in the form of an old woman whose hair whose eyes would be? Who will be showing her teeth, who would be very ugly. She will take a look at all the creations. People will be asked "Do you know her?" They will say "We seek your refuge O Allah! How would we know her?" They will be reminded that this is the dunya for which you used to quarrel with each other, you used to cut off relations, were jealous of each other, had malice and hatred for each other and you lived in an illusion because of it. Then dunya (world) will be thrown into hell. She will cry "O my Lord! Where are my followers, my disciples? Allah ta'ala will order" Let her followers and disciples be with her. (1:182 رحمة الله عليه الواسعة)

Where should I meet you

That I am unaware of your glory
Is the fault of my eyes alone

Treading your path on every step
One finds the Arsh somewhere, somewhere the Tür

It is true O Master of worship
There is error in my worship

This error is on my part but
Your name is "the most forgiving"

Tell me where I should meet you
I need to meet you some how.

Choose not heart as the place
For the heart is far from sight

Imaginative Names

called him a fool and a liar. They could not understand why only one God should be worshipped. How could one God run the affairs of such a huge universe? They thought that it was not possible for one God to take care of thousands and thousands of departments of the universe. That is why they had declared different deities for different affairs and had given them different names. Sayyidina Hūd عليه السلام objected on several occasions "Do you dispute with me about the names you and your forefathers have invented? The names which have not been authenticated by Allah through the revelation. It meant that these are only names that you worship. There is no power or authority behind them. You call them god of rain, god of wind, god of water, god of wealth, god of health and sickness – though none of them is the god of anything. But his people did not accept this theory. They could not believe that one God could manage the affairs of this vast universe. There had to be distribution of work. They suggested that God had assistants, But they did not deny the presence of God. Despite that they used to pray to some imaginative gods for their needs. Offerings were carried out, begged and pleaded to them in their sorrows and wazaif were carried out on merry occasions. This ritual was so old that it was difficult for them to leave it – almost impossible. They had lived centuries in this manner.

In present times also some people call someone "Mushkil Kusha" (the one who solves problems) even though they don't have any power to solve anyone's problem. Some are called "Ganj Buksh" (Provider of treasures) but they do not have any treasure to provide anyone. Some are called "Data" (master) but they do not own anything to be called a master some are, called "Gharib Nawaz" (who grants to the poor) even though he is not given away authority to grant to the poor. Some are called "Ghauth" (helper) even though he does not have on his own the power to help. Some are called "Banda Nawaz" (Who grants to the slaves of Allah) even though he is himself a slave of Allah. Some are called "Dastgir" (Supporter) even though he is himself in need of support.

In fact all these are nothing but names. They do not possess any real power or authority. Whoever argues over them argues only over the names not reality. Sayyidina Hūd عليه السلام tried to explain their reality to his people but such an obvious matter was not understood.

Is it not a wonder that the helpless and the needy on their own distributed the divine powers to those they liked and then called it their religion and faith.

فَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَمَّا يُشْرِكُونَ

(Hidayat Kay charagh 1: 122)

Consequences of Bad Company

Bad company is more deadly than poison which leads to nothing but utter disgrace. Similarly good company is like antidote which becomes a means from the protection from countless evils.

A wiseman not only seeks virtues he also abstains from the vice. Man needs good company even much more than he needs good deeds. And he must abstain from bad company much more than he abstains from bad deeds.

The son of Nūh عليه السلام was raised in the lap of a Prophet and the wife was a lifelong companion of a Prophet - Yet they both died disbelievers as they had kept the company of disbelievers.

Sheikh Saadi رحمه الله عليه has expressed it beautifully in his rubaai:

پس نوح بایداں بہ نشت
 خاندان نبوتش گم شد
 مگ اصحاب کہف روزے چند
 پئے نیکان گرفت مردم شد
 صحبت صالح ترا صالح کند
 صحبت طالح ترا طالح کند

N h's son adopted bad company
And he lost the family of Prophet hood

The dog of the people of cave spent a few days
With the virtue and became a man

Good company makes you good
Bad company makes you bad

Learn and offer Janazah (Funeral) Prayer

: بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ الرَّحْمٰنِ الرَّحِیْمِ

Mukarram wa Muhatram Maulana Muhammad Yunus Sahib

مدظله العالی

السلام علیکم ورحمة الله وبرکاته

After Salam Masnūn and greetings I would like to ask a question- that when someone dies, according to shariah (divine law) the closest one from his Aulia (اولیاء) (heirs) has the right to lead his Janazah (funeral) prayer eg. Son or father and so on. Why is it so? I would be grateful to you for your reply.

Answer: You have asked what is the reason that the closest wali (heir) has more right. In my mind the reason is that since there is dua (pray) for maghfirah (forgiveness) for the dead in janazah (funeral) prayer the sincerity with which the closest wali will make dua (pray) no one else will. And when dua (pray) is made from the heart it is accepted. Ulama (scholars) must have given other reasons but this is the reason in my mind.

These days many people do not know how to offer janazah (funeral) prayer. They should learn it so that the dead is not deprived from your dua (pray) of maghfirah (forgiveness).

When does salah (prayer) prevent from sin?

Question: After Salam I would like to ask that I offer Salah yet I am unable to stop from sinning even though Quran says that salah (prayer) prevents you from lewdness and evil deeds?

Answer: This should be understood through an example. About a medicine it is said that it cures such and such disease and that is a fact. But how? When two things are given due consideration:

- 1). That the medicine is taken regularly and fulfilling the conditions and the manner prescribed by the doctor.
- 2). Those things should be abstained from which undermine the efficacy of the medicine.

