Shaykh al-Albaanee's (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ)<sup>1</sup> praise of Ehsan Elahi Zaheer (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) and a mention of Shaykh Ehsan's humility in that he would massage Shaykh al-Albaanee's feet

“Ehsan Elahi Zaheer's Shaykhs: The Shaykh, the 'Allaamah, Aboo 'Abdullah Muhammad Ibrahim ibn Fadl al-Deen al-Jundalwi ... [and] the Shaykh Abul-Barakaat Ahmad ibn Ismaa'eel, [and] the Shaykh Muhammad Shareefullaah, [and] the Haafidh, the Muhaddith, 'Abdul-Wahhaab al-Barhimalwi, [and] His Eminence, the Shaykh, 'Abdul-'Aziz ibn 'Abdullah ibn Baaz, [and] the Shaykh, the 'Allaamah, 'Abdul-Muhsin ibn Hamad al-'Abbaad al-Badr, [and] the Shaykh, the 'Allaamah, the Imaam Muhammad al-Ameen ibn Muhammad al-Mukhtaar ash-Shanqiti, [and] the Shaykh 'Atiyyah ibn Muhammad Saalim, [and] the Shaykh, the 'Allaamah, 'the Muhaddith Hamaad al-Ansaari, [and] the Shaykh, the 'Allaamah, the Muhaddith Muhammad Naasirud-Deen al-Albaanee ... Ehsan studied under him at the Islaamic University of Madeenah, and Shaykh Ehsan used to love Shaykh al-Albaanee and cherish him due to his excellence and because he was his teacher, and he had a debate with al-Albaanee with manners and respect in some issues in which there was a difference of opinion and Shaykh al-Albaanee used to praise Ehsan and his intelligence and al-Albaanee said to 'Aabid, Shaykh Ehsan's brother, 'He was one of the intellectuals, and I will not forget the manners and politeness he afforded me ...' and he mentioned to him [i.e., to 'Aabid] that Ehsan travelled with him to London and he would massage Shaykh al-Albaanee's feet out of respect and esteem for him.”
