Shaykh Muhammad Musa Nasr said, “And near the end of his life, I heard the Shaykh saying, ‘When al-Albaanee dies, the people will come to know him.’ Now, after his death, the people know al-Albaanee. His house in his area ... his neighbours didn’t know him, someone would come and ask about him and they would say, ‘Shaykh al-Albaanee, we don’t know him,’ after he died the people came to know him. A person went to the Bahamas ... and found two hundred and fifty Muslim families on that island, all of them Salafees—how did al-Albaanee get to them? His tapes did, they never saw him with their eyes but they lived according to his tapes, all of them were on the Book and the Sunnah, not a single one of them was from the Hizbee Jamaa’aahs or the Soofees. This shows that al-Albaanee’s truthfulness and his sincerity spread his da’wah around the world ...”¹