Similarly salah (prayer) has this spiritual healing power that it stops one from lewdness and evil deeds - but only when it is offered as per the Sunnah of the Holy Prophet ﷺ.

Satan does not enter the house in which Surah Baqarah is recited Question: I am facing a problem since very long. There are Jinns in our house troubling us. Please provide a solution in the light of Quran and hadith.

Answer: The solution is

- 1). Offer prayers regularly, recite Quran, get into the habit of making daily masnūn duas.
- 2). Recite Surah Baqarah in the house. I am quoting 13 ahadith in favour of this Read carefully and follow them.
 - 1) Sayyidina Maqil Bin Yasaar رضى الله عنه says that the Holy Prophet ﷺ said "Surah Baqarah is the hump of the Quran and the height of Quran. With its every ayah descended eighty angels and Ayat-ul-Kursi in particular was sent down from under the Arsh (God's throne) (and was then joined with this surah. Surah Yasin is the heart of the Quran whoever reads it for the pleasure of Allah and for the Hereafter, he is forgiven. It should be read in front of those in the throes of death.

- 2) According to a hadith mentioned in Musnad Ahmad, Sahih Muslim, Tirmidhi and Nasai "Do not turn your houses into graveyard. Satan does not enter the house in which Surah Baqarah is recited.
- 3) According to another hadith Satan runs away from the house in which Surah Baqarah is recited.
- 4) It is stated in Ibn Mardawiyah that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that I would not like to find anyone of you in such a condition that his one foot remains on the other and he keeps reciting but not Surah Baqarah. Lo! Satan runs away from a house in which this blessed surah is recited. The worst and most disgraced of all the houses is the one in which the Book of Allah is not recited.
- 5) In Musnad Darami it has been recorded that Sayyidina Ibn Masūd رضى الله عنه narrated that Satan breaks wind and flees..... from the house in which Surah Baqarah is recited. Everything has a high point and the high point of Quran is Surah Baqarah. Everything has And the of Quran are the Mufassil Surahs.
- 6) Sayyidina Abdullah bin Masūd رضى الله عنه said that if anyone recites the first four ayah of Surah Baqarah, Ayatul Kursi and the following two ayah, and the last three ayah - if these 10 ayah are recited at night, then that night Satan will not be able to enter that house and his family cannot be troubled by Satan or any other evil thing that night. If these ayah are recited over anyone mentally ill then he recovers from his illness.

The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said, everything has a high point and the high point of Quran is Surah Baqarah. If anyone recites it at night in his house then for three night Satan will not be able to enter that house and if he recites it during the day then for three days Satan will not be able to enter the house.

- 7) It is stated in Tabarani, Ibn Hiban, Ibn Mardawiyah, Tirmidhi, Nasai and Ibn Majah that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم sent somewhere on army led by a person who had said that he had memorized Surah Baqarah. At that time a noble man said "I also would have learnt it but I fear that I may not act upon it.

The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said "Learn Quran and read Quran. A man who learns Quran, reads it and acts upon it is like a pot filled with musk the fragrance of which spreads all over. And the one who learns and sleep is like a pot filled with musk but the pot is covered.

- 8) It is recorded in Sahih Bukari that Sayyidina Usaid bin Hudhair رضى الله عنه began reciting Surah Baqarah one night. His horse which was tied nearby started jumping and was acting like a wild. He stopped reciting after which the horse became normal. Then he began to recite again and again the horse started jumping. When he stopped the horse also stopped. Same thing happened one more time. Since his son Yahya was lying close to the horse he feared that his son may get hurt because of the horse. So he left the recitation and looked at the sky wondering why the horse was acting that way.

In the morning he went to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and related to him the incident. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم listened and kept saying "Usaid! keep reciting." Sayyidina Usaid said "I stopped reciting after the third time because of Yahya. When I looked up I saw that there something like illuminated clouds and its light is like that of lamps. Soon the light disappeared above. The Holy Prophet ﷺ said "Do you know what it was? It was angels who had come down to hear your voice. Had you not stopped reciting they would have stayed their till morning and everyone would have seen them.

- 9) A similar incident is that of Sayyidina Thabit Bin Qais Bin Shamas رضى الله عنه. Once people said to the Holy Prophet ﷺ last night we saw that whole night long the house of Thabit looked like a house of light and was shining with glittering lamps. The Holy Prophet ﷺ said "he must have recited Surah Baqarah at night" When he was asked he replied "It is true last night I was busy in recitation of Surah Baqarah".
- 10) The Holy Prophet ﷺ said "Learn Surah Baqarah. Taking it is barakah and leaving it is misfortune. Magicians do not have power over it. After a little pause the Holy Prophet ﷺ said. "Learn Surah Baqarah and Surah Al Imran. These are illuminated Surahs.^① Those who recite them will be under their shade like the shade of a shelter, a cloud or a flock of birds.
- 11) According to another hadith recorded in Musnad Ahmad Quran and the recites of Quran will be called on the day of judgment. Surah Baqarah and Surah Al Imran will be in the front in the form of clouds, or a shelter or a flock of birds. They will strongly intercede in front of Allah ta'ala.
- 12) A man recited Surah Baqarah and Surah Al Imran in his prayers Sayyidina Ka'ab said "I swear upon Allah in whose hands rests my life these Surahs have in them that name of Allah. If we call him by that name and make dua to him the dua is accepted.

The man said "Tell me which name is it." Sayyidina Ka'ab رضى الله عنه refused and said "If I tell you I fear that you may make such dua through the barakah of His name that it results in disaster for you and me.

