

Saying Ju'muaah Mubaarak

Translated by Rasheed Barbee

Article taken and slightly adapted from: mtws.posthaven.com
(<http://www.albaidha.net/vb/showthread.php?p=112005>)

---

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

In the name of Allaah, the Most Merciful, the Bestower of Mercy

Question: Based on the premise that Friday is a ('Eed) holiday, is it permissible to greet each other saying, Ju'muaah Mubaarak or Ju'muaah Accepted?

Shaykh 'Abdul-Muhsin al-'Abbaad (حفظه الله)<sup>1</sup>: By Allaah, we don't know of anything that proves the validity of this. As for the two 'Eeds then it has been narrated that the companions when they would meet each other they would say, "May Allaah accept it from us and you" or "May Allaah accept your obedience".

---

<sup>1</sup> (حفظه الله) May Allaah the Most High preserve him