Question: The sinners who enter the Fire and Allaah punishes them by way of it and then their end result is Paradise; what is the state of their wives who are in Paradise? Will they be waiting for them to come out of the Fire or what?

Shaykh 'Abdul-Muhsin al-'Abbaad (حفظه الله)¹: As has come within the Hadeeth, the woman shall be for her husband in Paradise. So when these people come out of the Fire and enter Paradise, what is obvious is that their wives shall be for them; for they are each for the people of Paradise; even if one of them were to precede the other in entrance and the other comes later. That which is apparent, and Allaah knows best, is that those who were married in the Duniya they shall be married in the Hereafter; whether they enter Paradise together or one of them precedes the other and the other comes later.