- 13) Abu Umamah رضى الله عنه says "Your brother has been shown in a dream that the people are climbing up a very high mountain. On the peak of the mountain are two lush green trees - a - voice is heard coming out of the trees saying "Is there anyone amongst you who recites surah Baqarah when anyone says yes, both the trees bow down with their fruit towards that man. He sits on their branches and they raised him up. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 59: 1)

A supplication the reward for which Allah has not disclosed

It has been recorded in Ibn Majah that Sayyidina Ibne Umar رضى الله عنه has narrated that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said. "A man once said:

يَا رَبِّ لَكَ الْحَمْدُ كَمَا يَتَّبِعِي لِجَلَالِ وَجْهِكَ وَعَظِيمِ سُلْطَانِكَ

The angels were confused as to how much reward they should record for it. Finally they said to Allah ta'ala that one of your slaves has expressed such a kalimah that we do not understand how to record it. Despite knowing it Allah ta'ala asked them what did he say? They replied that he has said such and such kalimah (sentance). Allah ta'ala said that you record it as it is. I will reward him Myself when we meet. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir 1: 46)

Cure against inability to go to wife

Question: I am suffering from a hidden illness. I cannot share it with anyone and it is embarrassing to tell anyone about it. I am under a lot of stress. Kindly do not disclose my name and propose to me a solution. The hidden illness is that I cannot go to my wife. I have seen many doctors but it seems like it is not an illness rather magic.

Answers: I am not an amil (عامل) but if I find anything in hadith or in the sayings of the salaf I prescribe it. According to Tafsir Ibn Kathir:

Sayyidina Wahb رضى الله عنه says "Take seven leaves of lote tree, crush them on stone and mix water with them. Recite Ayatul Kursi and blow over it. Then make the person under magic spell drink three sips from it. He should perform ghusl with the rest of the water. Insha Allah he will be relieved from magic spell. It is very effective in cases where the man who has been disabled from going to his wife.

The best cure for removing the effects of magic spell is the surahs قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ الْفَلَقِ and قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ النَّاسِ.

According to hadith there is no better amulet than them. Similarly Ayatul Kursi is supremely affective in getting rid of satan. (Tafsir Ibne Kathir 1: 177)

Why was Sayyidina Ibrahim called Khalilullah?

It is recorded in Ibn Abi Hatim that it was the habit of Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام that he would have food with some guest. One day he went out in search of a guest but did not find anyone. He returned home to see a man standing in his house. He asked "O slave of Allah! Who gave you the permission to enter my house?" He replied "The real owner of this house." He asked "Who are you?" The man replied "Malik Almut (Angel of death). Allah Ta'ala has sent me to one of his slave to give the good news that Allah ta'ala has chosen him as His 'Khalil' on hearing this Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام said "Then do tell me who it is I swear upon Allah that I will go and meet him even if he is in the other corner of the world. Then I will spend the rest of my life in his feet. Malikul mut said "You are that person", he said "Am I really that person?" The angel said "Yes it is you". Then he asked "Will you tell me what are the reasons why Allah ta'ala chose me as His Khalil? The angel replied "Because you are always giving to people and never demand anything from anyone.

According to a tradition ever since Allah ta'ala gave Sayyidina Ibrahim عليه السلام the blessed title of Khalilullah his heart became so filled with fear of Allah that the beating of his heart could be heard from far away just as the sound of a bird in the air. (Tafsir Ibne Kathir 1: 644)

The life and sayings of Abdullah Bin Mubarak رحمه الله عليه

1) Allah Ta'ala does not hold you accountable for the food you had with your guest

Hospitality is a distinct feature of Islamic life. Abdullah bin Mubarak رحمه الله عليه is famous in this regard. His tablespread was for all his friends, relatives, neighbours, strangers. He would never have food to which he said "Allah ta'ala does not hold you accountable for the food you have with your guest." He would fast for most part of the year. On the day he would fast he would have delicious meals cooked for others. Abu Ishaq says that once on his journey for jihad or hajj (pilgrimage) two of his she-camels were carrying roasted chicken. All this was for the people who were traveling with him.

2) Just to return a pen Ibn Mubarak traveled hundreds of miles

Sayyidina Abdullah Bin Mubarak once borrowed a pen from someone in Syria. It so happened that he forgot to return the pen. He saw the pen when he arrived at 'Maro'. From Maro he went back to Syria and returned the pen to its owner. This incident alone is a manifestation of his character and in the history of morals this is an extraordinary example Maro is hundreds of miles away from Syria and then this incident belong to the era in which means of transport were limited to horses, camels and mules.

3) Give an unexpected happiness to a Muslim and Allah will forgive you.

A Man was under a debt of Dirham 700. Some people asked Abdullah bin Mubarak to pay off his debt. He wrote to his accountant "Give Dirham 7000" to such and such person. The person under debt went to the accountant with this note. After reading the note the accountant asked him how much money he needed. He said "I am under a debt of Dirham 700 and this is the amount for which people have recommended my name to Abdullah bin Mubarak.

The accountant thought that Abdullah bin Mubarak has made a mistake and has written 7000 instead of 700. He said to the bearer of the letter that there seems to be some mistake in the letter. You have a seat- I will get clarification from Abdullah bin Mubarak and then give you the money. He wrote to Abdullah Bin Mubarak "The bearer of the letter only needs Dirham 700 while you have advised to give him Dirham 7000. Is this a mistake of your pen? He replied that as soon as you get this, give the man Dirham 14000. The accountant wrote back to him out of kindness that if you keep giving away your money like this then soon all your money will be gone. He did not appreciate this kindness on the part of the accountant and replied to him in a strong tone "If you are my sub-ordinate then do what I order you to do. And if you think I am your subordinate then come and take my seat. After that I will follow your orders.

For me more valuable than the material wealth is the reward of the hereafter and that hadith of the Holy prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم in which he said. "Whoever gives a sudden and unexpected happiness to his Muslim brother, Allah ta'ala will forgive him.

He wanted Dirham 700 from me. I thought that when he will get Dirham 7000, this unexpected amount will bring him immense joy and I will deserve the reward as per the hadith of the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم".

He increased the amount to 14000 probably because man under debt had come to know of Dirham 7000. Therefore a further increase would have been and unexpected amount for him.

4) Aware but unaware - A secret done act of Abdullah Bin Mubarak.

Muhammad Bin Eesa narrated that Abdullah Bin Mubarak used to often visit Tartos (Syria). Raqah was on the route (Abbasid caliphs usually spent their summers in Raqah. It is high green area).

He used to stay in an inn where a youth also lived. As long as he stayed there this youth would listen to hadith from him and would try to serve him. Once when Abdullah Bin Mubarak visited the place he did not find the youth. On inquiring he found out that he had been imprisoned due to non-payment of a debt. He inquired about the amount of loan and the debtor. He was told that the youth had borrowed 10,000 from such and such person.

Abdullah Bin Mubarak met the person confidentially and said to him "Take the money from me and let go this youth." He also asked him to promise that he will not disclose this matter to anyone. He agreed. As soon as his release was arranged Abdullah Bin Mubarak prepared for his journey and left the place the same night. When the youth was released he came to the inn and found out that Abdullah Bin Mubarak had come and gone. He was so grieved by this that he immediately left for Tartos. He finally met him after crossing many stations. Abdullah Bin Mubarak asked him how he was. He described how he was imprisoned and then set free. He asked "How were you set free?" He said "Any slave of Allah had stayed at the inn. He paid off my debt and made me released. But I do not know him." He said give thanks to Allah that you are out of this hardship." Muhammad Bin Eesa said that the lender told people about this event after the death of Abdullah Bin Mubarak. (Seer Sahabah 8: 323)

5) Ibn Mubarak had made many people perform Hajj (pilgrimage) on his expense.

One thing he regularly did was to visit the Harmain Sharifain. Almost every year he tried to earn the blessings at the time of Hajj (pilgrimage) it was his practice that he would ask all his travel companions to give their money to him. After getting the money he would put it in separate bags, write the name of the owner on it and then lock it in a box. During the journey he would pay all the expenses from his own pocket. He would get them good food and fulfill all their requirements. When they would reach Madinah after performing Hajj (pilgrimage) he would tell them to buy gifts for their families. After returning from Hajj (pilgrimage) he would invite all his travel companions for meals. Then he would open the box containing the money and return the money to each individual. The narrator says that this was his practice throughout his life. (Seer Sahabah 8: 324)

6) Ibn Mubarak's sad letter to his companion.

Ibn Ulayyah was a distinguished Muhaddith and Imam of his time. He was one of the close companions of Abdullah Bin Mubarak. They were also partners in trade. But he had started attending the gatherings of people of rank and status. When Abdullah Bin Mubarak came to know about this he expressed his displeasure and once in a gathering he did not speak to him. Ibne Ulayyah became very worried. He could not say anything during the gathering but when he reached home he wrote this letter out of desperation:

O my leader! I am deeply indebted to you for the favours you have done to me. I swear upon Allah that I consider these favours barakah for those related to me. I do not know why you have separated me from your and low and my rank amongst my colleagues. I came to attend your assembly but you did not pay any attention to me. And so do I know that you are not happy with me. And I do not know which error on my part has angered you.

O the respected, light of my eyes, my sheikh! By Allah why did you not tell me what was my mistake due to which I am deprived of your kindness, your benevolence that I always long for.

Abdullah Bin Mubarak read this impressive letter but it did not impress him. In reply he wrote to him a few couplets which are translated as under.

O you! Who made knowledge such a falcon which devours the property of the poor.

You have found such away for dunya and its pleasures that it is going to destroy the religion.

You have made yourself insane insanity.
Which you used to be a cure for madness.

What happened to all those traditions
You used to narrate from Ibn Aun & Ibn Sireen.

What happened to all those traditions in which You were warned against keeping contacts with the leaders.

If you say you were forced to do this, why was it so? When the messenger brought this note to Ibn Ulayyah he was in tears and he immediately resigned from his position.

7) The whole city come to welcome Ibn Mubarak

Once Abdullah Bin Mubarak visited Raqah (Abbasid caliphs used to spend summers in Raqah as it was a very green place). When people came to know about this the whole city gathered to welcome him. A slave girl of Haroon Rasheed was watching the whole affair from the palace. She asked the people what was happening they told her that an Alim of Khurasan Abdullah Bin Mubarak has come. People have gathered to welcome him. She spontaneously said:

هُوَ الْمَلِكُ لَا مَلِكَ هَارُونَ الَّذِي لَا يَجْتَمِعُ النَّاسُ عَلَيْهِ إِلَّا بِشُرُوطٍ
وَأَغْوَابٍ-

Indeed he is the caliph not Harūn because people do not gather for him without police and supporters. (Seer Sahabah 8: 329)

8) Certain classes of people are responsible for spoiling the society

One day Abdullah Bin Mubarak راحة الله عليه asked Musayyab Bin Wazah "Do you know how the society is spoilt?" Musayyab said "I do not know" he said "If certain classes of people are spoilt the public as a result the society is spoilt". Then he said "There are five classes of the Ummah of Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم, when they are corrupted the whole environment gets corrupted:

- 1). Ulama: They are the heirs of the prophets عليهم السلام but when they fall to the worldly greed and attractions then who would one follow.
- 2). Traders (businesses): Allah ta'ala has recited with them a trust but when they themselves begin to breach the trust then who should be considered trust worthy.
- 3). Mujahideen: They are the guests of Allah. But when they starts stealing from the booty (maaleghanimat) then who would defeat the enemy.
- 4). Zuhhad: They are the real kings of the land. Who will you follow when they become the wrongdoers.
- 5). Rulers: They supervise the creation But when the shepherd becomes the wolf who will save the herd then.

Are women full of deceit

Question: After salam. I would like to state that many people taunt the women and call them full of deceit and as their proof they give this Ayah from the Quran:

إِنَّ كَيْدَ كُنَّ عَظِيمٌ ﴿٢٨﴾

Is this correct? Please let me know (A sister in Islam)

Answer: This is the statement of Azeez of Misr which he gave about women after seeing the mischief of his wife. Allah has mentioned it in Surah Yusuf. This was neither said by Allah nor is it correct for every woman. There fore it was not at all the purpose of Quran that this statement is applied to every woman thereby declaring her a symbol of deceit. And Allah knows best.

For whom is it correct to go into religious intricacies

Here one thing should be understood that going into the religious intricacies is only correct for those who are more compliant in practicing their religion. But if someone is openly non-compliant and yet goes into the nitty gritties like he desires to be a God-fearing person- is not only inappropriate, it is objectionable.

Once an Iraqi man asked Sayyidina Ibn Umar رضي الله عنه. "What should be the compensation for killing a mosquito if one is in ihram? He replied "You have martyred Sayyidina Hussain رضي الله عنه, now you want an edict regarding the blood of mosquito? I have heard from the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم with my own ears that they are my two flowers in this world."

Similarly Bashr Bin Alharith was asked a question - that a mother tells her son to divorce his wife. What should he do? The answer was: If the man has fulfilled all the rights of his mother and the only matter that remains to be obeyed is this then he should divorce his wife. But if he still has to fulfill her rights then he should not divorce his wife. (Tarjuman Assunnah 2: 22)

A complex case and its verdict

This incident belongs to the time of Amirul Mumineen Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه. Two travelers got tired of walking and felt extremely hungry. They sat under the shade of a tree and kept there respective food on the table spread. One had five pieces of bread (Roti) and the other had three. They had not yet started when a third traveler passed by saying salam to them. They replied to the salam and invited him for food. He joined them without hesitation. All three had the same amount of bread after the food was finished the man stood up and said "I have eaten from your food for which accept these 8 dirhams from me".

The man left after paying the price but these men started arguing over how the money should be distributed. The man who had five breads was saying "I keep 5 dirhams you keep 3". Probably he thought that the man had given one dirham for each bread. Therefore since he had 5 bread he wanted to keep 5.

But the other person was not ready to accept 3 dirhams. He was saying that since the money has been given to both of them, it should be equally distributed. Therefore, he thought that he should get 4 dirhams.

When the matter could not be resolved through mutual discussion they went to the court of Amirul Muminin Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه for a decision. They narrated the whole incident After listening to it Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه said to the man with three breads that "If this man is giving you 3 dirhams you should be happy with it" But he insisted on 4 dirhams. Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه said to him "In any case he is doing ihsan on you if he gives you 3 dirhams otherwise justice would be that you get 1 dirham only:" The man replied with all respect "Subhan Allah! If this is justice then explain to me the reason and I will accept it." Sayyidina Ali رضي الله عنه explained to him "There were eight breads and three persons to eat it obviously eight cannot be divided by 3. Therefore, since ever you had equal amount of bread the bread should be divided into pieces. Each bread will be divided into three pieces and so we will have 24 pieces all together. In this way everyone had 8 pieces of bread. Since you had 3 breads it meant you had 9 pieces out of which 8 you had yourself. The remaining one piece was eaten by the third person.

Your companion had five breads which made 15 pieces. 8 he had himself while the remaining 7 were eaten by the third person. Since the man had only one piece for bread, you should get only one dirham and he had 7 piece from his bread so he should get 7 dirhams.

The man accepted this decision. A complex case was solved in such a simple manner. (Tarikhul Khulafa lilsuyuti, pg. 59)

Sayyidina Jibrīl عليه السلام taught Sayyidina Eesa عليه السلام a supplication to protect him from the evil of the Jews.

On the authority of Sayyidina Anas رضى الله عنه it has been reported that when the Jews gathered to kill Sayyidina Eesa عليه السلام. Jibrīl عليه السلام came to Sayyidina Eesa عليه السلام and asked him to make this dua (prayer):

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ بِاسْمِكَ الْوَاحِدِ الْأَحَدِ الْأَعْلَى، اللَّهُمَّ بِاسْمِكَ
الصَّمَدِ أَدْعُوكَ، اللَّهُمَّ بِاسْمِكَ الْعَظِيمِ الْوَتْرِ الَّذِي مَلَأَ الْأَرْكَانَ كُلَّهَا
إِلَّا مَا فَرَّجْتَ عَنِّي مَا أَمْسَيْتُ فِيهِ وَمَا أَصْبَحْتُ فِيهِ۔

When Sayyidina Eesa عليه السلام made this dua Allah Ta'ala commanded Jibrīl عليه السلام to bring my slave to me. (Alarj Filfarj lilsuyuti pg 41)

An infidel eats seven times much more than a believer.

It is narrated by Sayyidah Maimoona رضى الله عنها that when it was a famine there the (poor) villagers came to city (in search of sustenance). The Holy Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم instructed his companion رضوان الله عليهم اجمعين to let them make their guests and provide them subsistence, (so it become cormur). So, once the Holy Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم himself come along with a guest too. He offered him meal, and whatever he was given eaten up all, and nothing left to the Holy Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم. The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم kept came along with him a few days. He ever eating up all the meal as usual and never left anything to the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. She says once I prayed to Allah. "O Almighty don't let him eat all as he left nothing to be eaten by the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم" then he became a Muslim. And once again the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم took him along with and offered supper but he ate a little. It was amazing I asked the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم wheter he is the same or not!? (who kept eating so much!). The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم replied, yes he is the same person but he is no more infidle he is a believer now); an infidel eats much more than a Muslim (as he has seven intestines).

What should the Ummah do in the age of fitnah (Trial)

Sayyidina Abu Saeed Khudri رضى الله عنه narrated that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said "A time is near when the best thing for a Muslim will be some goats with which he should flee to mountain peaks and Jungles in order to save his dīn from fitnah (trial). (Bukhari, Muslim)

Miqdad Bin Aswad رضى الله عنه narrated that I have myself heard the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم say "Fortunate is he who is saved from the trials (he said it three times) and if someone is put to trial and he keep patience then he is worthy of praise". (Abu Dawood)

Explanation: Fitnah (trial) have a lot of attraction. Non-religious people are attracted towards them because of ignorance or because they take the fitnah (trial) as dīn. Religious people are then forced also to get involved. They are like those contagious diseases which spread in the air all at once. To expose yourself to such an air is not a sign of good health rather it is a sign of carelessness. The best protection is that you get away from such environment Imam Bukhari has warned us by dedicating a whole chapter to this issue.

Historically also this is the way the salaf Sālihīn have reacted that whenever they were faced with a trial and they were not able to crush it they distanced themselves from it instead of getting involved in it.

Had the Ummah understood this hadith the trials would never have gained strength and if non-religious people were involved in them, then at least the religious class could have been saved from its harmful effects. But since the hadith was not seriously taken the non-religious gave full support to the fitnah while the religious took part in them for the sake of correction. As a result instead of reforming the other they themselves loose their faith.

وَاللَّهُ الْمُسْتَعَارُ

The greatest fitnah (trial) of this Ummah is of antichrist we have been strongly advised not to go for having a look at him. Even the inauspiciousness of his face can effect the faith of a believer.

It should be remembered that jihad is obligatory upon the Ummah both with the tongue and the sword. But here we are discussing the times in which there are differences between the Muslims themselves, Truth and falsehood cannot be separated and any step towards reform leads to more mischief.

Therefore when Sayyidina Abdullah Bin Umar رضى الله عنه was asked to take part in the battle arising out of internal disputes between the companions and this ayah was recited in front of him.

وَقَاتِلُوهُمْ حَتَّى لَا تَكُونَ فِتْنَةٌ

And fight with the disbelievers until there is no more fitnah. (Surah Anfaal 39)

He said "the battle we fought to eliminate fitnah is over. The battle you are starting will create more fitnah".

To fight with the fitnah without realizing your material and spiritual strength is only an emotion and acquiring necessary resources for crushing the fitnah is commanded by the intellect and the shariah.

An Aalim (scholar) of tongue and Jahil (ignorant) of heart is dangerous for the Ummah Sayyidina Hasan Basri رحمه الله عليه says, A delegation from Basra visited Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه Ahnaf Bin Qais was also in the delegation. Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه let every one go except Ahnaf Bin Qais. He had him stay for one year. After that he said "Do you know why I did not let you go? Because the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم warned us about every hypocrite who has the tongue of an Aalim. I feared that you are one of them. But (I kept you here for one year) Insha Allah you are not one of them.

Abu Usman Nahdi says I heard Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه say this on the pulpit "Beware of the hypocrite who is an Aalim (scholar)." People asked how can a hypocrite be an Aalim (scholar). He replied" he will speak the truth but he will be a wrongdoer.

Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه said. "We used to say that this Ummah will be destroyed by a hypocrite who will have the tongue of an Alim.

Abu Usman Nahdi says that I heard Sayyidina Umar رضى الله عنه say this on the pulpit "The greatest fear for this ummah is a hypocrite who is an Aalim". People asked "O Amīrul Muminīn (leader of the believer)! How can a hypocrite be an Aalim?" He replied "He will be an Alim (scholar) of tongue but a jahil (ignorant) of heart and deed."

A strange story of Sayyidina Luqman's wisdom

The Holy Quran says:

وَلَقَدْ آتَيْنَا لُقْمَانَ الْحِكْمَةَ أَنْ اشْكُرْ لِلَّهِ

And indeed we gave wisdom to Luqman so that he may be grateful.

Luqman was a pious servant of Allah whom Allah had granted wisdom and vision. Someone asked him how he acquired such wisdom and foresight. He replied "Through following the straight path, guarding the trust and by avoiding vain conversation.

Another famous incident of his wisdom is that he was a slave. His master asked him to slaughter a goat and bring the best two parts of it. He brought to him the tongue and the heart. After sometime again his master asked him to slaughter a goat and bring its two worst parts. He again brought the tongue and the heart when he was asked he said that the tongue and the heart are the best parts if they are good and they are the worst if they are bad. (Tafsir Ibn Kathir)

A Monk lost his honour due to a sin

A woman used to graze the goats and would spend the night under the monastery of a monk. She had four brothers. One night Satan persuaded the monk and he committed fornication with the woman. The woman became pregnant. Satan put this in his heart that he is going to be disgraced. It is better to kill woman and buy her somewhere - because of your high esteem none will raise his finger at you. Even then if there is any query you make up anything, tell a lie - who will doubt your words? He accepted this idea and killed the woman one night at an opportune time and buried her at some abandoned place.

Now the Satan went to all her four brothers and narrated to them the whole story in their dreams. He also showed them the place where she was buried. When they woke up in the morning one said that I saw a strange dream last night but do not have the courage to narrate it to you. The other one said "do tell us." He therefore narrated the whole dream how the monk committed fornication (with his sister) and when she became pregnant he killed her and buried her at such and such place. The other brothers said that they also had the same dream. Now they knew that the dream is true. They therefore informed the government and with the order of the king took the monk with them and dug up the place to find the dead body.

With all the evidence they were taking him to the royal court when Satan appears in front of the monk and says "All this has happened because of me If you still please me, I will save your life." He said "What ever you say." Satan said "Prostrate in front of me" and he prostrated. Satan took away his faith from him completely and said "I have nothing to do with you. I fear Allah who is the Lord of the worlds."

The monk was therefore, awarded death sentence by the King.
(Tafsir Ibn Kathir 5: 322, 323)

Twenty five questions of a villager and the Holy Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم answers.

Remembering the Beautiful Names

Important instructions of remembering the beautiful names, their meanings, benefit and peculiarities

Allah Ta'ala says in Surah Araf

وَلِلَّهِ الْأَسْمَاءُ الْحُسْنَىٰ فَادْعُوهُ بِهَا

And to Allah belong the beautiful names so call unto Him through those names.

It is stated in Bukhari and Muslim on the authority of Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

”إِنَّ لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى تِسْعَةً وَتِسْعِينَ اسْمًا: مِائَةً إِلَّا وَاحِدَةً، مَنْ أَحْصَاهَا دَخَلَ الْجَنَّةَ.“ (مشکوٰۃ شریف: ص ۱۹۹)

Verily to Allah belong ninety-nine meaning one less than hundred names. Anyone who preserved them (i.e. memorized them and believed in them) he will go to Jannah.

Important Instructions for reciting the beautiful names

- 1). Man is by nature weak and therefore needs to be motivated. Once he know that his Lord has beautiful names and He has Himself asked us to call him and pray to Him through these names; and the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has said that anyone who memorizes these names will go to Jannah - then man should have completely dedicated himself to these names and he should have tried to find the treasures hidden in these names by making every breath of his life fragrant through their remembrance.

But most of the people do not do it. It is for them that some peculiarities of the beautiful names have been collected. These one not taken from Quran or sunnah (Holy Prophet's practice) rather they were recorded by those pious people of Allah who benefitted from them- so that others would get a also benefit. These peculiarities cannot encompass the benefits of the beautiful names. Instead it is like having you smell the flowers of Jannah (heaven) so that you get motivated for Jannah (heaven). Thus these peculiarities are like fragrance. But whoever reads them with faith and conviction will Insha Allah acquire the taste which is much better and superior than the fragrance.

- 2). When people read the peculiarities of the beautiful names they ask with amazement that how can one get so much benefit by reciting these names just a few times? Such people should remind themselves to whom belong these names. Is there anyone mightier and more glorious than Him? Absolutely not! Then there is no need for any doubt or scepticism. Indeed the remembrance of Asmae Husna (beautiful names of Allah) bring even greater benefits - you just have to try yourself.

- 3). Numbers and quantities have their effects. If you read a doctors prescription you will find that the quantity of medicine alters its efficacy. Although it is the same thing but its quantity and weight change its effectiveness.

One man hears something and he remembers it. The other man needs to hear it 3 times before he remembers it - even though they both have the same tongue and ears. How much can one man also has to do with numbers. Similarly heat, cold, fire and the temperature of water all have their effects.

The Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم has assigned a certain number to some supplications and Kalimahs which is a strong and valid argument in favour of assigning numbers and quantifies.

☆☆☆.....☆☆☆

- 4). People have separated dīn and dunya (religion and world) but in Islam they go together, Therefore, those names against which certain worldly benefits are mentioned also carry in them countless religious benefits. Similarly the names against which religious benefits are mentioned also carry in them countless worldly benefits.

☆☆☆.....☆☆☆

- 5). Allah Ta'ala gives a believer the religion in which also lies the good of this world and he gives him the dunya which is good for his religion.

☆☆☆.....☆☆☆

- 6). To give benefit or to save someone from a loss is only and only Allah's power. That is why only that wazifah or supplication is effective which is carried out for the sake of Allah's pleasure. Peculiarities then are of secondary importance. If Allah Ta'ala (exalted) is pleased you will acquire all the peculiarities and benefits. But if He is not pleased then there is no need for any wurd wazifah (repeat incantation) (daily performance, a portion of the Quran fixed for reading at a certain time) or peculiarity.

☆☆☆.....☆☆☆

- 7). If pure means are used for an impure purpose it would mean complete disaster. No matter how expensive the food is if it is put in the ear or in the nose, instead of giving any benefit it will harm you. Similarly those who want to use Asma-e-Husna (beautiful names) for any evil purpose in fact want nothing but their own destruction. Therefore one should fear Allah in these matters and use His names for self-reform.

☆☆☆.....☆☆☆

- 8). There is nothing wrong with reciting specific names for any specific purpose. But it is important that first we adopt those Asma-e-Husna (beautiful names) which help in reform of nafs, developing independence from the creation and increasing love of Allah. Then the other name should be recited. But one thing should not be forgotten that all these names are sublime. Therefore we should not be negligent in their remembrance and we should make it a practice to recite them in prose or poetry.

☆☆☆.....☆☆☆

- 9). We should also make our children memorize these names. Through their remembrance our homes and our gatherings should find the height of faith and spiritual tranquility.

- 10). Distressed and disturbed Muslims, victims of their own countless sins - on one hand their snake like nafs ammara stings them and pushes them down into the pits of disgrace and humiliation – on the other Satan is always attacking them with his armed soldiers directing them away from the straight path of Islam and humanity and pulling them to the path of oppressions, arrogance, lust, eating haram (unlawful), doing haram (unlawful) and seeing haram (unlawful). He invites them to alter their nature and to join his own group destined for hell-oppressed by their nafs and Satan these poor Muslims are also victims of worldly worries, sufferings, poverty, hunger and humiliation – where should these poor people go?

This collection is the answer to this question. The one who created man Allah taa'lla Shanahu is Rahim and Karim, He is Qawi and Rahman, he is Wudood and Qayyum – He can hold the hand of this distressed, frustrated and sorrowful man. One only has to call into Him and stroll in the beautiful garden of Asmai Husna.

Insha Allah he will be surprised at every step and will be overjoyed and in peace by the fruits, flowers and the scenery of this garden. His satisfaction will increase by the moment but at the same time his spiritual thirst will keep increasing. How good it would be if people memorize the beautiful names.

Why is it important to know the attributes of Allah

In the Quran the Asma e Husna (beautiful names) and Allah's attributes have been explained in great detail because without it one cannot acquire the cognition of the Creator of the universe which is the most beneficial thing for the reformation of mankind. For example those who do not know that Allah Ta'ala is Razzaq consider many things as Raziq despite believing in Allah. A father, a husband, a king, a farm, a shop are all considered to be Raziq by them. Similarly the people who do not know that Allah Ta'ala is 'Shadid ul Iqab'(شديد العقاب) and 'Dhut Taul' (ذو الطول). They get involved into crimes and do not quit sins despite believing in Allah. And the people who do not know that Allah Ta'ala is 'Ghafoorur Rahim' (غفور رحيم) and "Arhamur Rahimeen' (ارحم الراحمين), they get so dejected and loose hope in Allah's mercy and think they are so sinful that they cannot be forgiven - and then they are completely out of control.

In short without acquiring the cognition of the names of Allah and His attributes men cannot be reformed nor the hearts be purified. That is why knowing the attributes of Allah is essential.

The number of Beautiful names and the benefits of memorizing them.

On the authority of Sayyidina Abu Hurairah رضى الله عنه has been recorded in Bukhari and Muslim that the Holy Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said:

“إِنَّ لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى تِسْعَةً وَتِسْعِينَ اسْمًا: مِائَةً إِلَّا وَاحِدَةً، مَنْ أَحْصَاهَا دَخَلَ الْجَنَّةَ -” (مشكوة شريف: ص ١٩٩)

Verily to Allah belong ninety nine that is one less than hundred names. Anyone who preserved them (memorized them and believed in them), he will go to Jannah. (Mishkat Shareef pg 199)

Here it should be known that Allah Ta'ala does not have only ninety nine names. In Quran and Hadith are mentioned several other beautiful names. Further, in other heavenly books are also mentioned many names of Allah. And some names of Allah are known only to Allah Himself. In the above tradition of Bukhari and Muslim only those names are mentioned which if memorized by someone entitle him to jannah (heaven). Therefore one should try to memorize these names knowing well that Allah has countless other names and attributes - and you should believe that Allah Ta'ala has these attributes so that you have the correct faith. further these name should be recited frequently so that you acquire the blessings and the praise worthy attributes and are purified from the sins and evils. This is the greatest benefit of memorizing these names. May Allah purify all of us from evils and decorate us with the virtues of these names and grant us Jannat ul Firdous (Paradise) Ameen ya Rabbul Alameen (please accept O, Lord of the worlds).

The Tradition of Tirmidhi Shareef and its translation

The Hadith regarding Allah Ta'ala's (exalted's) names from Bukhari and Muslim Shareef was mentioned earlier. Its details are found in the tradition of Tirmidhi Shareef. Therefore first follows this tradition and its translation and subsequently each name and its peculiarities will be explained Insha Allahul Azeez.

Apart from a Muslim's responsibility to himself and his family, Islam imposes on him a responsibility to society. It is his duty to enjoin the reputable, or righteousness, and to forbid the disreputable or what is wicked. The Prophet ﷺ said that if this duty is not discharged then Allah will send punishment to all the people. He also said that when sin is committed on the land and he who sees it disapproves of it then it is as though he was not there. He also said, "If people see wrong being done and do not change it then Allah will punish them too with the wrong-doers." This book is the English translation of Bikhray Moti by Mawlana Muhammad Yunus Palanpuri. As its title indicates, it is a collection of brief ahadith and beneficial topics. They are borrowed from the Mawlana's personal note book in which he jotted down for his own memory any interesting useful topic that he came across. Since this is not a planned writing, no regular order or sequence is found or claimed.

We do hope readers will enjoy reading this book and we pray that it be beneficial to them. May Allah let the lives of our respected elders be great guides.
